Truman Warns, Indicts Russia

Reveals Plans For Doubling Armed Forces

Preventive War Idea Denounced

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — President Truman announced tonight plans for doubling American armed strength to nearly 3,000,000 men.

Mr. Truman warned Russia in a worldwide broadcast not to misjudge American might — further increases may be made, backed by heavier war production and all the vast economic power of this nation. Previously, defense officials had set their sights on 2,500,000 men in uniform by next June 30.

In a report to his countrymen and the world on United States aims and hopes and why we are fighting in Korea, the President gave assurances there will be no general war unless "communist imperialism" drags in other armies and governments.

The United States, the President said, does "not believe in aggressive or preventive war. Such war is the weapon of dictators."

Korean Invasion At Peak

In Korea, Mr. Truman said, "the invasion has reached its peak," and United Nations forces hold "a firm base." He said five American combat divisions are in action — some 75,000 men.

"They are fighting," he said, "for the proposition that peace shall be the law of the earth."

Here at home, the President said, more work and sacrifice will be needed — "we shall have to give up many things we now enjoy."

Next week he plans another "fireside chat" to the people on the impact of the war on them, on what must be done to combat inflation and runaway prices.

Tonight, Mr. Truman reviewed American action and hopes for peace since the last war and set forth an eight-point program of American aims and hopes at the moment. He accompanied this with an almost savage indictment of Russia:

Russia Violates Pledges

"The Soviet Union has repeatedly violated its pledges of international cooperation. It has destroyed the independence of its neighbors. It has sought to disrupt those countries it could not dominate. It has built up tremendous armed forces far beyond the needs of its own defense.

"Communist imperialism preaches peace but practices aggression."

Yet the Chief Executive held the door open for Russia to join in establishing peace in a troubled world.

"We invite all the nations of the

Air War College Head Suspended For "War Talk"

Anderson Favored Attack On Russia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Air Force today suspended Maj. Gen. Orvil A. Anderson as commandant of its air war college after he was quoted as offering to attack Russia's atom bomb centers.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the Air Force, announced the suspension in a statement declaring that the Air Force "first, last and always is primarily an instrument for peace."

It was the second crackdown in a week on a high military figure for "preventive war" talk.

Matthews Called Down

Secretary of the Navy Matthews said last Firday that this country should be willing to start a war if necessary to compel cooperation for peace. Quickly the White House and State Department declared Matthews' views did not represent government policy.

Spokesmen for the White House and State Department stressed prevention of war, and so did Vandenberg in his statement about Anderson.

"The Air Force as a member of the defense team has as its primary purpose the prevention of war," the Chief of Staff said. He did not state directly the cause of Anderson's suspension.

A copyrighted story in the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser a short time before the veteran airman was suspended quoted him as saying:

"Dangerous Assumption"

"Give me the order to do it and I can break up Russia's five a-bomb nests in a week. And when I went up to Christ x x x I think I could explain to Him that I had saved civilization."

Gen. Anderson was quoted by the paper as saying also:

"To assume that the Russians won't use their a-bombs if we sit by and watch them build them is a dangerous assumption."

Newspaper Columnist Drew Pearson said yesterday that Anderson has indicated he favored immediate war with Russia and has been staging lectures in which preventive war is urged. Pearson said there is evidence that Anderson follows a program at the air college of indoctrinating students with the idea of an immediate attack.

Senate Votes War Tax Hike Of 4½ Billions

Puts Off Decision On Profits Levy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Senate approved a $4,508,000,000 "first installment" war tax boost by voice vote tonight after voting 42 to 36 to postpone until next January a decision on an excess profits levy.

The measure now goes to the House and probably to a Senate-House conference to compromise the differences with a bill approved earlier by the house.

An acknowledged "stop - gap" measure to help fight inflation and start paying for the Korean war and rearmament, the bill would hike individual income taxes by about $2,700,000,000 a year.

Ups Corporation Taxes

It would add another $1,500,000,000 to federal coffers through an increase in corporation taxes and gather other millions by plugging "loopholes" and making other tax law changes.

The bill is designed to go into effect for individual taxpayers October 1. On that date, if the bill is enacted into law in time, withholdings on wages and salaries, after personal exemptions, will jump from the present 15 per cent to 18 per cent.

The corporate tax would increase from the present top rate of 38 per cent of the income to 45 per cent.

Drives by Sens. Douglas (D-Ill) and Humphrey (D-Minn) and others to put more revenue-producing provisions into the bill were killed off in rapid fire order, most of them by voice vote.

George, Millikin Score

The successful move to postpone until January a decision on excess profits taxation was engineered by Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate's tax-writing Finance Committee, and Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), the ranking GOP member. George contended careful study is necessary to avoid possibly serious damage to the economic structure.

Their plan, which requires that the excess rates decided upon by the next Congress date back either to Oct. 1, or July 1, 1950, scuttled the proposal of Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Connally (D-Tex) to write into the bill an 85 per cent excess profits levy, effective as of July 1. They argued for an immediate blow aimed at profiteering on the war.

4 Progressives Sign Affidavits

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 1 (AP)—Four Progressive Party candidates signed under protest today affidavits of loyalty but two others still refused so they can test the requirement in court.

The state's so-called Ober law against subversives requires the affidavits to accompany certificates of candidacy for elective office.

Five Progressive Party candidates previously had tried to file for office without the affidavits of their loyalty to state and nation. The Secretary of State, upon advice of Attorney General Hall Hammond, rejected those for governor and U. S. Senate, and the Baltimore City supervisor of elections refused to accept three congressional candidates.

The Progressives promptly filed suit questioning constitutionality of the Ober law.

Signing the affidavits were Sam Fox, U. S. Senate candidate; Marshall Jones, congressional candidate, and Milton Seif and Otto Yerrell, candidates for the state House of Delegates.

U.N. Council, Under Jebb, Hands Malik Two Defeats

South Korean Envoy To Join Discussions

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 1 (AP)—Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb took over the presidency of the U. N. Security Council today and quickly broke the procedural blockade which Russia's Jakob A. Malik had set up throughout his month as president.

Sitting as delegate for the Soviet Union, however, Malik continued his propaganda campaign against the United States and refused to give ground on any point.

Despite Malik's vigorous protests, the council invited South Korean Ambassador John M. Chang to take part in the Korean discussions. It then turned down the Soviet delegate's demand to extend an invitation to Communist North Korea.

Three Questions On Agenda

By these two decisions the council wound up the procedural wrangle and put itself in a position to begin debate next week on the three questions on its agenda: The Korean conflict, Red China's charges of American aggression against Formosa and Red China's charges of American air attacks on Manchuria.

The Korean question remains at the top of the agenda, but the United States this afternoon circulated a resolution providing for a two-man commission to make an on-the-spot investigation of the alleged air attacks on Manchuria.

Red Challenges Rejected

The first of today's procedural tests came after Malik challenged Jebb's ruling that Chang was entitled to sit at the council table because the council had decided on June 25, the first day of the Korean conflict, to invite him.

The Soviet challenge was rejected 1 to 9, with only Malik himself voting in favor of the challenge.

Malik then submitted a proposal which called on the council to invite representatives of both North and South Korea to the table. This was rejected 2-8.

General Strike Called Against GE By CIO-IUE

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (AP)—A strike against the General Electric Company beginning Tuesday was called today by the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

The IUE claims to represent about 60,000 workers in 32 GE plants located in 25 cities.

Walkouts involving 23,000 workers at five plants in Massachusetts and one in Syracuse, N. Y., were already in progress at the time the union's 50-member General Electric conference board decided on a general strike today.

Wage-Pension Issue

James B. Carey, union administrative chairman, announced the board's action.

The dispute is chiefly over wages and pensions. The IUE seeks a 10-cent-an-hour wage boost on top of a three per cent raise granted by the company July 1.

Earlier today the company said it had offered to raise the three per cent to six per cent, and said this would give its 160,000 employes an average raise of about 10 cents an hour.

GE Vice-President Lemuel R. Boulware said the strike was called "over a six months delay in considering the substitution of a non-contributory pension plan for the current contributory plan."

Rival Union Gets "Invitation"

Boulware said the company had made "many offers."

He quoted Carey as saying the past three days that he would settle for "another two per cent"—either in added pay or in assumption by the company of the two per cent employe contribution to the pension plan.

Carey said members of a rival union, the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (Ind) had been "invited" to join in the strike.

The UE claims about 46,000 workers in 40 GE plants.

Slack Is Indicted

GREENEVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 1 (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted 44-year-old Alfred Dean Slack on charges of wartime spying for Russia.

FCC Expresses Support For CBS TV Color Method

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — Color television moved nearer to Americans' living rooms today as the Federal Communications Commission, in a long-awaited report, expressed strong favor for a color method developed by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The commission refused to adopt final color television standards at this time.

But it went a long way towards ruling in favor of CBS. In so doing, it held a club, in effect, over the heads of television receiver manufacturers who up to now have refused to turn out black and white sets that would be capable of receiving black and white pictures from a CBS-type color broadcast.

The commission said it will soon do one of these two things:

1. Adopt the CBS method as final, and require all color television to conform to that method.

2. Postpone a final decision by merely "proposing" the CBS method, thus reopening the whole case, providing more time to solve remaining technical problems, and giving rival companies a chance to bring forward better systems if they can.

The choice is up to the manufacturers. Here's why:

Three methods were demonstrated —by CBS, the Radio Corporation of America, and Color Television, Inc., —in lengthy FCC hearings that ended last May.

Congress Sends Control Measure To White House

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Congress today approved a bill handing to President Truman sweeping powers to force wages, prices, production — and hoarders — into line to wither inflation and win the war.

Upon the President's signature, the authority will be his to use almost as he sees fit. He asked for controls over production and credit. Congress complied in the main. It also threw in the more drastic powers because the legislators feared that otherwise the tremendous war preparedness effort might wreck the economy.

The controls asked by the President on July 19 after the Korean crisis had thrown the nation into broad scale military expansion included: Allocation and priorities necessary to channel facilities and materials into military and essential uses, authority to finance increased production capacity and a large supply of materials, and power to control installment buying and other consumer and real estate credit, together with power to curb speculation in commodities.

Congress withheld authority requested to control commodity speculation.

It refused to allow control of credit on existing housing.

Mr. Truman complained of the two omissions when he wrote Congress on Aug. 18 expressing fear that other proposed amendments would weaken the whole program.

But some of the special features and "strings" were dropped in a lengthy conference committee session, and both houses acted quickly on the committee's agreement.

The House passed the bill by voice vote at mid-day and the Senate did the same a few hours later. The bill reached the White House at 3:07 p. m. (EST).

Under terms of the bill, Mr. Truman is permitted to pick his own price levels if he chooses to invoke ceilings. The bill directs him, however, to give "due consideration" to prices prevailing during the May 24-June 24 period.

Price control could be imposed on any particular item. However, the bill requires that if this was done, the President also would have to stabilize wages in the industry producing the item.

7 Die In Crash Of Troop Plane

PARSONS, Tenn., Sept. 1 (AP)—A C-119 troop carrier plane exploded in the air and crashed today, killing seven airmen from the Smyrna, Tenn., Air Force Base.

Two men survived the crash, 10 miles northwest of this town in West Tennessee.

The big ship crashed into a corn field at 12:40 p. m. (CST).

J. C. Partin, retired publisher of the Parsons News-Leader, said he talked to one of the survivors, Sgt. Richard Evans, Oak Lawn, Ill.

"He said he was in the back and didn't know what happened. The plane was flying at 15,000 feet."

The other survivor was identified at Stewart Air Base as Cpl. Joe R. Wooten, Dixie, Ga.

Mrs. Allye Ragsdale, telephone operator at Parsons, said Evans came to her office to report the accident to Smyrna.

Move To Up Draft Age To 35 Forecast

Vinson Says Vets Might Be Needed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—A move to raise the top draft age from 25 to 35—and possibly draft World War II veterans—was forecast today by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee.

Vinson said his committee will consider both questions in January when the new Congress convenes. The lawmakers now hope to adjourn within two weeks.

Vinson made his prediction as the Senate and House turned the throttle wide-open to clear vital defense legislation before they leave town.

Doctors Draft Approved

In major developments:

1. Both chambers quickly approved a bill authorizing a draft of physicians and dentists, through age 50, for 21 months military service.

2. The Senate passed and sent to the White House a five-year $250,000,000 program to construct training armories for the National Guard and other reserve forces. Costs would be split on a basis of 75 per cent U. S. funds and 25 per cent state funds.

The measure cleared the House yesterday.

3. President Truman asked Congress for $6,000,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation to provide for its stepped-up activity resulting from "the changed international situation."

Home Guard Bill Endorsed

4. A bill to set up a home guard in case there is general mobilization, as in World War II, was approved by a Senate Armed Services Subcommitte.

5. Opposition by some key House leaders apparently doomed President Truman's plan to scatter federal agencies outside the range of an atomic bomb attack on Washington —perhaps 10 to 50 miles away.

6. An administration bill to enlarge the Coast Guard ran into opposition from Chairman Vinson of the House Armed Service Committee.

Rail Switchmen Win Pay Boost

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The White House tonight announced settlement of a long wage dispute between the AFL Switchmen's Union and ten western railroads.

The agreement calls for a 23-cent hourly wage increase.

It is expected to have an influence on a parallel controversy between the nation's railroads and the trainmen and conductors' unions.

The latter dispute resulted in a strike call and seizure last Sunday of the railroads by the government to prevent tying up the lines.

The trainmen and conductors are asking for 48 hours' pay for a 40-hour week for yard workers and wage adjustments for those in train service.

The switchmen previously had struck five of the 10 railroads with which it has contracts. The switchmen's demands also were for 48 hours' pay for 40 hours' work.

The date set for that walkout was June 25. The strike was called off on four of the railroads but the union refused to work on the Rock Island. The government seized the railroad and obtained a court injunction whereupon the 1,500 switchmen on that line went back to work July 8.

25th Division Fights To Stem Tank-Led Push

Second Division Retakes Yongsan

TOKYO, Saturday, Sept. 2 (AP)—North Korean communists and tanks struck at dawn today against American lines west of Masan on the second day of a 50,000-man offensive against a 55-mile segment of the United Nations defense.

This blow was against the U. S. 25th Division at the southern end of the battle perimeter 35 miles west of the reds' big objective, the lifeline port of Pusan. The reds were reported under orders to take Masan, 27 air miles west of Pusan, in three days—or by tomorrow at the latest.

Further north, red reinforcements streamed across the Naktong River to build up a threatening wedge in the U. S. Second Division's position defending Yongsan. That town is within 11 miles of another red goal, the Taegu-Pusan highway.

Two hundred Navy and Marine carrier based planes swarmed over the Second and 25th Divisions, pouring down a deadly fire that added to communist casualties already totalling between 2,000 and 3,000 dead and 6,000 wounded since the drive opened early Friday.

15 Red Tanks Kayoed

Yesterday Air Force pilots reported knocking out 15 red tanks and damaging nine others. Ground reports listed seven other tanks destroyed.

Frontline dispatches from Associated Press correspondents outlined this situation this morning:

1. A tank-supported assault hit U. S. 25th Division lines about nine miles west of Masan. At least two wild "suicide" attacks were made against the U. S. Fifth Regimental Combat Team.

2. Communist reinforcements poured across the Naktong in the wide beachhead opposite the U. S. Second Division. The Second, supported by tanks, recaptured Yongsan and cleaned out light pockets of North Korean resistance. The Second had pulled back to heights overlooking the burning city yesterday.

At two other points on the east and northwest ends of the 120-mile battle perimeter, United Nations forces launched attacks today.

North of recaptured Pohang, east coast port, U. S. infantry and tanks were reported in action by Associated Press Correspondent Tom Lambert. They sought to recover high ground lost recently by South Koreans.

First Cavalry Attacks

Near Weawan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, Associated Press Correspondent Leif Erickson said elements of the U. S. First Cavalry Division launched a 10 a. m. attack seeking to seize three hills used by the reds as observation posts.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton said the tank-led punch west of Masan was begun

Defense Dept. Says U. S. War Casualty Toll Exceeds 6,886

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Defense Department announced today that the total of notified battle casualties in Korea through midnight of Aug. 25 was 6,886.

This includes 443 killed in action, 3,889 wounded and 2,554 missing in action.

The figures do not reflect all casualties suffered up to Aug. 25 because of the time required to receive reports from the front and to notify the next of kin.

The summary said 60 wounded have returned to duty and 70 men, previously reported as missing, have returned to military control.

Army casualties were 6,567; Navy, 27; Marine Corps, 194, and Air Force, 98.

Reds Get Their Money's Worth Out Of Shell

ON THE MASAN FRONT IN KOREA, Saturday, Sept. 2 (AP)—The North Korean reds got their money's worth out of the mortar shell they lobbed at the U. S. southwestern front Friday.

It landed on a U. S. tank company payroll of $11,800 and burned it to ashes.

Probers Told Entertainers "Exploited" By Subversives

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Josh White, negro folk singer, testified today that he and many other entertainers have been "used and exploited by people who give allegiance to a foreign power."

White told the House Un-American Activities Committee he had given his time or signature to groups with "fine sounding titles" only to learn some were "phony false political rackets exploiting my eagerness to fight injustice."

He said he had never knowingly joined or supported any organization designed to overthrow this government.

The singer appeared voluntarily. He was followed by three former government officials under subpoena who one by one refused to answer questions about communism.

The three were John J. Abt, Nathan Witt and Charles Kramer, named this week by Lee Pressman as onetime fellow members in a communist cell in Washington.

White said that a statement of Negro Baritone Paul Robeson that "negroes would not fight for their country, against Soviet Russia or any other enemy, is both wrong and an insult."

White told the committee he is not and never has been a communist. He said he cut short a recent concert tour of Europe after learning he was "being attacked back home as 'fronting for the communists.'" He returned, he said, "to expose that lie."

Six East German Reds Are Purged

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (AP)—Six high officials of the East German communist regime, including the deputy to Propaganda Chief Gerhardt Eisler, were reported under arrest tonight after banishment from the red-ruled Socialist Unity Party for anti-Sovietism.

Berlin speculated that Eisler, himself, may be next on the purge list. Eisler lost his place on the Central Committee of the party in a recent shakeup. But the pudgy international revolutionary, a fugitive from American justice, was still reported at liberty.

The Russia zone Politburo warned that the purge would slash deeper "until foul liberalism is finished."

Walter Ulbricht, former Moscow expatriate who is now East German deputy chancellor and secretary-general of the party, led the attack against the veteran red comrades, who once were exiles in Western Europe.

He accused them of postwar connections with "American Spy Noel H. Field" and forming a "nest of class enemies" inside the party hierarchy.

All were charged with "lacking trust in the Soviet Union as the leading progressive force, in which no doubt is possible."

Reliable information indicated the six who were banished had been jailed by the Soviet zone Ministry of State Security in advance of the purge announcement today. The zonal press office said it could neither confirm nor deny the report.

North Korean Troops Use Midget Mortar

Philly Hotels Will Find Room For Fans

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1. (INS)—Irate Philadelphia hotel keepers declared today there will be room for all at world series time, and that a scheduled brewers' convention will not cause a room shortage tight enough to force the Philadelphia portion of the series to be moved elsewhere.

All this was predicted, of course, on the likely notion that the Flying Phils are going to win their first National League pennant in 35 years.

The rhubarb broke open with a report in today's Boston American stating that Baseball Commissioner Chandler will be asked to shift the Philadelphia series dates to another city because of the hotel situation.

world, without exception," he said, "to join with us in this great work."

In stating his eight aims, the President again tried to steer Communist China away from involvement in the Korean conflict.

The points:

1. We believe in the United Nations.
2. We believe Koreans have a right to be free.
3. We don't want the Korean fighting to expand into general war.
4. We particularly hope the Chinese people won't be misled into fighting the United Nations and the American people who still are their friends. Only communist imperialism, which already has started dismembering China, could gain from China's involvement.
5. We want none of Asia, Formosa included, for ourselves.
6. We believe in freedom for all Far Eastern nations.
7. We do not believe in aggressive or preventive war.
8. We want peace and "we shall achieve it."

Navy Wife Has Triplets

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 1 (AP) — Mrs. Delmar R. Haynes, wife of a chief medical corpsman at the Naval Academy hospital, gave birth to triplet daughters yesterday.

"It's wonderful — I guess," said Haynes, who comes from Eastaboga, Ala. His wife is a former Baltimore girl.

The newcomers weighed 5 pounds 2 ounces, 4 pounds 14 ounces, and 5 pounds 4½ ounces. Navy doctors said today they are doing well.

Mahoney Lashes Out At Lane's "Policy"

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 1 (AP)—Gov. Lane's policy is "tell the people anything and when you get in, do as you please," George P. Mahoney told an audience of 500 tonight in the Masonic Temple.

The principal opponent of the Governor for the Democratic nomination declared that Lane promised before his election to reduce taxes and 30 days afterward increased them.

"In the history of the state never has any governor pulled a fast trick like that," Mahoney said.

Marylanders Paying 23% More Sales Tax

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Marylanders are paying 23 per cent more sales taxes than they were a year ago.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes reported today that collections on taxes for July amounted to $2,667,298. That was $501,077 more than collected for the same month a year ago.

So far this fiscal year which is two months old, sales tax collections amount to $5,325,213, an increase of $926,365 over the same 1949 period.

25th Division

at 5 a. m. after the reds had shelled the sector for an hour.

Swinton reported other red forces hits 25th Division positions in its "central sector"—north of Masan—causing the defenders to withdraw.

An American artillery battery fought its way out of one embattled position by lowering its guns and employing point plank fire. Joining in the withdrawal were engineers fighting as infantrymen.

Swinton's report from the southern sector added up to a renewal of the offensive launched yesterday which for a time overran the town of Haman, eight and a half miles northwest of Masan which appeared to be the reds' immediate objective. Last night had been comparatively quiet after yesterday's operation—the biggest coordinated communist push of the Korean war.

Gov. Lane Says Mahoney Wages "Me Too" Campaign

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Gov. Lane said today that George P. Mahoney, his opponent for the Democratic nomination, is conducting a "me too" campaign.

"Mr. Mahoney is for all the improvements this administration has made, and is making, but all he says is that he can, in some mysterious way, do it as well and at the same time stop spending the money these improvements are costing," a Lane statement read.

For instance, the Governor stated, Mahoney "has finally settled down for a watered-down promise that he hoped to do something eventually about the sales tax if elected.

"Nearly a month after I informed the people of Maryland that there was a very definite possibility that we could completely exempt low-cost meals and raise the tax bracket from 14 cents to 24 cents, and that if state finances would permit, that this exemption bracket for all purposes could be increased to as much as 50 cents, he comes forward with a promise to make it 34 cents."

Meanwhile, Kenneth R. Hammer, a past commander of the American Legion and active in Mahoney's campaign, went after the Governor on a veterans' bonus.

Hammer asked the Governor why he waited "until the very last day in the 1950 session of the Legislature to announce his opposition to the bonus bill that had been introduced approximately 30 days before?"

Governor Lane, on the day before adjournment, advised the legislature he would not consider a bonus bill unless a way to pay it was included.

Heiress Ordered To Pay Alimony

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1 (AP)—A wealthy wife today was ordered to pay $250 a month temporary alimony to her husband, a disabled Marine veteran.

Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle, ordered Mrs. Joyce Primrose Boozer, 44, heiress to a $3,000,000 fortune, to pay the amount pending trial of a separate maintenance action brought against her by Edward F. Boozer, 37, who was disabled at Guadalcanal. He asked $500 a month for support.

However, the judge limited the temporary alimony to a period of seven months.

At an earlier hearing Boozer testified that his wife "spoiled" him and accustomed him to a life of ease. Mrs. Boozer has sued to divorce Boozer, alleging adultery.

FCC Expresses

All of them would require new type receivers, or drastic changes in present receivers, to get color pictures. But the RCA and CTI methods were such that the 7,000,000 black and white receivers now in American homes would be capable of receiving the pictures in black and white. Because of this quality, the RCA and CTI methods were known as "compatible."

The CBS method was not compatible. Present sets could not pick up the broadcasts, even in black and white, without certain alterations in the receivers.

Nevertheless the FCC said today that the CBS method is by far the best of the three. It ruled out the RCA and CTI systems as falling short of the commission's criteria for color video.

"Midget Missionaries" To Win Friends For U. S.

If this country is to succeed in nailing Soviet lies and substituting the truth, if it is to win friends on both sides of the iron curtain, the Voice of America must not only be sent out in high-frequency impulses but picked up for the ears of men and women. That will require radio receiving sets.

Nearly $3,000,000 of the $62,000,000 now agreed upon for the Voice of America has been earmarked for "midget radios." They will be distributed abroad by whatever means are available. Some of them may be openly and proudly displayed in schools, public halls, and on living room tables, in countries like France, Italy, Greece, Indo-China and Japan.

Others probably will be scattered about India and baited with enough native music to draw audiences in many a public square or marketplace.

There will be still other little sets for use abroad. Attempts probably will be made to smuggle them into Russia as well as the Soviet satellites in Europe. Efforts will be made to send some into China. Not many of these sets can be put in plain view or operated on turned-up volume. Many will be found and confiscated, and their users punished or tortured.

But the hope is for sets in cellars, attics and woods; in desk drawers and thatched huts and stables. Anywhere people of courage can gather on the quiet, taking their chances of sudden arrest.

How can the midget missionaries be kept out of the black markets of France (let's say)—or be smuggled to rebel patriots in the Ukraine? Well, that's to be worked out. Washington can call upon the services of refugees in contact with colleagues of the underground back home. Somehow the little sets find their way to those dark and hidden places.

Television has cut conversation in the home 50 per cent, according to a survey, apparently wiping out father's 20 per cent and reducing the better half's by 30 points.

Flight To The Country

As the experts see it, there are two main reasons for the current flight to the country by hordes of erstwhile city dwellers.

Farm land has suddenly become popular again, and in several midwestern states farm land values have hit an all time high. This is a trend that was tentatively under way before the Korean war broke. Good crops and the price support program have made farming look attractive to thousands who ordinarily would have stuck to a city apartment or to a postage-stamp-sized suburban plot.

The other pressure seems to be one of decentralization, which has been accelerated in some areas by threat of bombing by an eventual aggressor. This trend has had most force, as might be expected, in the most highly industralized regions, although national surveys seem to point out exceptions.

New York City newspapers have ads urging consideration of country places and estates at distances farther than extreme commuter range. Some openly urge people to get away from bombs. Others are more delicate about it.

Whatever the reason, the fact remains there is a firm trend back to the land. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture small, part-time and residential farm units have increased sharply in numbers. Perhaps the best barometer lies in the fact that farm and values have recouped from their slump of late 1948, although they are still lower than they were immediately after the war.

There is more money in circulation than ever before. The citizen, seeing it coming and going, will regard "circulation" as an understatement.

Mao And Korea

Chinese Nationalist sources say three Chinese communist armies already are inside North Korea, and more are on the border. U. S. Army intelligence also reports a concentration of Chinese communist troops on the Korean border.

It is possible that Moscow has already taken the long view and written off the successful prosecution of the Korean war by North Koreans alone. Russia's aim now may be to get Chinese red forces in there and pitching as soon as possible. It would be desirable, from the communist viewpoint, to cloak this new invasion with a legality of sorts. This might explain the claim of "invasion" by U. S. and British planes put forth by the Mao regime.

There is another theory that is worth examining. It may be that Mao fully realizes the role of the Korean Peninsula in the future of communist China. If, for instance, the western frontier of freedom is to follow a line running southwest from Japan, through Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines, then Korea, strategically, should come into communist possession. To anyone schooled in Russian thought and action, the device of launching an invasion by cleaming attack by the intended victim would seem perfectly natural.

All the evidence isn't in yet. But where there's this much smoke there's suspicion of fire.

Dr. Seagrave, Burma surgeon, arrested on suspicion of aiding the reds, should have stuck to pink pills.

Challenge To Motorists

This may be harping on an old subject, but too much emphasis cannot be placed on safe driving. With the last long weekend of the season at hand a new challenge is presented motorists.

With 40,000,000 cars on the streets and highways for three days and nights, there is great danger the death list will equal or surpass the Fourth of July holocaust.

Speed is relative. There are times when it is less hazardous than at others. On an open and uncongested highway, especially in daylight, it is safe to drive faster than in city traffic. But even so prudent driving calls for common sense and good judgment at all times.

The car must be kept in safe operating condition. The person at the wheel must have normal faculties and, above all, be sober. So long as he is handling a motor car going at any speed he must have consideration for his own life and the lives of others.

Death lurks on every street and highway for those who do not exercise the greatest possible caution.

Allergens In Bronchial Asthma

SEVERAL years ago we took our neighbors to visit the Valley View Farm where there are many beautiful horses. The children were given a pony to ride and a half hour later we were horrified at the appearance of one of the youngsters. His face was covered with blotches and tears were streaming from his inflamed eyes. Then he began to sneeze and exhibited all the signs of marked nasal congestion. The boy was allergic to horse dander and we found out later that he encountered a similar reaction whenever he came into contact with these animals.

Dr. Harold M. Camp of Monmouth, Ill., tells a story about his father, who was bothered in a somewhat similar fashion except that the attack was followed by asthma. It was a tragedy so far as he was concerned because the senior Camp was a country physician and had to make all of his distant calls on horseback or by horse and buggy. By the time he reached his destination he often was sicker than his patient. There was no man in the world any happier than he on the day he bought his first model T.

Asthma is a broad term meaning any condition in which wheezing occurs. Bronchial asthma is more specific, however, in that wheezing is due to an allergic disturbance. Other symptoms include cough and shortness of breath. When a bout comes on, many sufferers are unable to lay down because of difficulty in breathing. Some sit up all night in a chair or lean forward, resting their arms and head on a pillow or card table. According to Dr. Leon Unger, the character of the wheezing varies; sometimes it is quiet and can be picked up only with a stethoscope. In others, it is so loud that the sound can be heard in the next room. Most of the noise occure in expiration because the individual has difficulty in forcing air out of the lungs because of partial obstruction of the bronchi.

If the cause is known, half the battle is won. This is better than all the remedies in the world, especially when the provoking agent can be avoided. Those who are sensitive to horses, for example, may have no more trouble so long as they never come into contact with the noxious dander. The irritant is determined by skin testing. In susceptible persons, a large hive-like lesion develops over the site where the sensitizing agents are placed on the skin.

There are hundreds of potential troublemakers, including dog and cat hair, cosmetics, and many foods. At this time of the year, ragweed is producing not only hay fever but, in some, asthma. Dust also is an offender and a miserable one at that because of its prevalence. Almost all cities have these particles floating about. A housewife suffering from dust allergy would have difficulty cleaning without the use of a good vacuum cleaner and its attachments. Sweeping and dusting bring on bouts of asthma and the whiskbroom is an item or torture because it merely shifts the particles from one place to another. The asthma victim appreciates a rubber mattress because it does not harbor dust; air conditioning has been a lifesaver.

If the cause cannot be avoided an attempt should be made to acquire artificial immunity through desensitization shots. When this is not successful, medicines such as adrenalin and iodides are resorted to. The antihistaminic drugs which are so helpful in other allergic conditions, have not worked well in asthma.

U. S. Military Get Cabinet Rebuff On Strategic Materials Failure; Ex-Speaker Joe Martin Finds That Bachelordom Pays

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—At every Cabinet meeting, President Truman makes the rounds of all present and asks if they have anything to report. At a recent meeting, Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, said:

"I think I should tell you, Mr. President, that the stockpiling program is a total failure, or almost so—due to the inability of the military and the munitions board to tell us what strategic materials they need.

"We have been after them for months to tell us," Symington continued, "but we can't get the answers. And it's impossible to stockpile intelligently unless we know what the military will need for war."

As Symington gave further details, Secretary of Defense Johnson's face turned a bright red. The Munitions Board is directly under him. It and the military are supposed to decide what strategic materials the nation needs in case of war; and following their decision the National Security Resources Board is supposed to acquire them.

Symington's report caused some Cabinet members to believe that the military's woeful mistake regarding inadequate bazookas sent to Korea and the complete failure to look ahead re U. S. tanks are not isolated cases. They fear the military has not looked ahead on other vital problems.

Frugal Joe Martin

Democratic Congressman Foster Furcolo and Thomas Lane of Massachusetts were joshing their fellow-stater, House Republican Leader Joe Martin, about his exemplary habits.

"I understand, Joe, that you don't smoke," said Lane.

"That's right," said the ex-Speaker.

"Don't drink, either, do you?" asked Furcolo.

"Nothing stronger than grape juice," replied Martin.

"Bachelor; too?"

Martin nodded.

"Then you must be mighty rich," observed Lane.

"The truth is that I'm only moderately fixed, but it's good to hear somebody called a rich Republican again," slyly retorted Martin. "You Democrats have all the money these days."

Money For Capehart

Some years ago the U. S. Senate refused to seat Senator Frank L. Smith of Illinois because he spent $100,000 in a hot primary campaign. But now, in the neighboring state of Indiana, GOP Senator Homer Capehart has spent the staggering sum of $91,961.84 in his primary campaign, even though he had no opponent. Capehart's senatorial salary for six years is $75,000, to obtain which he has already spent $91,961.84.

It will now be interesting to watch how must the "music box senator" will spend in his general election, in which he faces a terrific battle from dynamic Democrat Alex Campbell.

The chances are that the money will continue to roll in from his wealthy backers. For Capehart had such an easy time raising money that he collected $99,679.35, or $7,717.51 more than he spent. His chief bank-rollers were the Lilly Pharmaceutical people of Indianapolis, who fattened the kitty by about $20,000.

Some of Capehart's campaign expenditures are equally interesting. Though he had no primary opponent, he reported to the Indiana secretary of State that he spent almost $40,000 in salaries for campaign workers; also, $6,268.89 for radio and newspaper advertising, $2,000 for recordings and $74 for "flowers."

Other expenditures included $2,804.15 for "rent" (presumably office space and hotel lodgings); $1,431.87 for general "expenses" and $1,059.00 for "postage." Of course, some of this was undoubtedly an advance investment aimed at the final election and was justified by the fact that Capehart faces the political battle of his life.

Most modest entry in Homer's campaign report was $2.50 for "repairs." Indiana Democratic leaders are speculating that this was used to mend "one little political fence" somewhere in the state.

Two McCarthys

A clerk spotted a young, freshman congressman seated at a House Armed Services Committee recent hearing and requested his name for the record.

"McCarthy," was the reply.

"From Wisconsin?" asked the clerk.

"No—Minnesota. I'm the Democratic McCarthy in Congress."

"Just so there won't be any mistake about his identity," spoke up Representative Pat Sutton of Tennessee, "be sure to make his first name Gene instead of Joe."

Note—No relation to the irrepressible Senator Joe, Representative Eugene McCarthy has been doing a quiet, effective job in various constructive fields, including veterans' welfare legislation.

Gambler's Threat

Conscientious Senator Hunt of Wyoming, of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, has received a threatening letter, warning that if he sticks his nose too far into the gambling syndicate he might be "rubbed out." Postmarked "Boston" and written in careful, intelligent English, this was no crackpot letter.

Instead of being intimidated, Senator Hunt introduced an amendment to the tax bill to force gamblers to pay a 99 per cent income tax on all their winnings. This would put most of the gamblers out of business.

Merry-Go-Round

New Mexico's Senator Chavez was so attentive to movie actress Linda Darnell in showing her around the Capitol recently that he whisked her away from admiring page boys. . . . The Russians have started jamming the radios of the U. S. Seventh Fleet now stationed off Formosa. In addition, the Air Force has reported Russian jamming of its radio network in California and Alaska. This could be serious. It makes quick communication impossible . . . Congratulations to the Machinists Union and Lockheed Aircraft of Burbank, Calif., for their "buck of the month" club. Each worker contributes one buck a month to help sick children, needy families, and disabled war veterans—$2,000,000 raised so far . . . A naval officer in the Pentagon guided missiles section started a new crop of "flying saucer" rumors the other day by passing off "flying saucer" toys as authentic models. (He had bought them in the Pentagon drugstore) . . . Senator McCarran of Navada has made a political football of a bill that would grant American citizenship to 3,000 Korean immigrants—at a time when we are trying to win friends in Korea. McCarran has doctored up the bill with so many of his pet security measures that Senate Majority Leader Lucas has been forced to hold it up.

GOP Backs War "To Hilt" But Will Blast Policy

By MARK SULLIVAN

IT hardly needed to be made official. Yet making it so helps to clarify the situation to the public. Democratic National Chairman Boyle says that in the Congressional campaign the Democrats will "not discuss foreign policy." That was an easy promise for the Democratic chairman to make. Warningly he suggests that the Republicans had better practice the same silence. He says that "if the Republicans try to use the Korean war as a political situation, it will rebound against them."

Here the Democratic chairman mentions two things distinguishable from each other—the "Korean War" and "foreign policy." The distinction is valid. And it is preserved by Republican National Chairman Gabrielson in the reply he makes. Mr. Gabrielson says that the Republicans will back the Korean War "to the hilt." But as to the foreign policy which led up to the Korean war he says that "Republicans have no intention of joining in any . . . conspiracy of silence." That policy, Mr. Gabrielson says, will "be reviewed completely."

Impose Silence

This announcement is a departure by the Republicans. From the time we became involved in the Second World War, in December 1941, the Republicans in the Senate practiced bi-partisanship on foreign policy. The course the Administration took thus became, technically if not actually, a Republican policy as well as a Democratic one. Because of this, and on the theory that there should be national unity in time of war, the Republicans refrained from making foreign policy an issue in political campaigns. The self-imposed restraint was continued in the Presidential campaign of 1948.

The Republicans are now through with self-imposed restraint. While supporting the war in Korea "up to the hilt," they are going to "review completely" the past foreign policy of the Administration, the part that led up to Korea. In doing this the Republicans must dwell on the fall of China to Communism, and the degree to which the Truman administration was responsible for the fall, as well as the degree to which President Roosevelt was responsible.

That the fall of China would result in a Korea, a military advance of Communism in our direction at one point or another, the Truman administration had abundant warning. As early as 1947, public statements by military experts and others, including military leaders, explained in detail how the taking over of China by Communism would as a matter of distance put us at an extreme military disadvantage, would set back by hundreds of miles the line at which we could defend ourselves against any attack by Russia. The warnings were broader than military, and one of them came from a source extraordinarily convincing. In 1945 the then head of the Communist party in America, William Z. Foster, admonishing his followers to work against any intervention by us in China said: "The war in China is the key to all problems of the international front and it is here, above all else, where we have to deal the hardest blow . . on the international scale."

Republicans criticizing the Truman administration about China would do detriment to their argument, and historians would do detriment to fact, if they assumed that our share of responsibility for the fall of China was merely negative, merely a failure to extend financial help. For that the Truman administration has an answer. We did give some financial help and for not giving more had a reason. We were already extending so much help to threatened countries in Western Europe that we could not spare more for China.

What greatly harmed the Nationalist government of China under Chiang Kai-shek and greatly helped the Communists attempting to defeat him, were affirmative actions by our government. In 1946 we publicly urged Chiang Kai-shek to take the Communists into a coalition government. To the Chinese people, who attach great weight to prestige, to what they call "face," that was a sign that we did not support Chiang Kai-shek.

The most affirmative and deadly of the harms we did to the Nationalist government of China was an action by President Roosevelt at Yalta in February 1945. He, in a conference with Stalin about Russia taking part in a war against Japan, promised Stalin in a formal agreement that after the war Russia should have territory occupied by Japan, part of it formerly owned by China, part on the border of China. It was from these places, and with arms and other advantages acquired by Russia after the defeat of Japan, as a result of the Yalta agreement, that the Communist drive to overcome China got leverage and momentum. After the magnitude of the disaster to us, that the fall of China was, is realized and the magnitude of its place in the present world struggle has effect, Yalta will have a place in history equivalent to any of the decisive battles that have changed the course of the world.

Does U. S. Plan To Scuttle Policy Toward Formosa?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1—Is the United States Government trying to wiggle out of its entanglement in defending Formosa and thus make diplomatic concessions to certain European governments and pave the way for appeasement of communist China and its possible admission to the Security Council of the United Nations?

This question may well be asked now in view of the startling announcement by President Truman to his press conference that, as soon as the Korean episode is over, it would not be necessary to keep the U. S. Navy's Seventh Fleet in the Straits of Formosa. Mr. Truman added that the presence of this fleet in that position was just a flank protection for our forces in Korea.

This is not only an amazing contradiction of the strategy which the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff cannot but have developed for the protection of the Japan-Okinawa-Philippines perimeter of our defense, but it is a complete disavowal of the military views of General Douglas MacArthur, recently given, as to the importance of defending Formosa.

Causes Apprehension

It is something even more important—it could be construed by the Chinese communists as an open invitation to them to occupy Formosa, just as the American pronouncement of last January that our defense line didn't include Korea gave encouragement to the communists to march below the 38th Parallel.

Mr. Truman's comment has sent a shiver of apprehension through certain quarters in Congress, where it had been believed that the United States was standing firmly in the Far East and that appeasement of communist China was unthinkable.

What is also disturbing is that either the President has now projected himself as a military expert superior to his own Joint Chiefs of Staff and to General MacArthur, or else that he is weakening in favor of some State Department chicanery to ease the path of Great Britain and other countries with commercial interests in the Far East who want to continue to trade with an maintain diplomatic relations with communist China.

The argument all along in some quarters—especially in communist circles—has been that to defend Formosa would entangle us in a war with communist China. The opposite is true—failure to defend Formosa after America has publicly declared that it doesn't belong to communist China and must be neutralized until the treathy with Japan disposes of the question of trusteeship may indeed cause war with China. It could come if the communists, perceiving American weakness, started an aggression similar to that in Korea, only to be met by a sudden decision by the United States to throw in sea forces to protect Formosa.

Is this why General MacArthur risked a reprimand and spoke out so plainly on how important to the defense of Continental United States the retention of Formosa in friendly hands appears to be?

Did General MacArthur know of the campaign of appeasement going on in Washington, and did he suspect that Formosa was to be tossed over to the communists? Did he feel that, as a soldier and as the man selected to represent the United Nations in command of all the armed forces in the Far East, he should speak out so that the American people at least would know about the scuttling policy that might be under consideration this very week?

Fundamental Principle At Stake

It seems strange that General MacArthur would just send out an indiscreet statement. It is more logical to believe that he took the risk because he thought a fundamental principle affecting the nation's defenses was at stake. To say that the Department of State or the President alone can speak on "foreign policy" and that nobody else should be allowed to speak, even when a grave question of national defense is concerned, does not explain away the strange circumstances surrounding this episode.

Whom did General MacArthur have in mind when he wrote this paragraph:

"Nothing could be more fallacious than the threadbare argument by those who advocate appeasement and defeatism in the Pacific that if we defend Formosa we alienate Continental Asia."

Was MacArthur's statement a last desperate attempt to ward off another Munich in the Far East—a quick way to end the Korean war by conceding to the communists what they have wanted from the beginning—admission to the position of another veto in the Security Council? If so, then doesn't it seem that the appeasement should have begun on June 25 last? A lot of American boys would be alive today and lots more would not be suffering from the grievous wounds they received as a result of the sudden decision to defend Korea two months ago.

These Days By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Ghost Doth Ride

THESE two events are not unrelated:

1. The controversy between President Truman and General Douglas MacArthur over Formosa;

2. The admission of Lee Pressman that he, John Abt, Nathan Witt, Charles Kramer and others had been members of the Harold Ware cell of the Communist party, designed to infiltrate the highest positions in government.

The connection is that were it not for the machinations of these intellectual Communists in the State Department and the Treasury Department, it is unlikely that Nationalist China would have collapsed and Soviet Russia would not so readily have been able to add China to the federation of Soviet socialist republics. Had China not been conquered, General MacArthur would not today be leading an army in Korea, and he would not have become involved in a controversy with the President over Formosa.

Therefore, a full congressional investigation might be made, now that Lee Pressman has opened the door, into the destruction of China's currency by the Treasury Department of the United States. Such an investigation might go into the activities of Harry Dexter White, Harold Glasser, Charles Kramer and Frank Coe.

Chiang Kai-Shek was a popular leader among his people since 1924 until the currency of his country became so depreciated as to be worthless. The beginning of this was the Silver Purchase Act of 1934, passed by the Congress of the United States.

China's currency was based on a silver standard. When the United States raised the price of silver from 30 cents an ounce to $1.29, the silver of China flowed to the United States. One of the arguments in favor of the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 was that it would aid the economy of China. Anyone familiar with the economy of China knew that it could only do damage, particularly to China's exports.

China sent commissions and representatives to this country to plead against this madness, which did them so much harm and did us no good. As K. P. Chen, manager of the Shanghai Commercial Savings Bank, once said:

". . . The rise of the silver price brought in its wake, as far as China is concerned, falling prices, shrinkage of currency, destruction of industries and business, a greater deficit in the government's budget, and increasing chaos in society."

This is a mild description of what happened. Then President Roosevelt began to give China advisers. Some, like Laughlin Currie and Owen Lattimore, actually went to China; others drew ornate plans in the Treasury Department. Loans were made to China to help her off a bad spot, but these loans always involved an agreement to reform something in that country, and after the reform was introduced, the currency situation became worse.

It would be vitally important, if we are to get at the facts, to study not only the activities of the U. S. Treasury, but also of the RFC. In connection with these various loans and credits and stabilizations, it would be advantageous to note which Americans acted as counsel for the Chinese borrowers. It might also be of advantage to study the role of that amazing Pole, Ludwig Rajchman, who is no longer attached to the Chinese but is a representative of Communist Poland in the United Nations.

General Douglas MacArthur, who knows how vital Formosa is to the defense of the United States on the Japan - Okinawa - Philippines line, has really issued a warning to the American people. In 1947, before it was too late, General Wedemeyer reported:

"The situation in Manchuria

County Board Establishes Roads Policy

After a request for repairs to Valley View Drive in the Cresaptown section was received yesterday, the Allegany County Board of Commissioners announced that they will no longer do any road work unless proper rights-of-way are obtained first.

Commissioner James Holmes suggested the move.

He cited several recent cases, one of which involved a man who said the county had encroached on his property during grading of a road.

Commissioner William H. Lemmert supported Holmes' stand in the matter.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said that the board had gone ahead with work in the past and in the case of the Valley View Drive request he did not see why it was being held up.

Three other road repairs requests were received yesterday.

Chester Crabtree asked that a 1,000-foot stretch of road running from the Mt. Savage Road alongsaid the Corriganville Methodist Church be repaired.

He said that seven homes were located in the area behind the church and the section was often washed badly during rainy weather. This made easy access to their homes impossible, Crabtree said.

Alvey B. McElfish asked that repairs be made to the old Williams Road. He said it was cut and rutted.

Cletus and Robert Miller asked that repairs to the Black Oak Road be done.

Freckles may be your beauty spots, but you can banish them if you wish to, says John Robert Powers

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

IF A GLANCE in your mirror proves that you disregarded the old adage about an ounce of prevention, and are now in search of a cure for the dryness, leatheriness and freckles that inevitably come to a skin unguardedly exposed to summer's sun, today's column is especially for you.

Follow the beauty advice below if you wish to regain a petal-smooth skin texture before the season's big social events come along:

New Skin for Old

1. On arising, cleanse your face with a rich-lanolin-based cleanser. Remove all traces of it with a tissue. Then apply a lanolin-based foundation in a color that complements your skin. Use gentle, coaxing, upward and outward strokes for both of these applications. Apply the rest of your cosmetics as usual.

2. On retiring, remove cosmetics with your cleanser and wash your face with a good lather of lanolin soap. Rinse with at least three clear waters. Use your finger tips for lathering and your cupped hands for rinsing. Pat dry with an absorbent, soft towel. Then apply a sparing layer of rich lubricant and let it work while you sleep.

Extra-special instructions for your condition are: Wash your face with soap no more than once daily; remove cosmetics at all times with your cleanser; whenever you have a few hours of privacy, remove your cosmetics and apply your night lubricant; apply an invisable film of skin oil under your foundation if your skin is so dry that it is flaking.

Freckle Talk

Some of the most beautiful women of our time have a generous sprinkling of freckles, and personally, I like 'em! But if you feel you have more than your share, the quickest thing you can do is to use an opaque powder base. Be careful to apply it expertly, though! It must look neither heavy nor artificial. And use a little eyeshadow and a bright lipstick so that your eyes and mouth will take the spotlight off your skin.

Your druggist or doctor can advise you about a lotion that will gradually fade your freckles with good results. And if you really have an antipathy for your freckles, here's big news; a qualified dermatologist can actually remove them permanently! But if you have this banishing treatment, I hope you won't feel like one girl I know. After having her freckles removed at great expense, she now would give anything to have them back!

Ream Named To Somerset County Board

MEYERSDALE, Pa. — Samuel S. Ream, Lavansville salesman and farmer, was sworn into office Tuesday morning as the minority member of the Somerset County Board of Commissioners.

Ream, a Democrat, succeeds J. W. Brougher of Somerset, who died last month at the age of 92.

The new jury commissioner will fill out the unexpired part of M. Broughner's four-year term. The late Broughner was a veteran Democratic commissioner and was elected to his fourth term in 1949.

Judge Thomas F. Lansperry administered the oath to the new board member on Tuesday morning prior to the opening of the August term of Somerset County civil court.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The Park Avenue Prevaricators' annual tournament was won this year by the brazen member who insisted he had dropped a bottle of hair tonic by accident into Lake George. Soon all the fish began to grow long beards. Anglers simply sat in their shacks, planted red and white barber poles at the edge of the water, and hollered "next."

Water Shortage Again Is Problem In LaVale Section

The LaVale water shortage came to local notice again yesterday when residents of the Allegany Grove section reported they have been without water since Wednesday.

Prior to that, according to Harry Winnerling, Allegany Grove, the supply was only two days a week.

D. Clifford Goodfellow, president of the LaVale Water Company, stated that as Allegany Grove is at the highest elevation in LaVale, it is the first to experience a shortage.

However, other homes supplied by the firm throughout the LaVale section have been without water previously this summer.

Goodfellow said that in addition to the below normal rainfall this summer two electric pumps at the Red Hill Reservoir were placed out of commission Wednesday by the electrical storm.

The shut down was not discovered until the following morning, Goodfellow stated, and eight hours of water was lost.

One of the residents suggested turning on city water as far as the pipe line of the LaVale Sanitary Commission is laid into the area. The line is past Klosterman's Addition.

A spokesman for the commission said it would be impossible for the sanitary group to start water through this line without owning the LaVale Water Company system.

Negotiations between the two parties for the purchase of the system have been going on since April, he said, finally leading into a condemnation suit in Circuit Court. The figure set by the jury, $98,000, was termed excessive by the commission and a new trial was asked.

In the meantime, the spokesman said, negotiations have been reopened, but no price agreeable to both parties has been reached. Sessions have been held up three weeks by the illness of Goodfellow, who is recuperating from pneumonia.

Goodfellow appealed to the residents to conserve what water there is. He said that it has been reported that several homeowners were sprinkling lawns and watering cars, in middle and lower LaVale, disregarding the shortage in upper LaVale.

Take Advantage Of Your Heritage . . . . . Freedom Of Worship!

Industry spares no pains or expense when it comes to protecting the bodies of factory workers.

Spark-proof helmets, sturdy shoes, non-slip floors, easy exits—the list of precautionary devices is long. They call it "Safety Engineering."

Is it too much to say that the Church too is engaged in a type of safety engineering? Through the religious faith on which it is founded the Church knows that the souls of people need protection even more than do their eyes and limbs.

The Church believes that human hearts yearn for a comforting arm just as human frames require safe-guarding. It believes that physical safety is not enough; that to bring peace of mind is a more important mission than to insure absence of bodily risk.

As long as lives are saved from the blight of godlessness, the institution contributing to such saving is entitled to all the encouragement and support you can give it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

New Yorkers Top Senators By Score 6-2

Lead Tigers By 2½ Games; Dodgers Lose, Trail By Seven Games

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (INS) — Home runs by Johnny Mize and Billy Johnson in the eighth inning tonight touched off a five-run rally that gave the New York Yankees a 6-to-2 victory over Washington.

A crowd of 33,134 at Yankee Stadium saw the Yanks increase their American League lead to 2½ games over the idle Detroit Tigers.

Mize's roundtripper—his fourth in three days and 17th of the season—came with two aboard and the Yanks trailing, 2 to 1. Johnson, who had socked an earlier home in the fourth, followed with his fifth of the season.

Until the fatal eighth, rookie Al Sima was keeping the Yankees well in check and protecting a lead given him in the first inning when Mickey Vernon homered with one on.

Allie Reynolds, who granted the Senators only four hits, recorded his 13th victory against 11 losses. Sima's defeat was his fourth in seven decisions. Score:

Reds Recall Three Hurlers From Minors

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds today recalled pitchers Kent Peterson from Syracuse and Everett Lively and Jim Avrea from Tulsa.

Peterson, a young lefthander, has been doing well in the International League, after a shaky start.

Lively was sent to Tulsa after being out much of the season with a sore arm.

Great things were expected of both hurlers when they were acquired by Cincinnati several years ago.

They have yet to show winning form in the big league, however.

Daly Edges Locks For First Prize

LEEDS, Eng., Sept. 1 (AP)—Ryder Cup player Fred Daly bested Bobby Locke by one stroke today to win the $980 first prize in the 72-hole Lotus Golf Tournament.

Daly, a dapper Irishman, shot a 69 on the final round for a 278 and then waited more than an hour for the methodical Locke who was the last man home.

Playing in his first British tournament since picking up a wad of dollars in Chicago, Locke needed an even 70 to tie Daly. He staggered at the start, using up 15 strokes on the first three holes. Then he settled down and made the turn in 35. But he faltered coming home and finished with a 71 for a 279.

Art Clark of Huntington, W. Va., finished sixth with a 73-72-67-71—284.

People with good eyesight can see eight stars in the Big Dipper; people with extra-good eyesight can see nine, but the normal person sees seven.

OUR BOBBY — The Collegiate football spotlight this fall will be on Notre Dame as usual and on Bobby Williams in particular. The slick Irish quarterback who was born in Cumberland and now lives in Baltimore will be the key man in the Frank Leahy attack and already is being boomed as an All-American performer. Williams is 20 years old, is 6 feet, 1 inch tall and tips the beam around the 180 mark.

St. Louis Cards Hand Suspension To Nippy Jones

Failed To Join Team For Pittsburgh Trip

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1. (AP)—Nippy Jones was suspended indefinitely by the St. Louis Cardinals today for failure to show for the team's trip to Pittsburgh, but he insisted "I didn't jump the team."

Nippy Jones Cardinals

The first baseman after returning to his home in Los Angeles, said he left the club with the knowledge and consent of owner Fred Saigh. Saigh denied this, saying he had asked Jones to stay with the club until an adequate replacement could be found.

Jones underwent a serious back operation last winter and was put back on the active list only last July 17. He has played in only a few games since then but has been used as a pinch batter.

"I called up Mr. Saigh and told him I'm not ready to play baseball," Jones said. "Besides my back injury, my legs have been giving me trouble."

The Cardinal owner said "doctors who examined him say he could play without injury to himself."

Jones said he received Saigh's permission to go on the voluntary retired list. The player added that Saigh advised him to write to Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler about it.

Saigh said this wasn't so—that he told Jones he didn't want him on the voluntary retired list because it would stop Jones' salary and prevent him from playing the first 30 days of the 1951 season.

The club owner said Jones still insisted he didn't want to make the trip to Pittsburgh and said he intended to write Chandler. "I told him to go ahead, that I couldn't stop him," Saigh said.

Jones, a .300 hitter last year and the Cardinals' regular first baseman until the back injury forced him out of action late in the season, said in Los Angeles his suspension "came as a shock."

"I want to play baseball again," he said. "I certainly never would jump a club like that."

Leading Pros Will Vie In Empire State Open

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—The $15,000 Empire State Open Golf Tournament gets off to a rain-delayed start tomorrow.

The 72-hole event was postponed today for one day after the tournament committee inspected the Shaker Ridge Country Club course, made virtually unplayable by three days of rain.

Most of the nation's top professionals will vie for the $2,600 first prize. Among the favorites are Lloyd Mangrum, Jim Ferrier, Henry Ransom, Cary Middlecoff and Skip Alexander.

However, the top money winner of the trouing pros, Sam Snead, will not compete. Snead, off his game, decided to go fishing instead.

Game At Mt. Savage

A game between the Tigers and Phillies of the Little Baseball League will be played Sunday at 1:30 o'clock at Moss Cottage Field, Mt. Savage.

Cochell Puts Sedgman Out Of Net Meet

Larsen Whips Brown In National Singles

By HOWARD SIGMAND

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 1 (INS)—Art Larsen and Dick Savitt, a couple of young men who couldn't make the U. S. Davis Cup team, blasted their way today into the All-American semi-finals of the national tennis championships.

Earl Cochell, a third man scorned by the selectors, ousted Australian ace Frank Sedgman last of the foreign entrants, in the completion of a third round match.

Larsen Whips Brown

Larsen, the sixth-ranked 25-year-old San Francisco redhead with the rhythmic southpaw swing, downed fourth-seeded Tom Brown, Jr., the fellow who scored the only American win in the challenge round, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1, 6-4.

The 23-year-old Savitt won his quarter final match, 8-6, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3, over Sid Schwartz of New York, in a battle of power.

Cochell, the 28-year-old Californian deemed a "bad boy" by the committee, was just that as he came from behind to belt Sedgman, 7-5, 5-7, 1-6, 6-2, 6-2.

This was a completion of yesterday's match called because of darkness. The 22-year-old Sedgman, top foreign seeded and the tourney's choice, had held a 2-1 lead in sets but Cochell was ahead 4 games to 2 in the fourth set.

Seventh-seeded Cochell won out by taking eight of the ten games played today, repeatedly passing the Aussie dynamo who was way off form and erratic.

Larsen's win over Brown can be attributed to the fledgling lawyer's inability to cope with the net. It was always in his way and he drove into it. Larsen, on the other hand, kept the ball on the court with his fine control playing.

The only time Brown looked good was in the second set when his passing shots hit with regularity. He scored 17 placements in this set to 3 for Larsen.

The Savitt-Schwartz match was one of youthful strength. Both youngsters exhibited devastating services and power with both forehand and backhand strokes. Savitt had better control of his drives than his 21-year-old opponent.

Mrs. duPont Scores

Defending champion Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont of Wilmington, Del., and second-seeded Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., moved into the semi-finals in the women's bracket.

Top-seeded Mrs. duPont eliminated Mrs. Pat Todd, La Jolla, Cal., 6-3, 6-4, and Miss Hart stopped Shirley Fry, Akron, O., 6-4, 6-4.

Slo-Mo-Shun Easy Winner

Annexes First Heat In Harmsworth Race

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (INS) — Slo-Mo-Shun, the sensational Seattle speed boat, ran away from the field to win the first 40-mile heat on the Harmsworth Trophy race on the Detroit River late today.

The Stanley Sayres entry, driven by Lou Fageol, took an early two-mile lead and was never challenged by the three other boats in the race.

The challenger, Miss Canada IV, trailed the two other members of the American team, My Sweetie and Such Crust as they finished in that order.

The time of the race was 30:18.08 minutes, with Slo-Mo-Shun's average speed being clocked at 91.127 miles per hour. The Gold Cup winner's fastest average was 94.04 mph on the first five-mile lap.

The race was witnessed by some 75,000 persons lining the river banks along Belle Isle.

Despite choppy waters the time bettered that set by Slo-Mo-Shun in the Gold Cup event early this summer when the Sayres entry averaged 78.217 miles per hour over the 90-mile grind.

The second heat will be run tomorrow at 5:05 p. m., with Slo-Mo-Shun now the certain favorite to win again and take over possession of the international Harmsworth Trophy from Skip-A-Long, last year's winer.

Rolfe Admits Tigers Down, Won't Concede They're Out

Team Dropped 8 Of 12 And Lead On The Road

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers were a weary and somewhat downhearted bunch of ball players as they arrived home today after an eastern road trip which saw them lose eight of 12 games and their American League lead.

Red Rolfe

More than 500 loyal fans and two bands braved an early morning rainstorm to greet the Tigers on their arrival from Washington. But less than a dozen of the players braved the crowd of well-wishers and autograph seekers.

The rest slipped out a side entrance of the railroad station.

Tiger manager Red Rolfe flew home last night ahead of the team and he sounded a battle cry to his Tigers today.

"We may be down, but they haven't buried us yet and I know we'll bounce back into the league lead if we get a few breaks," he said.

His sentiments were echoed by veteran pitcher Paul Dizzy Trout who told the fans, "we hit the bottom on this trip, but from now on we'll get back to winning our share of games."

Rolfe didn't have too much to rejoice about as he thought back over the final eastern road trip.

The Tiger manager was especially upset over the way the Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators each took a series from the faltering Detroiters.

Foes Played Great Ball

"Both those teams played great ball against us, in fact they played about the best brand of baseball we have seen all year," he declared.

Rolfe had a simple explanation for the Tigers' slump on the road trip—"we weren't hitting and our lack of speed on the base paths caught up with us."

A long list of ailments on his squad also caused Rolfe considerable worry and he hastily summoned reenforcements from the Tigers' Toledo farm club today.

He recalled Catcher Joe Ginsberg and first baseman Dick Kryhoski, both of whom will report tomorrow.

"We've got to get a little extra power and these boys may be able to come through if I use them in the right spots," Rolfe explained.

Team Has "Invalids"

Here is how the Tiger "invalids" roster stood today:

Dizzy Trout—bothered with a sore pitching arm. Trout said he would take a lot of heat treatments and hopes to be ready for service Monday.

Hoot Evers—sidelined with a sore wrist since he ran against the fence in Washington this week. X-rays showed no fracture, but he still is unable to play and may be out another week.

Johnny Groth—the Tiger centerfielder reportedly has a sore back and is due to get some heat treatments.

Vic Wertz—the balding outfielder has a sore right foot, sustained when a foul tip bounced off it. Rolfe expressed belief this was partly responsible for Wertz's batting slump which saw him bag only one RBI on the road trip.

Hyndman gained a half game on the idle Potomac Valley Cubs in the battle for the 4th place playoff spot in the County Softball League by defeating Stringtown at the latter place yesterday by the score of 7-0.

Sam Bittner let Stringtown down with two hits, registered his third shutout win as well as his 15th league triumph of the campaign which will end next week with the playing off of several postponed tilts.

Adam Budnick, LaVale's 18-game winner, suffered his first setback since June 30 when the league leaders dropped a 4-3 decision to Corriganville at LaVale Field. Budnick had won seven consecutive games since his last loss at the hands of Narrows Park in June, 10-8. It was his fourth reverse of the campaign.

Glen Kauffman, Corriganville's ace, notched his 21st win of the season. Corriganville collected seven hits including Lindsay's triple and two singles by Kline. Lewis accounted for two of LaVale's eight blows. The loss reduced LaVale's lead over Wellersburg to 1½ games.

Scoring three runs in the 7th frame, Wellersburg took Ellerslie into camp, 3 to 1. The Pennsylvanians collected three of its five hits in the big seventh. J. Emerick collected two singles and Lease banged a triple for the winners. George Wolfe paced the losers with two hits in three trips.

The Narrows Park-Potomac Valley Cubs game was postponed on account of wet grounds. Scores:

Field Goals By Lou Groza Beat Bears

51,076 See Ohioans Cop Exhibition Tilt In Cleveland Park

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1 (AP) — Coach Paul Brown's dashing Cleveland Browns proved tonight what All-America pro football fans have been shouting for years: that they can beat the Chicago Bears. They did, 27 to 23.

But they had the 51,076 Browns' rooters praying for the final gun in the exhibition contest that marked the first time the teams had met.

The difference was the uncanny toe of big Lou Groza, a fixture as a kicker in the Cleveland lineup during the years they coasted along as champs of the old All-America Conference.

Groza booted two field goals, one in the second quarter and again in the fourth. Chicago matched the Browns, touchdown for touchdown, but muffed one extra point and had only one field goal.

As advertised, Cleveland quarterback Otto Graham and the Bears' pass stylist, Johnny Lujack, engineered the scoring plays.

Score by quarters:

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Sale of the Timonium Fair Grounds was put off today at a meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club directors.

The directors have two offers of $500,000 to sell their 73 per cent controlling interest.

But they took no action on either, stating several unnamed matters have to be worked out first.

The next regular meeting of the Jockey Club directors is scheduled for October.

65 Gridders Report For Maryland Drills

COLLEGE PARK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Maryland's football squad got an early start if nothing else on practice today.

A squad of 69 was broken out at 6:45 a. m. to begin practice. It was supper time before they called it a day.

That's the schedule Coach Jim Tatum has outlined up to opening game Sept. 23 against Georgia.

It calls for an early morning practice, breakfast, a blackboard drill, a nap, another workout on the field and then supper. Evening sessions with the blackboard probably will be held from time to time.

Harridge said there will be no replacement on the umpiring staff which now numbers 13.

Sugar Signs For Bout

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Promoter Johnny Attell said today he had signed Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson for a middleweight title fight against Bobo Olson of Hawaii in late September or early October. Olson also has agreed to terms.

Attell said the site of the fight had not been decided, although he had several places in mind. He said it would not be in New York, where Robinson would be obliged to relinquish his welterweight title in order to fight for a championship in a higher weight class.

Jockey Joe Culmone Pilots 29th Winner

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 1 (AP) — Brookmeade Stable's Rocky Heights and Jockey Joe Culmone teamed up to win the top event on today's program at the Atlantic City Race Track.

The 4-year-old son of Piping Rock bounced home a length winner over Charles A. Munn's Cutting Edge while Jerry McCarthy Stables' Polly Delay drove between horses to be third in the field of seven sprinters.

It was only the second triumph in three years of campaigning for Rocky Heights and he paid $16.40, $7.00 and $4.40. Cutting Edge returned $6.40, $4.80 and Polly's Delay, $3.60.

The attendance was 11,304.

Rocky Heights provided Culmone with his second riding victory of the afternoon to boost his total at the meeting to 29, tops for the session. The curly-haired rider who is setting a sizzling pace for his fellow journeymen, was aboard El Pacho, $9.60 winner of the second race.

Whitney Entry Wins

AQUEDUCT, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—The C .V. Whitney entry of Nasophar and Mackle ran one, three in the Corvette Classified Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth before 15,707 fans here today.

Nasophar, ridden by Bobby Permane, broke on top and never was menaced, winning by three lengths in 146 2-5. Brookmeade Stable's Sunny Vale nosed Mackle for the place.

The entry was third choice in the wagering, returning mutuels of $7.60, $3.40 and $3.50. Sunny Vale paid $3.60 and $2.80.

Greentree Stable's Three and Two, the favorite, was never in contention finishing a bad sixth in a seven horse field.

Chagin Captures Rockingham Race

SALEM, N. H., Sept. 1 (AP)—Hugo E. Suhr's seven-year-old Chagin put on a blistering drive through the homestretch before beating Paul Stallone's Dainty Maid by a length and a half in the mile and 30 yards feature race today before a 6,742 crowd at Rockingham Park.

Last turning for home, Chagin came under the wire in 1:43 3-5 as the Melpet Stable's War Toro showed, six lengths back of Dainty Maid and a nose in front of Marvin Level's Dime.

Chagin paid $11.00, $5.80 and $3.60, Dainty Maid returned $6.60 and $4.00 and War Toro $3.20. The Honeywell Stable's Abbe and the Potato Chip Farm's Irish Mist won the first two events for a $337.80 daily double payoff.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

TRUMP LEADS MARKED

BIDDING can be such that the opening leader should know his only sound lead is a trump. That is most emphatically the case when the declarer had bid one major suit, his partner another and they wound up settling into a minor suit contract. It must be clear that the declarer would like to ruff his own major suit losers with whatever trumps the dummy possesses, also that he may even want to ruff the dummy's major with some of his own trumps. Nothing but a trump lead can limit that process.

	♠ A 9 7 2 ♥ K Q 8 6 ♦ 8 ♣ Q 8 5 4
♠ None ♥ J 10 9 5 ♦ A K J 10 7 5 ♣ A 9 2	N W E S	♠ J 10 8 6 5 ♥ 4 2 ♦ Q 6 ♣ 10 7 6 3
	♠ K Q 4 3 ♥ A 7 3 ♦ 9 4 3 2 ♣ K J

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West

Dbl	Pass	Pass	2 ♦
Pass	2 ♠	Dbl	3 ♦
Pass	Pass	Dbl

Funny, but surely highly competitive bidding. When West didn't take himself out of the 3-Diamonds double, East decided his partner must have much better diamonds than hearts and knew what he was doing, since South's opener was made to sound like a psychic.

That was a perfect set-up for North to lead his singleton trump. But he spilled the beans by opening the spade A, which West ruffed. Preparing for a heart ruff, West led the 5. North made an unwise play by using his 8 instead of the 6, and the A had to be used for South to win. He took the trick because he felt that North had no diamonds to lead, but he himself did. He returned one of them, the 2, which the Q won. The heart 2 was led to the J and Q.

North, with no trumps to lead now, offered the club 4, which the A won. Now West ruffed the heart 10, covered by the K, with the dummy's last diamond, the 6. The spade 6 was ruffed, and West now ran the diamond A, K and J plus the now-set-up heart 9. He now had nine tricks and his contract, having lost only two heart tricks, and gleefully gave up two clubs to the opponents, who won them with the club J and spade K.

If North had opened his diamond and South, when in with the heart A, had led another trump, the dummy could not have ruffed at all. West therefore would have lost three tricks in hearts and two in clubs to be down one.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 1 (INS)—Gail Russell comes home from Catalina where she and Guy Madison have been shooting wild boar to make "Air Cadet" at Universal-International. It's a loan from her home base, Paramount.

Steve McNally is the hero after the whisper had been around that Scott Brady was to be the male star. "Air Cadet" gets the cooperation of the Air Force.

If "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" goes to 20th, how about Marilyn Monroe for the diamond-crazy flapper? Betty Grable, doll of the box office, is supposed to be elected for the movie.

But beautiful Betty is very hep, with such a vibrant personality it would be hard to hide her behind Lorelei's dumb facade.

No reflection on Marilyn's I.Q. —but she gave a nifty account of herself playing a none-too-bright blonde in "Asphalt Jungle"—very similar to Anita Loos' lady-like gold-digger.

The more I think back on the charming second anniversary party Rory Calhoun and his Lita gave, the more I like these kids.

When they wheeled in the cake in the Beverly Hills Palm Room, Rory left his end of the table, went down to Lita's side and kissed his pretty wife in front of everybody. Then they danced "The Anniversary Waltz"—the tall and the short of it—with the feather in Lita's cute hat not even high enough to tickle Rory's chin.

Linda Darnell and Pev Marley haven't done any outside dating since their rift. Kind of nice in these days when battling husbands and wives usually walk out of matrimony straight to Ciro's or the Mocambo with a new love.

Linda was in the Mocambo the other night with a married couple. When a roving stag she knows asked her to dance, Linda smiled, "What! and get our pictures taken as the newest twosome?"

With both Linda and Pev being this careful, no one would be surprised if they eventually get together.

After the flareup between Warns and Hal Wallis over getting Charlton Heston, Warners have decided to shelve "Ethan Frome."

This news should also quiet Jane Wyman and others who have been plugging for this classic ever since Bette Davis left the lot.

With Heston relieved of this assignment, it is likely he will make "Quantrell's Raiders" for Wallis this fall while Warners go scouting something new for him.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dixie Crosby won't be back from New York for two weeks—just in time to meet the boys before they take off for school.

Brian Donlevy, very much in love with a lady recently divorced in Europe, has flown to New York to meet her. He's popping the question this trip.

Pretty nice of Annabella,' Ty Power's ex, to send me a personal note from London that "Mister Roberts" is now the big hit in London playing to standees every show.

Garrett School Bids Asked

Offers To Be Submitted By September 20

Oakland Building Model Displayed

OAKLAND—Bids will be opened September 20 for the new Oakland High School building and a similar new school, slightly smaller, to be located in the northern part of the county.

This was announced yesterday by R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools. Hardesty said at least three construction firms are planning to submit bids.

An architect's scale model of the new Oakland building is on display in the window of the West Maryland Power Company in Oakland.

The model gives a clear idea of how the new schools will appear. From the front, the main class room section may be seen, with the auditorium on the left, the gymnasium on the right, cafeteria to rear of the gymnasium and the shop in the rear of the main building.

In the other school building, the gymnasium and cafeteria will be on the left, the auditorium on the right.

According to plans the home economics department will be next to the cafeteria. It was explained that the cafeteria was placed next to the gymnasium so that food could be prepared conveniently to serve banquets for conventions, farm bureau meetings and gatherings of other large groups.

The main section of the Oakland building is 391 feet long, with the auditorium 69 feet wide and the gymnasium 125 feet wide, with overall dimensions of 585 feet. The gymnasium is 132 feet long, the auditorium 158 feet long. Plans call for the Cove building to have a main section of 351 feet, a gymnasium of 125 and an auditorium of 68 feet.

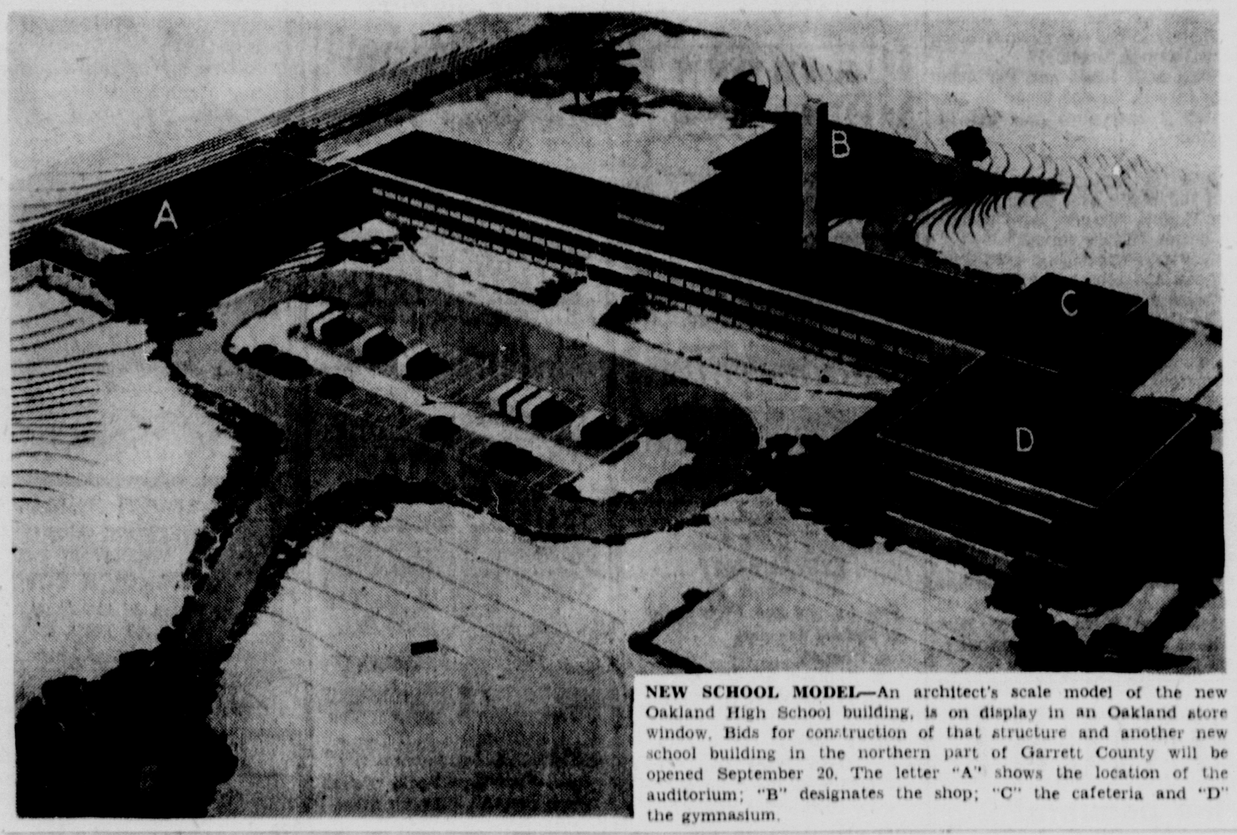
A hard surface court is planned off the gymnasium of each school for playground activities.

The plans of Oakland's first floor section show the music and band room sections on the left, with the arts and crafts section next, then the business machines, business and commercial rooms next. Guidance and conference rooms, the principal's office and general offices are about center. To right of center are the sewing, cooking, home economics rooms, with the kitchen next to the gymnasium and cafeteira.

On the second floor at the left are science rooms with four-student science desks placed, all with running water, gas and electricity. Then there are class rooms and a library with work room. To right of center are more classrooms with a health suite over the gymnasium.

Walls of the building are of fine cinder block, painted, with brick on the outside. Classroom floors are of asphalt tile, with hallway floors of fine texture cement. It was pointed out that cinder blocks and brick are used in a number of newer buildings in Baltimore and other wealthier counties.

Bidders are given four alternates on each school. In addition to the main building the bids are separate on cafeteria, gymnasium, auditorium and shop. The contract will call for completion of buildings in 375 calendar days after the contract is let.



NEW SCHOOL MODEL—An architect's scale model of the new Oakland High School building, is on display in an Oakland store window. Bids for construction of that structure and another new school building in the northern part of Garrett County will be opened September 20. The letter "A" shows the location of the auditorium; "B" designates the shop; "C" the cafeteria and "D" the gymnasium.

Denzil Bowyer was named chairman of the group; Joseph P. Sollars, vice-chairman; and Beeson Snyder, secretary.

LOS ANGELES (INS)—

IN THE midst of a vicious war that has stripped Japan of its U. S. occupation forces, one unsung unit of Gen. MacArthur's headquarters patiently goes about the enormous task of lifting Japan off the American tax-payers' necks.

To comprehend the size of that job, which is progressing remarkably, the reader must know a little about the economic condition of Japan the day five years ago MacArthur arrived at Atsugi airport.

Jap production had fallen off to nine per cent of the wartime peak. Our aerial bombs and naval barrages had totally destroyed 25 per cent of the country's industrial and utilities capacity and materially damaged another third. Millions of workers had fled their wartime places of employment. Korean and Manchurian slave laborers had abandoned the coal mines, and not enough of it was being mined to run what was left of Japan's railroads. Eighty per cent of the textile business had been converted to war work.

The Navy had sent to the bottom one of Japan's main source of revenue, its merchant fleet. Nylon had destroyed all hope that the country's once fabulous silk export trade could be resumed. There was a wild inflation. And the traditional method of tax-collecting remained:

A farcical rite in which a man with money made a private deal with his tax-collector and coughed up only a token payment. Disease and starvation covered the land.

Today the Japanese government, operating under democratic constitution written by Japanese, has been led back a point where it is within $250 million a year of solvency—and this despite the fact that there are now 84 million Japanese where there were only 72 million five years ago. Japan's empire and its resources are gone, and its teeming millions must live in a country smaller than California—and with only one sixth of it fit for cultivation.

If peace is quickly restored in the Pacific, and the long range plans of MacArthur and his economists bear fruit, Japan no longer will be a financial drain on us after the fiscal year 1953.

The nation's heavy industry is back to 60 per cent of its wartime peak. With the destruction of the Zaibatsu—the closely held supercorporation which monopolized and ruled most facets of Japan's economy—free enterprise is flourishing. The Americans have stopped the old Jap trade practice of dumping cheap products on world markets. Jap manufacturers must turn out better products and compete more ethically in world trade.

Unemployed silk workers have turned to the rising cotton textile trade of Japan. India, Pakistan and other sterling area countries that have begun trading with Japan are taking such Jap products as steel, railroad equipment, ships, hydro-electric power equipment, industrial machinery, electrical supplies and the likes. A visit by the Emperor to Japanese coal areas (a move prompted by MacArthur) and extra food rations resulted in widespread replacement by Japanese of departed Manchurian and Korean miners. Theretofore the Japanese considered himself too good to work below the surface of the earth.

The recent dispatching of the first postwar Japanese freighter to Seattle opened another phase of the country's recovery. It is the first Japanese ship to touch a U. S. port since early December, 1941. Right now it costs Japan $250 million a year to hire foreign shipping for its exports.

We have more or less weaned Japan's economic future away from dollar markets and directed its future to the sterling countries. But if the communists complete their seizure of the "rice bowl" of Asia, the hope of such a switch will have to be deferred. And protests will continue to come from U. S. glove manufacturers, fish canners, textile firms and others who don't want to compete against goods produced by Japan's comparatively cheap labor.

The yen, by the way, is backed by neither silver or gold. It is supported by the prestige of MacArthur's occupation, and is about as sound as any currency in the world today. Until the Korean war began, occupation forces were spending $72 million for yen each year, a tremendous help to the Japanese, as is, of course, the fact that Japan does not have to maintain a defense force.

Japanese taxes roughly reflect the U. S. tax system, both in magnitude and collecting codes. Unemployment has seldom reached 500,000 in a working field of 39,000,000 evenly divided between the land and factory. Until the Korean trouble, labor unions, emboldened by the presence of the Americans, were kicking out Communist infiltrators by the tons. All Japan needs is peace in Asia. Under MacArthur, it is headed toward the first balanced budget of its history. If it had not been for the Korean war, Japan's always valuable tourist trade would have begun to reblossom this summer hastening the day when we can present to the world the picture of a conquered country lifted back not only to friendship and trustworthy independence, but solvency.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lichty

"Maybe you thought it wise to put my wife on a low calorie diet, doc . . . but YOU don't have to live with her . . ."

WIFE PRESERVERS

Don't put food on to cook and then take a nap unless you set the alarm to go off when the food is done. You may oversleep, burn the food and fill your house with smoke.

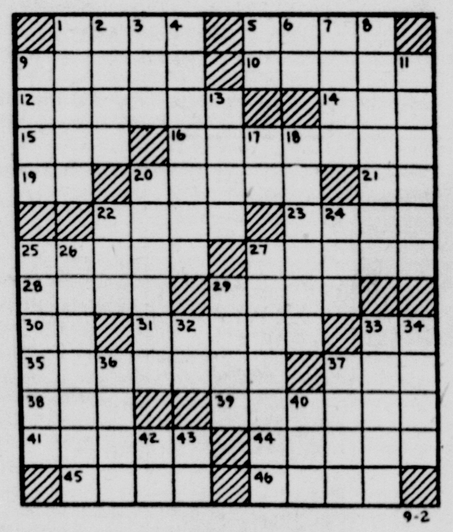
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Q J O C U C K Z O C B G P Z P Q J U P B Z F W:
Q J O C U C P M B C F P P Z P Q J O J C S—
U Q J V V J M.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: SO SWEET, SO SOFT, SO FAINT, IT SEEMED AN ANGEL'S WHISPERED CALL—SCOTT.

Two Traversers Are Paroled

Two traversers were arraigned in Circuit Court yesterday on petitions for trial after waving their rights before a grand jury.

Saul Burns, a transient, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction on a charge of false pretenses. Officials said the charge involved bad checks.

The court suspended both sentences and paroled the two men for three years each. Spiker was told to refrain from use of intoxicants and Burns was told to make restitution in 10 days.

Demand For Auto, TV Issues Puts Life Into Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—A sudden wave of demand for automobile and television shares today brought some life into the stock market.

Gains of a few cents to a more than two dollars a share were the general rule throughout most of the market.

The cause of it was a surprise dividend by Chrysler and an announcement on color television by the Federal Communications Commission.

Other motor issues also were in demand and the buying fever spread gradually to the rest of the market.

The radio-television division came into buying favor after the FCC announced it would make a decision on color television later in the day. One line of reasoning went that the FCC would turn its attention to new television and radio stations through new frequency allocations after the color question was settled. That, of course, would mean a shot in the arm to television producers.

The color decision, made after the market closed, wasn't final but gave a tentative nod of approval to the Columbia Broadcasting System's method.

CBS stocks, which were in demand earlier in the week, declined. Columbia "A" was off ⅞ at 33⅝ and the "B" closed off 2 at 32½.

Zenith was up 2⅛ at 51⅝, Radio Corp. gained ⅞ at 18⅛ and was the day's most active issue, Admiral was up 1⅜ at 28⅜, and Avco closed up ⅛ at 7⅜ as the sixth most active issue. All of the others in the group advanced including Emerson, Philco, Westinghouse Electric, and International Telephone.

Out of the 15 most active issues, five were in the radio-television section and four in the motor group.

Metals had a brief spot in the buying sun at a time when announcements were made of increases in the price of lead and copper by a custom smelter and a producer. Kennecott was up 1½ at 65, American Smelting up ¾ at 59, and Anaconda up ⅝ at 33¾.

There was strength in the rubber section again today with three leaders all gaining a point or more—Goodyear up 1⅜ at 60, Goodrich up 1 at 109¾, and U. S. Rubber up 1⅜ at 46⅜.

Treats For Children

After the parade, for which units will vie for $700 in cash prizes, the celebration will be continued at Crystal Park with a public.

Treats of candy, ice cream and milk will be given to children and they will also be given free tickets to rides at the park.

A speaking program will be held at 2 p. m. with State Senator Robert B. Kimble, George Baldanzi, vice president of the Textile Workers Union of American, CIO, and E. R. White, vice president of the International Association of Machinists being the principal speakers.

A recreation program with Edmund F. Hoey, city recreation director in charge, will be held at 4 p. m. Prizes for various games and contests will be awarded.

The parade will start at Laing Avenue and traverse Virginia Avenue, Maryland Avenue, Williams Street, Park Street, Baltimore Street and disband on South Mechanic Street. A reviewing stand will be located on Park Street near Harrison Street.

These Days

has deteriorated to such a degree that prompt action is necessary to prevent that area from becoming a Soviet satellite. The Chinese Communists may soon gain military control of Manchuria and announce the establishment of a government. Outer Mongolia, already a Soviet satellite, may then recognize Manchuria and conclude a 'mutual support agreement' with a de facto Manchurian government of the Chinese Communists. In that event, the Soviet Union might accomplish a mutual support agreement with Communist-dominated Manchuria, because of her current similar agreement with Outer Mongolia. This would create a difficult situation for China, the United States and the United Nations. Ultimately it could lead to a Communist-dominated China."

Man Killed As Truck Goes Out Of Control

Guy Johnson, 51, Crushed By Wheels

One man was fatally injured and two others slightly hurt yesterday afternon when they jumped from a two-ton truck that went out of control on Frostburg's West Main Street, stopping only when it had torn a large maple tree up by roots.

Trooper First Class Harry S. Bosley identified the dead man as Guy Hubert Johnson, 51, former miner of Grantsville. He was admitted to Miners Hospital, Frostburg, at 2:40 p. m. and pronounced dead at 2:50. The accident accured at about 2:10 p. m.

The driver and owner of the truck, Harper Kelly, Grantsville, and an employe, Albert Broadwater, 41, Grantsville, suffered abrasions of the face, arms and body, Trooper Bosley said. They were treated at Miners Hospital and discharged.

According to the trooper, Kelly discovered his truck brakes had failed when he reached a section of West Main Street across from the Frostburg Auto Company garage and told his companions they would have to jump from the vehicle.

Failed To Clear Truck

Broadwater, the first to jump, landed safely on the right side of the street and rolled under a parked car, the trooper said.

When the truck had rolled about 15 feet farther, Johnson jumped and failed to clear the truck, Trooper Bosley said it is not known whether Johnson's clothing caught or his foot slipped, but he fell under the vehicle and was crushed by the rear wheels.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said Johnson died of loss of blood caused by the rupture of the femoral artery in his right thigh. He also suffered lacerations, compound fracture of the right leg, fractured left thigh and large laceration from the back of his left knee to his heel.

Kelly told Trooper Bosley that realizing he would not be able to stop the truck, he headed it toward a large maple tree in front of the residence of Mrs. Mary Leatherman, 69 West Main Street, on his left side of the street.

The driver remained in the truck until it came within about 25 feet of the tree, Trooper Bosley said, and jumped safely from the cab. The tree, about 12 or 14 inches in diameter, was torn up by the roots.

Two children, Mary Virginia Leatherman, daughter of Mrs. Leatherman, and Ronnie Lee Tewell, a neighbor, were playing on the Leatherman porch, but neither was injured. There was no damage to the porch.

Traffic Hindered

The trooper said Kelly headed the machine toward the tree in order to avoid the more populated downtown Frostburg section.

The truck, which was hauling logs from Grantsville to the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, was demolished, according to Trooper Bosley.

He added that logs rolled all over the immediate vicinity and one-way traffic was set up for an hour. All traffic was detoured for about an hour or hour and a half afterward, he said, to allow time for clearing the wreckage.

Kelly will be questioned in the State's Attorney's office today.

Johnson, a native of Grantsville, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Baker Johnson. He was living with Mr. and Mrs. Kelly. Trooper Bosley said he believed he was helping Kelly with his trucking work.

Surviving are four brothers, John Johnson, Frostburg; Arthur Johnson, Grantsville; James Johnson, Salisbury, Pa. and Jonas Johnson, Grantsville, and two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Miller, Grantsville, and Mrs. James Schombert, Springfield, W. Va. Johnson was unmarried.

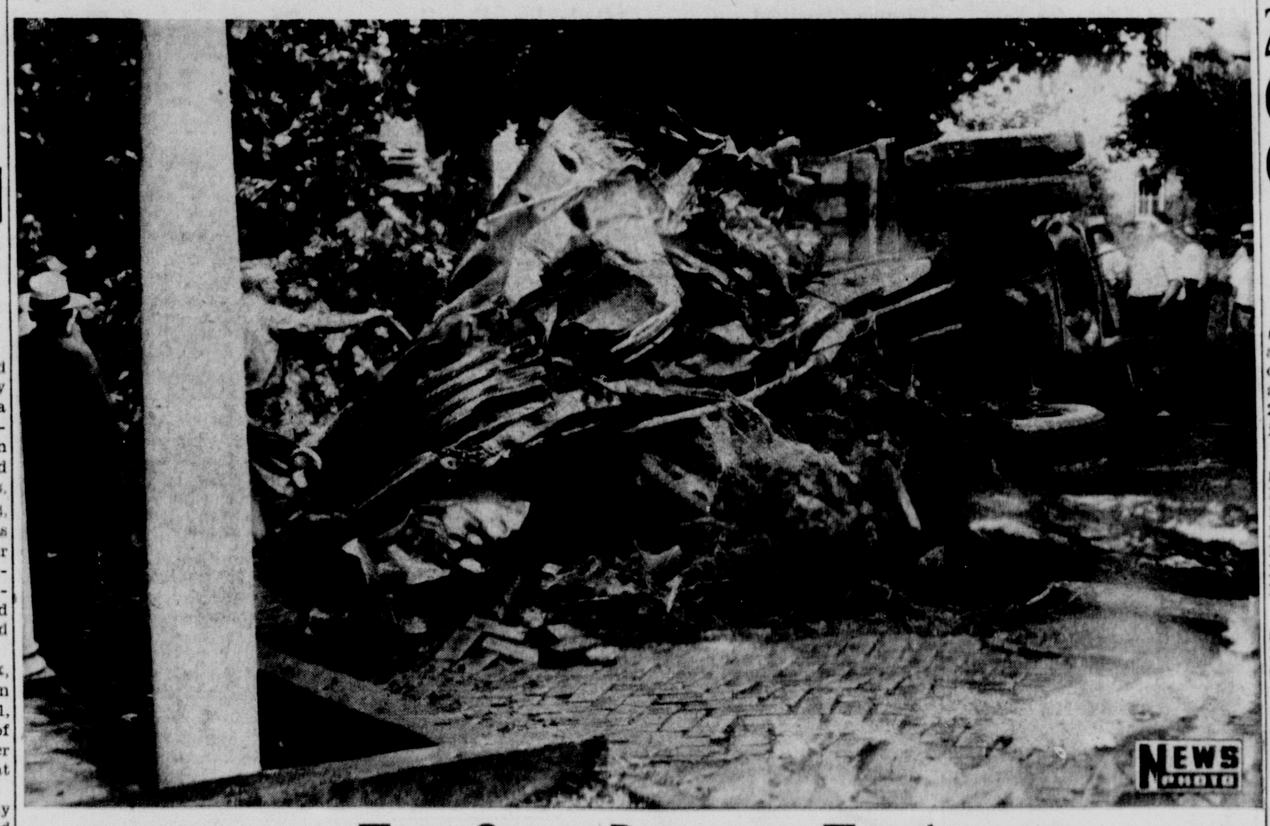
The body is at the Winterberg Funeral Home, Grantsville.

Bigler Gets Degree

Robert L. Bigler, Cumberland, received a degree of master of arts at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, yesterday. The degree was presented at the graduating exercises for the summer class of 1,120. Branch Rickey, president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball club, delivered the commencement address.

Paper Pickup Monday

Despite the Labor Day holiday, waste paper will be collected on all West Side Streets Monday beginning at 9 a. m., according to Emmett A. Dougherty, trucker in charge.



Tree Stops Runaway Truck

A two-ton truck that went out of control yesterday afternoon on West Main Street in Frostburg ended its 300-foot brakeless journey by uprooting a maple tree in front of the residence of Mrs. Mary Leatherman, 69 West Main Stret. One passenger, Guy Hubert Johnson, 51, Grantsville, was fatally injured while trying to jump from the vehicle. Two other Grantsville men, Harper Kelly, driver and owner of the machine, and Albert Broadwater, 41, landed safely, suffering only minor injuries. Two children, Mary Virginia Leatherman, daughter of Mrs. Leatherman, and Ronnie Lee Tewell, a neighbor, were playing on the Leatherman porch (left) when the accident occurred. Neither was hurt. The tree, between 12 and 14 inches in diameter, was uprooted and dragged by the truck before it stopped.

Court Upholds Board's Stand On Car Buying

Rules County Has Discretionary Power

The Board of County Commissioners under existing law has discretionary power in the acceptance of bids on purchases for the county and its various departments, according to an opinion handed down by Associate Judge George Henderson in Circuit Court yesterday.

The opinion resulted from an equity action instituted by Clarence P. Fletcher, trading as Fletcher Motor Sales and Service, against county officials, in an effort to have bids on a new auto set aside.

Fletcher submitted a low bid on a 1951 Kaiser auto for the sheriff's office, while the only other bidder was the Frantz Oldsmobile Company whose bid was $150 more. The board accepted the higher bid, and Fletcher, through his attorneys, argued that the county board is required by law to either accept the low bid or reject all bids and readvertise.

Judge Henderson cited a number of cases at law and wrote in his opinion:

"In purchasing for ourselves we frequently select an article which is not the lowest in price. We do so because we believe we are getting better value through paying a higher price. It is competition in quality or service.

"And it seems more than likely that the wording of the law pertaining to the County Commissioners in making purchases was to entrust them with broader powers of discretion and a wider choice . . . because there were added after 'shall accept the lowest responsible bid' these significant words, 'which shall be considered reasonable by said County Commissioners, or they may, in their discretion, reject all bids'."

Judge Henderson said there was no evidence of irregularity and that the petitioner's bill of complaint did not allege bad faith, favoritism, collusion or any other improper motive on the part of the County Commissioners.

The court dismissed the bill of complaint and sustained the demurrer of the defendant officials.

This means the purchase of the Oldsmobile is a legal purchase.

So far, no active Naval Reserve personnel in the first two pay grades (seaman recruit, firemen apprentice and seaman apprentice) have been called, according to Cmdr. Lewis.

Cmdr. Lewis added that he understands non-trained Naval Reserve personnel who are not members of good standing of an organized division are eligible for the draft.

Non-trained personnel of the first two pay grades who are members of an organized division and are in good standing are deferred from the draft at present, he added.

The local Naval Reserve may still enlist personnel, Cmr. Lewis said, as long as they have not been classified 1A or received a call for pre-induction physicals by their draft board. CB personnel may be enlisted with a rating dependent upon their civilian construction experience.

Persons now members of other components of the Armed Forces must be cleared by their respective services before enlistment in the Naval Reserve.

Cmdr. Lewis said he has no record of inactive Naval Reserve personnel called to active duty.

Area Projects Are Expected To "Go Ahead"

Senators Reply To Walsh Appeal

Virtual assurance that the Cumberland flood control project and the Savage River Dam will go ahead "just about as planned" has been obtained by U. S. Senator Millard E. Tydings (D-Maryland).

Tydings sent a telegram to that effect yesterday to William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland, who urged approval of the two projects in letters to U. S. Senators Tydings and Herbert R. O'Conor earlier this week.

Tydings' telegram said:

"Confirming telephone conversation with you today have expressed to President belief that Savage River Dam and Cumberland flood control projects meet criteria requirements set up in consideration of civil works program and urging that these two projects be so considered.

"Am advised now that if national defense situation does not worsen it would appear as if this work would go ahead just about as planned. Please be assured will continue to keep in close touch with matter."

Walsh contacted Maryland's two senators at the request of the Upper Potomac River Commission and W. Earle Cobey, the latter acting in his capacity as city solicitor.

Senator Tydings' office advised Walsh yesterday that he is keeping in close touch with the White House in support to the projects, and Senator O'Conor sent the following telegram yesterday:

"Have contacted White House and received assurance that projects in advanced stages nearing completion, such as Savage River dam, will be given preferred consideration by President Truman, and that financial provisions for this project remain unchanged."

The copy of Walsh's letter to Senator Tydings follows:

August 29, 1950

Hon. Millard E. Tydings
Senate Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator:

"I note from the local press that the appropriations for the completion of the Savage River dam, which was started in 1930, and is practically completed now, and for the carrying on of the Cumberland flood control program, which was started in 1948, will be approved if these projects qualify under certain requirements which have been set up, and that the final word will come from the President.

"The people of this community are vitally interested in both programs, and I trust you will join with Senator O'Conor in using your combined best efforts to have the appropriations for both of these matters finally approved.

"As you know, the Savage river dam is practically finished, its completion will increase the available flow of water here for industrial purposes, and will aid this community, which has a bad employment situation, in securing new industries, and it would be a shame if anything were allowed to interfere with the completion of the dam.

"Cumberland has had several disastrous floods during the past twenty or twenty-five years, the city has been endeavoring to have an adequate flood control program started here for many years, and since such a program has now been under way for approximately two years, and the work is furnishing some employment in this area, which is a distressed area, it would seem to me that the flood control program would also qualify. Certainly, there are many items in the Omnibus Bill which have not even been started, and there are also many matters which are not as im-

Barbecued beef, corn on the cob, beverages, etc. will be included in the menu. A program of games, music, and softball contests has been arranged.

The Weather

Even the most cheery of souls would have been forced to remark that yesterday's weather was rather ghastly. The afternoon vacillated between .71 inches of rain and high temperatures of 83 degrees in Constitution Park and 82 downtown. The humidity was really making itself felt. The whole disagreeable day came after a night when the lowest readings were 67 degrees in the park and 73 downtown. The late night reading was 75. And, guesst what! The weatherman says the same thing is in store again today.

High Water At City Hall

A heavy downpour yesterday afternoon caused water to back up in City Hall sewers and flooded the basement with ankle deep water. Miss Ella Darling (fourth from left) resident pschiatric social worker in the Mental Hygiene Clinic at City Hall, sent out a call for help when water swirled into her office. William "Barney" Brubaker, City Hall janitor, supplied mops and brooms and the volunteer crew went to work helping him to sweep the water back down the drain in the boiler room. Shown in the picture are (left to right) Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Associated Charities; Misses Dorothy Blake and Virginia Lou Haus, Health Department clerical employes; Miss Darling; Pearl Stewart, Mt. Savage, who gives the clinic rooms their daily cleaning; and Brubaker. Not shown in the picture is Jim Crumbaugh, this city, who was in the Associated Charities office at the time and who volunteered to help.

Dr. Frantz Issues Warning To Builders Outside City

A warning was issued yesterday by Dr. Winter R. Frantz, deputy state health officer, to all purchasers of building lots outside the city limits of Cumberland.

Where there is no public sewage system, all new homes, apartments, hotels, boarding houses, schools, stores, factories, cannerie and other buildings occupied full or part-time and supplied with water under pressure must have an approved type of sewage disposal system, he stated.

Dr. Frantz said there are no public approved sewage systems in any of the following additions:

Narrows Park, Cresaptown, LaVale, Cash Valley, Corriganville, Bedford Road, Bowling Green and Weirs Addition.

Dr. Frantz said the approved type of sewage disposal system must consist of a septic tank, with the effluent to be disposed of by approved underground means.

State law prohibits the discharge of raw or partially treated sewage into any lake, pond, river, bay or other water course.

Before any such sewage disposal system is installed, plans must be submitted to the Allegany County Health Department for approval.

Where a private sewage system is already installed, Dr. Frantz said, sewage from the house must be treated in a septic tank before being discharged into the privat. sewer.

Rain Causes Minor Flood In City Hall Basement

Shortly after lunch yesterday, Miss Ella Darling was conducting an interview in her office at the Mental Hygiene Clinic in City Hall.

Less than half an hour later, Miss Darling had interrupted her regular duties as psychiatric social worker to splash around her office in knee boots, sweeping out water.

Overloaded sewers in the vicinity of City Hall caused water from a heavy downpour to back up into drains in the basement.

Two inches of water flooded the Mental Hygiene Clinic offices and Health Department clinic rooms.

Miss Darling's first warning of the flood came when she found water swirling around her feet at her desk.

The interview was hastily adjourned to the Health Department office in the nearby Public Safety Building, where Miss Darling summoned help.

Meanwhile, William "Barney" Brubaker, City Hall janitor, was cleaning the Council Chamber on the second floor.

By the time he got word of the high water and hurried to the basement to turn a shut-off valve blocking the sewer, the water had reached all parts of the basement.

Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Associated Charities, and Jim Crumbaugh, this city, who was in her office at the time, hurried downstairs to offer assistance in protecting clinic supplies.

They were joined by Miss Dorothy Blake and Miss Virginia Lou Haus, of the Health Department clerical staff.

Miss Darling and Miss Bonig put on rubber boots, while Pearl Stewart, Mt. Savage, who cleans out the clinic rooms daily, took off her shoes to wade through the rooms and sweep out the water.

Some cardboard cartons and boxes of cotton and clean linen in the clinic rooms were damaged.

The Mental Hygiene Clinic was the only office in operation at the time, and Miss Darling piled chairs and other equipment on tables to keep them out of the water.

Her only comment was, "I'm glad I passed my Junior Lifesaving!"

Weather Forecast
Continued rather cloudy, warm and humid today with scattered showers.

Truman Warns, Indicts Russia

Reveals Plans For Doubling Armed Forces

Preventive War Idea Denounced

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — President Truman announced tonight plans for doubling American armed strength to nearly 3,000,000 men.

Mr. Truman warned Russia in a worldwide broadcast not to misjudge American might — further increases may be made, backed by heavier war production and all the vast economic power of this nation. Previously, defense officials had set their sights on 2,500,000 men in uniform by next June 30.

In a report to his countrymen and the world on United States aims and hopes and why we are fighting in Korea, the President gave assurances there will be no general war unless "communist imperialism" drags in other armies and governments.

The United States, the President said, does "not believe in aggressive or preventive war. Such war is the weapon of dictators."

Korean Invasion At Peak

In Korea, Mr. Truman said, "the invasion has reached its peak," and United Nations forces hold "a firm base." He said five American combat divisions are in action — some 75,000 men.

"They are fighting," he said, "for the proposition that peace shall be the law of the earth."

Here at home, the President said, more work and sacrifice will be needed — "we shall have to give up many things we now enjoy."

Next week he plans another "fireside chat" to the people on the impact of the war on them, on what must be done to combat inflation and runaway prices.

Tonight, Mr. Truman reviewed American action and hopes for peace since the last war and set forth an eight-point program of American aims and hopes at the moment. He accompanied this with an almost savage indictment of Russia:

Russia Violates Pledges

"The Soviet Union has repeatedly violated its pledges of international cooperation. It has destroyed the independence of its neighbors. It has sought to disrupt those countries it could not dominate. It has built up tremendous armed forces far beyond the needs of its own defense.

"Communist imperialism preaches peace but practices aggression."

Yet the Chief Executive held the door open for Russia to join in establishing peace in a troubled world.

"We invite all the nations of the

Air War College Head Suspended For "War Talk"

Anderson Favored Attack On Russia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Air Force today suspended Maj. Gen. Orvil A. Anderson as commandant of its air war college after he was quoted as offering to attack Russia's atom bomb centers.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the Air Force, announced the suspension in a statement declaring that the Air Force "first, last and always is primarily an instrument for peace."

It was the second crackdown in a week on a high military figure for "preventive war" talk.

Matthews Called Down

Secretary of the Navy Matthews said last Firday that this country should be willing to start a war if necessary to compel cooperation for peace. Quickly the White House and State Department declared Matthews' views did not represent government policy.

Spokesmen for the White House and State Department stressed prevention of war, and so did Vandenberg in his statement about Anderson.

"The Air Force as a member of the defense team has as its primary purpose the prevention of war," the Chief of Staff said. He did not state directly the cause of Anderson's suspension.

A copyrighted story in the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser a short time before the veteran airman was suspended quoted him as saying:

"Dangerous Assumption"

"Give me the order to do it and I can break up Russia's five a-bomb nests in a week. And when I went up to Christ x x x I think I could explain to Him that I had saved civilization."

Gen. Anderson was quoted by the paper as saying also:

"To assume that the Russians won't use their a-bombs if we sit by and watch them build them is a dangerous assumption."

Newspaper Columnist Drew Pearson said yesterday that Anderson has indicated he favored immediate war with Russia and has been staging lectures in which preventive war is urged. Pearson said there is evidence that Anderson follows a program at the air college of indoctrinating students with the idea of an immediate attack.

Senate Votes War Tax Hike Of 4½ Billions

Puts Off Decision On Profits Levy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Senate approved a $4,508,000,000 "first installment" war tax boost by voice vote tonight after voting 42 to 36 to postpone until next January a decision on an excess profits levy.

The measure now goes to the House and probably to a Senate-House conference to compromise the differences with a bill approved earlier by the house.

An acknowledged "stop - gap" measure to help fight inflation and start paying for the Korean war and rearmament, the bill would hike individual income taxes by about $2,700,000,000 a year.

Ups Corporation Taxes

It would add another $1,500,000,000 to federal coffers through an increase in corporation taxes and gather other millions by plugging "loopholes" and making other tax law changes.

The bill is designed to go into effect for individual taxpayers October 1. On that date, if the bill is enacted into law in time, withholdings on wages and salaries, after personal exemptions, will jump from the present 15 per cent to 18 per cent.

The corporate tax would increase from the present top rate of 38 per cent of the income to 45 per cent.

Drives by Sens. Douglas (D-Ill) and Humphrey (D-Minn) and others to put more revenue-producing provisions into the bill were killed off in rapid fire order, most of them by voice vote.

George, Millikin Score

The successful move to postpone until January a decision on excess profits taxation was engineered by Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate's tax-writing Finance Committee, and Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), the ranking GOP member. George contended careful study is necessary to avoid possibly serious damage to the economic structure.

Their plan, which requires that the excess rates decided upon by the next Congress date back either to Oct. 1, or July 1, 1950, scuttled the proposal of Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Connally (D-Tex) to write into the bill an 85 per cent excess profits levy, effective as of July 1. They argued for an immediate blow aimed at profiteering on the war.

4 Progressives Sign Affidavits

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 1 (AP)—Four Progressive Party candidates signed under protest today affidavits of loyalty but two others still refused so they can test the requirement in court.

The state's so-called Ober law against subversives requires the affidavits to accompany certificates of candidacy for elective office.

Five Progressive Party candidates previously had tried to file for office without the affidavits of their loyalty to state and nation. The Secretary of State, upon advice of Attorney General Hall Hammond, rejected those for governor and U. S. Senate, and the Baltimore City supervisor of elections refused to accept three congressional candidates.

The Progressives promptly filed suit questioning constitutionality of the Ober law.

Signing the affidavits were Sam Fox, U. S. Senate candidate; Marshall Jones, congressional candidate, and Milton Seif and Otto Yerrell, candidates for the state House of Delegates.

FCC Expresses Support For CBS TV Color Method

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — Color television moved nearer to Americans' living rooms today as the Federal Communications Commission, in a long-awaited report, expressed strong favor for a color method developed by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The commission refused to adopt final color television standards at this time.

But it went a long way towards ruling in favor of CBS. In so doing, it held a club, in effect, over the heads of television receiver manufacturers who up to now have refused to turn out black and white sets that would be capable of receiving black and white pictures from a CBS-type color broadcast.

The commission said it will soon do one of these two things:

1. Adopt the CBS method as final, and require all color television to conform to that method.

2. Postpone a final decision by merely "proposing" the CBS method, thus reopening the whole case, providing more time to solve remaining technical problems, and giving rival companies a chance to bring forward better systems if they can.

The choice is up to the manufacturers. Here's why:

Three methods were demonstrated —by CBS, the Radio Corporation of America, and Color Television, Inc., —in lengthy FCC hearings that ended last May.

With Yanks At Korean War Front

U. S. tanks pour a heavy barrage of shells at enemy positions in the Naktong River area of the Korean front (top) during recent fighting in that sector. In the botton photo, released in Washington yesterday, the head and arm of a wounded American soldier hang from a litter as a jeep team moves two battle casualties back to an aid station.

U.N. Council, Under Jebb, Hands Malik Two Defeats

South Korean Envoy To Join Discussions

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 1 (AP)—Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb took over the presidency of the U. N. Security Council today and quickly broke the procedural blockade which Russia's Jakob A. Malik had set up throughout his month as president.

Sitting as delegate for the Soviet Union, however, Malik continued his propaganda campaign against the United States and refused to give ground on any point.

Despite Malik's vigorous protests, the council invited South Korean Ambassador John M. Chang to take part in the Korean discussions. It then turned down the Soviet delegate's demand to extend an invitation to Communist North Korea.

Three Questions On Agenda

By these two decisions the council wound up the procedural wrangle and put itself in a position to begin debate next week on the three questions on its agenda: The Korean conflict, Red China's charges of American aggression against Formosa and Red China's charges of American air attacks on Manchuria.

The Korean question remains at the top of the agenda, but the United States this afternoon circulated a resolution providing for a two-man commission to make an on-the-spot investigation of the alleged air attacks on Manchuria.

Red Challenges Rejected

The first of today's procedural tests came after Malik challenged Jebb's ruling that Chang was entitled to sit at the council table because the council had decided on June 25, the first day of the Korean conflict, to invite him.

The Soviet challenge was rejected 1 to 9, with only Malik himself voting in favor of the challenge.

Malik then submitted a proposal which called on the council to invite representatives of both North and South Korea to the table. This was rejected 2-8.

General Strike Called Against GE By CIO-IUE

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (AP)—A strike against the General Electric Company beginning Tuesday was called today by the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

The IUE claims to represent about 60,000 workers in 32 GE plants located in 25 cities.

Walkouts involving 23,000 workers at five plants in Massachusetts and one in Syracuse, N. Y., were already in progress at the time the union's 50-member General Electric conference board decided on a general strike today.

Wage-Pension Issue

James B. Carey, union administrative chairman, announced the board's action.

The dispute is chiefly over wages and pensions. The IUE seeks a 10-cent-an-hour wage boost on top of a three per cent raise granted by the company July 1.

Earlier today the company said it had offered to raise the three per cent to six per cent, and said this would give its 160,000 employes an average raise of about 10 cents an hour.

GE Vice-President Lemuel R. Boulware said the strike was called "over a six months delay in considering the substitution of a non-contributory pension plan for the current contributory plan."

Rival Union Gets "Invitation"

Boulware said the company had made "many offers."

He quoted Carey as saying the past three days that he would settle for "another two per cent"—either in added pay or in assumption by the company of the two per cent employe contribution to the pension plan.

Carey said members of a rival union, the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (Ind) had been "invited" to join in the strike.

The UE claims about 46,000 workers in 40 GE plants.

Slack Is Indicted

GREENEVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 1 (AP) —A federal grand jury today indicted 44-year-old Alfred Dean Slack on charges of wartime spying for Russia.

7 Die In Crash Of Troop Plane

PARSONS, Tenn., Sept. 1 (AP)—A C-119 troop carrier plane exploded in the air and crashed today, killing seven airmen from the Smyrna, Tenn., Air Force Base.

Two men survived the crash, 10 miles northwest of this town in West Tennessee.

The big ship crashed into a corn field at 12:40 p. m. (CST).

J. C. Partin, retired publisher of the Parsons News-Leader, said he talked to one of the survivors, Sgt. Richard Evans, Oak Lawn, Ill.

"He said he was in the back and didn't know what happened. The plane was flying at 15,000 feet."

The other survivor was identified at Stewart Air Base as Cpl. Joe R. Wooten, Dixie, Ga.

Mrs. Allye Ragsdale, telephone operator at Parsons, said Evans came to her office to report the accident to Smyrna.

Congress Sends Control Measure To White House

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Congress today approved a bill handing to President Truman sweeping powers to force wages, prices, production — and hoarders — into line to wither inflation and win the war.

Upon the President's signature, the authority will be his to use almost as he sees fit. He asked for controls over production and credit. Congress complied in the main. It also threw in the more drastic powers because the legislators feared that otherwise the tremendous war preparedness effort might wreck the economy.

The controls asked by the President on July 19 after the Korean crisis had thrown the nation into broad scale military expansion included: Allocation and priorities necessary to channel facilities and materials into military and essential uses, authority to finance increased production capacity and a large supply of materials, and power to control installment buying and other consumer and real estate credit, together with power to curb speculation in commodities.

Congress withheld authority requested to control commodity speculation.

It refused to allow control of credit on existing housing.

Mr. Truman complained of the two omissions when he wrote Congress on Aug. 18 expressing fear that other proposed amendments would weaken the whole program.

But some of the special features and "strings" were dropped in a lengthy conference committee session, and both houses acted quickly on the committee's agreement.

The House passed the bill by voice vote at mid-day and the Senate did the same a few hours later. The bill reached the White House at 3:07 p. m. (EST).

Under terms of the bill, Mr. Truman is permitted to pick his own price levels if he chooses to invoke ceilings. The bill directs him, however, to give "due consideration" to prices prevailing during the May 24-June 24 period.

Price control could be imposed on any particular item. However, the bill requires that if this was done, the President also would have to stabilize wages in the industry producing the item.

Move To Up Draft Age To 35 Forecast

Vinson Says Vets Might Be Needed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—A move to raise the top draft age from 25 to 35—and possibly draft World War II veterans—was forecast today by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee.

Vinson said his committee will consider both questions in January when the new Congress convenes. The lawmakers now hope to adjourn within two weeks.

Vinson made his prediction as the Senate and House turned the throttle wide-open to clear vital defense legislation before they leave town.

Doctors Draft Approved

In major developments:

1. Both chambers quickly approved a bill authorizing a draft of physicians and dentists, through age 50, for 21 months military service.

2. The Senate passed and sent to the White House a five-year $250,000,000 program to construct training armories for the National Guard and other reserve forces. Costs would be split on a basis of 75 per cent U. S. funds and 25 per cent state funds.

The measure cleared the House yesterday.

3. President Truman asked Congress for $6,000,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation to provide for its stepped-up activity resulting from "the changed international situation."

Home Guard Bill Endorsed

4. A bill to set up a home guard in case there is general mobilization, as in World War II, was approved by a Senate Armed Services Subcommitte.

5. Opposition by some key House leaders apparently doomed President Truman's plan to scatter federal agencies outside the range of an atomic bomb attack on Washington —perhaps 10 to 50 miles away.

6. An administration bill to enlarge the Coast Guard ran into opposition from Chairman Vinson of the House Armed Service Committee.

Rail Switchmen Win Pay Boost

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The White House tonight announced settlement of a long wage dispute between the AFL Switchmen's Union and ten western railroads.

The agreement calls for a 23-cent hourly wage increase.

It is expected to have an influence on a parallel controversy between the nation's railroads and the trainmen and conductors' unions.

The latter dispute resulted in a strike call and seizure last Sunday of the railroads by the government to prevent tying up the lines.

The trainmen and conductors are asking for 48 hours' pay for a 40-hour week for yard workers and wage adjustments for those in train service.

The switchmen previously had struck five of the 10 railroads with which it has contracts. The switchmen's demands also were for 48 hours' pay for 40 hours' work.

The date set for that walkout was June 25. The strike was called off on four of the railroads but the union refused to work on the Rock Island. The government seized the railroad and obtained a court injunction whereupon the 1,500 switchmen on that line went back to work July 8.

25th Division Fights To Stem Tank-Led Push

Second Division Retakes Yongsan

TOKYO, Saturday, Sept. 2 (AP)—North Korean communists and tanks struck at dawn today against American lines west of Masan on the second day of a 50,000-man offensive against a 55-mile segment of the United Nations defense.

This blow was against the U. S. 25th Division at the southern end of the battle perimeter 35 miles west of the reds' big objective, the lifeline port of Pusan. The reds were reported under orders to take Masan, 27 air miles west of Pusan, in three days—or by tomorrow at the latest.

Further north, red reinforcements streamed across the Naktong River to build up a threatening wedge in the U. S. Second Division's position defending Yongsan. That town is within 11 miles of another red goal, the Taegu-Pusan highway.

Two hundred Navy and Marine carrier based planes swarmed over the Second and 25th Divisions, pouring down a deadly fire that added to communist casualties already totalling between 2,000 and 3,000 dead and 6,000 wounded since the drive opened early Friday.

15 Red Tanks Kayoed

Yesterday Air Force pilots reported knocking out 15 red tanks and damaging nine others. Ground reports listed seven other tanks destroyed.

Frontline dispatches from Associated Press correspondents outlined this situation this morning:

1. A tank-supported assault hit U. S. 25th Division lines about nine miles west of Masan. At least two wild "suicide" attacks were made against the U. S. Fifth Regimental Combat Team.

2. Communist reinforcements poured across the Naktong in the wide beachhead opposite the U. S. Second Division. The Second, supported by tanks, recaptured Yongsan and cleaned out light pockets of North Korean resistance. The Second had pulled back to heights overlooking the burning city yesterday.

At two other points on the east and northwest ends of the 120-mile battle perimeter, United Nations forces launched attacks today.

North of recaptured Pohang, east coast port, U. S. infantry and tanks were reported in action by Associated Press Correspondent Tom Lambert. They sought to recover high ground lost recently by South Koreans.

First Cavalry Attacks

Near Weawan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, Associated Press Correspondent Leif Erickson said elements of the U. S. First Cavalry Division launched a 10 a. m. attack seeking to seize three hills used by the reds as observation posts.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton said the tank-led punch west of Masan was begun

Defense Dept. Says U. S. War Casualty Toll Exceeds 6,886

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Defense Department announced today that the total of notified battle casualties in Korea through midnight of Aug. 25 was 6,886.

This includes 443 killed in action, 3,889 wounded and 2,554 missing in action.

The figures do not reflect all casualties suffered up to Aug. 25 because of the time required to receive reports from the front and to notify the next of kin.

The summary said 60 wounded have returned to duty and 70 men, previously reported as missing, have returned to military control.

Army casualties were 6,567; Navy, 27; Marine Corps, 194, and Air Force, 98.

Probers Told Entertainers "Exploited" By Subversives

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Josh White, negro folk singer, testified today that he and many other entertainers have been "used and exploited by people who give allegiance to a foreign power."

White told the House Un-American Activities Committee he had given his time or signature to groups with "fine sounding titles" only to learn some were "phony false political rackets exploiting my eagerness to fight injustice."

He said he had never knowingly joined or supported any organization designed to overthrow this government.

The singer appeared voluntarily. He was followed by three former government officials under subpoena who one by one refused to answer questions about communism.

The three were John J. Abt, Nathan Witt and Charles Kramer, named this week by Lee Pressman as onetime fellow members in a communist cell in Washington.

White said that a statement of Negro Baritone Paul Robeson that "negroes would not fight for their country, against Soviet Russia or any other enemy, is both wrong and an insult."

White told the committee he is not and never has been a communist. He said he cut short a recent concert tour of Europe after learning he was "being attacked back home as 'fronting for the communists.'" He returned, he said, "to expose that lie."

Weather Forecast
Continued rather cloudy, warm and humid today with scattered showers.

REDS AIM MAJOR BLOW AT MASAN

Truman Warns, Indicts Russia

Reveals Plans For Doubling Armed Forces

Preventive War Idea Denounced

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — President Truman announced tonight plans for doubling American armed strength to nearly 3,000,000 men.

Mr. Truman warned Russia in a worldwide broadcast not to misjudge American might — further increases may be made, backed by heavier war production and all the vast economic power of this nation. Previously, defense officials had set their sights on 2,500,000 men in uniform by next June 30.

In a report to his countrymen and the world on United States aims and hopes and why we are fighting in Korea, the President gave assurances there will be no general war unless "communist imperialism" drags in other armies and governments.

The United States, the President said, does "not believe in aggressive or preventive war. Such war is the weapon of dictators."

Korean Invasion At Peak

In Korea, Mr. Truman said, "the invasion has reached its peak," and United Nations forces hold "a firm base." He said five American combat divisions are in action — some 75,000 men.

"They are fighting," he said, "for the proposition that peace shall be the law of the earth."

Here at home, the President said, more work and sacrifice will be needed — "we shall have to give up many things we now enjoy."

Next week he plans another "fireside chat" to the people on the impact of the war on them, on what must be done to combat inflation and runaway prices.

Tonight, Mr. Truman reviewed American action and hopes for peace since the last war and set forth an eight-point program of American aims and hopes at the moment. He accompanied this with an almost savage indictment of Russia:

Russia Violates Pledges

"The Soviet Union has repeatedly violated its pledges of international cooperation. It has destroyed the independence of its neighbors. It has sought to disrupt those countries it could not dominate. It has built up tremendous armed forces far beyond the needs of its own defense.

"Communist imperialism preaches peace but practices aggression."

Yet the Chief Executive held the door open for Russia to join in establishing peace in a troubled world.

"We invite all the nations of the

Air War College Head Suspended For "War Talk"

Anderson Favored Attack On Russia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Air Force today suspended Maj. Gen. Orvil A. Anderson as commandant of its air war college after he was quoted as offering to attack Russia's atom bomb centers.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the Air Force, announced the suspension in a statement declaring that the Air Force "first, last and always is primarily an instrument for peace."

It was the second crackdown in a week on a high military figure for "preventive war" talk.

Matthews Called Down

Secretary of the Navy Matthews said last Firday that this country should be willing to start a war if necessary to compel cooperation for peace. Quickly the White House and State Department declared Matthews' views did not represent government policy.

Spokesmen for the White House and State Department stressed prevention of war, and so did Vandenberg in his statement about Anderson.

"The Air Force as a member of the defense team has as its primary purpose the prevention of war," the Chief of Staff said. He did not state directly the cause of Anderson's suspension.

A copyrighted story in the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser a short time before the veteran airman was suspended quoted him as saying:

"Dangerous Assumption"

"Give me the order to do it and I can break up Russia's five a-bomb nests in a week. And when I went up to Christ x x x I think I could explain to Him that I had saved civilization."

Gen. Anderson was quoted by the paper as saying also:

"To assume that the Russians won't use their a-bombs if we sit by and watch them build them is a dangerous assumption."

Newspaper Columnist Drew Pearson said yesterday that Anderson has indicated he favored immediate war with Russia and has been staging lectures in which preventive war is urged. Pearson said there is evidence that Anderson follows a program at the air college of indoctrinating students with the idea of an immediate attack.

Senate Votes War Tax Hike Of 4½ Billions

Puts Off Decision On Profits Levy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Senate approved a $4,508,000,000 "first installment" war tax boost by voice vote tonight after voting 42 to 36 to postpone until next January a decision on an excess profits levy.

The measure now goes to the House and probably to a Senate-House conference to compromise the differences with a bill approved earlier by the house.

An acknowledged "stop - gap" measure to help fight inflation and start paying for the Korean war and rearmament, the bill would hike individual income taxes by about $2,700,000,000 a year.

Ups Corporation Taxes

It would add another $1,500,000,000 to federal coffers through an increase in corporation taxes and gather other millions by plugging "loopholes" and making other tax law changes.

The bill is designed to go into effect for individual taxpayers October 1. On that date, if the bill is enacted into law in time, withholdings on wages and salaries, after personal exemptions, will jump from the present 15 per cent to 18 per cent.

The corporate tax would increase from the present top rate of 38 per cent of the income to 45 per cent.

Drives by Sens. Douglas (D-Ill) and Humphrey (D-Minn) and others to put more revenue-producing provisions into the bill were killed off in rapid fire order, most of them by voice vote.

George, Millikin Score

The successful move to postpone until January a decision on excess profits taxation was engineered by Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate's tax-writing Finance Committee, and Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), the ranking GOP member. George contended careful study is necessary to avoid possibly serious damage to the economic structure.

Their plan, which requires that the excess rates decided upon by the next Congress date back either to Oct. 1, or July 1, 1950, scuttled the proposal of Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Connally (D-Tex) to write into the bill an 85 per cent excess profits levy, effective as of July 1. They argued for an immediate blow aimed at profiteering on the war.

4 Progressives Sign Affidavits

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 1 (AP)—Four Progressive Party candidates signed under protest today affidavits of loyalty but two others still refused so they can test the requirement in court.

The state's so-called Ober law against subversives requires the affidavits to accompany certificates of candidacy for elective office.

Five Progressive Party candidates previously had tried to file for office without the affidavits of their loyalty to state and nation. The Secretary of State, upon advice of Attorney General Hall Hammond, rejected those for governor and U. S. Senate, and the Baltimore City supervisor of elections refused to accept three congressional candidates.

The Progressives promptly filed suit questioning constitutionality of the Ober law.

Signing the affidavits were Sam Fox, U. S. Senate candidate; Marshall Jones, congressional candidate, and Milton Seif and Otto Yerrell, candidates for the state House of Delegates.

FCC Expresses Support For CBS TV Color Method

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) — Color television moved nearer to Americans' living rooms today as the Federal Communications Commission, in a long-awaited report, expressed strong favor for a color method developed by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The commission refused to adopt final color television standards at this time.

But it went a long way towards ruling in favor of CBS. In so doing, it held a club, in effect, over the heads of television receiver manufacturers who up to now have refused to turn out black and white sets that would be capable of receiving black and white pictures from a CBS-type color broadcast.

The commission said it will soon do one of these two things:

1. Adopt the CBS method as final, and require all color television to conform to that method.

2. Postpone a final decision by merely "proposing" the CBS method, thus reopening the whole case, providing more time to solve remaining technical problems, and giving rival companies a chance to bring forward better systems if they can.

The choice is up to the manufacturers. Here's why:

Three methods were demonstrated —by CBS, the Radio Corporation of America, and Color Television, Inc., —in lengthy FCC hearings that ended last May.

U.N. Council, Under Jebb, Hands Malik Two Defeats

South Korean Envoy To Join Discussions

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 1 (AP)—Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb took over the presidency of the U. N. Security Council today and quickly broke the procedural blockade which Russia's Jakob A. Malik had set up throughout his month as president.

Sitting as delegate for the Soviet Union, however, Malik continued his propaganda campaign against the United States and refused to give ground on any point.

Despite Malik's vigorous protests, the council invited South Korean Ambassador John M. Chang to take part in the Korean discussions. It then turned down the Soviet delegate's demand to extend an invitation to Communist North Korea.

Three Questions On Agenda

By these two decisions the council wound up the procedural wrangle and put itself in a position to begin debate next week on the three questions on its agenda: The Korean conflict, Red China's charges of American aggression against Formosa and Red China's charges of American air attacks on Manchuria.

The Korean question remains at the top of the agenda, but the United States this afternoon circulated a resolution providing for a two-man commission to make an on-the-spot investigation of the alleged air attacks on Manchuria.

Red Challenges Rejected

The first of today's procedural tests came after Malik challenged Jebb's ruling that Chang was entitled to sit at the council table because the council had decided on June 25, the first day of the Korean conflict, to invite him.

The Soviet challenge was rejected 1 to 9, with only Malik himself voting in favor of the challenge.

Malik then submitted a proposal which called on the council to invite representatives of both North and South Korea to the table. This was rejected 2-8.

The latter dispute resulted in a strike call and seizure last Sunday of the railroads by the government to prevent tying up the lines.

The trainmen and conductors are asking for 48 hours' pay for a 40-hour week for yard workers and wage adjustments for those in train service.

The switchmen previously had struck five of the 10 railroads with which it has contracts. The switchmen's demands also were for 48 hours' pay for 40 hours' work.

The date set for that walkout was June 25. The strike was called off on four of the railroads but the union refused to work on the Rock Island. The government seized the railroad and obtained a court injunction whereupon the 1,500 switchmen on that line went back to work July 8.

25th Division Fights To Stem Tank-Led Push

Second Division Retakes Yongsan

TOKYO, Saturday, Sept. 2 (AP)—North Korean communists and tanks struck at dawn today against American lines west of Masan on the second day of a 50,000-man offensive against a 55-mile segment of the United Nations defense.

This blow was against the U. S. 25th Division at the southern end of the battle perimeter 35 miles west of the reds' big objective, the lifeline port of Pusan. The reds were reported under orders to take Masan, 27 air miles west of Pusan, in three days—or by tomorrow at the latest.

Further north, red reinforcements streamed across the Naktong River to build up a threatening wedge in the U. S. Second Division's position defending Yongsan. That town is within 11 miles of another red goal, the Taegu-Pusan highway.

Two hundred Navy and Marine carrier based planes swarmed over the Second and 25th Divisions, pouring down a deadly fire that added to communist casualties already totalling between 2,000 and 3,000 dead and 6,000 wounded since the drive opened early Friday.

15 Red Tanks Kayoed

Yesterday Air Force pilots reported knocking out 15 red tanks and damaging nine others. Ground reports listed seven other tanks destroyed.

Frontline dispatches from Associated Press correspondents outlined this situation this morning:

1. A tank-supported assault hit U. S. 25th Division lines about nine miles west of Masan. At least two wild "suicide" attacks were made against the U. S. Fifth Regimental Combat Team.

2. Communist reinforcements poured across the Naktong in the wide beachhead opposite the U. S. Second Division. The Second, supported by tanks, recaptured Yongsan and cleaned out light pockets of North Korean resistance. The Second had pulled back to heights overlooking the burning city yesterday.

At two other points on the east and northwest ends of the 120-mile battle perimeter, United Nations forces launched attacks today.

North of recaptured Pohang, east coast port, U. S. infantry and tanks were reported in action by Associated Press Correspondent Tom Lambert. They sought to recover high ground lost recently by South Koreans.

First Cavalry Attacks

Near Weawan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, Associated Press Correspondent Leif Erickson said elements of the U. S. First Cavalry Division launched a 10 a. m. attack seeking to seize three hills used by the reds as observation posts.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton said the tank-led punch west of Masan was begun

Defense Dept. Says U. S. War Casualty Toll Exceeds 6,886

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Defense Department announced today that the total of notified battle casualties in Korea through midnight of Aug. 25 was 6,886.

This includes 443 killed in action, 3,889 wounded and 2,554 missing in action.

The figures do not reflect all casualties suffered up to Aug. 25 because of the time required to receive reports from the front and to notify the next of kin.

The summary said 60 wounded have returned to duty and 70 men, previously reported as missing, have returned to military control.

Army casualties were 6,567; Navy, 27; Marine Corps, 194, and Air Force, 98.

Probers Told Entertainers "Exploited" By Subversives

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Josh White, negro folk singer, testified today that he and many other entertainers have been "used and exploited by people who give allegiance to a foreign power."

White told the House Un-American Activities Committee he had given his time or signature to groups with "fine sounding titles" only to learn some were "phony false political rackets exploiting my eagerness to fight injustice."

He said he had never knowingly joined or supported any organization designed to overthrow this government.

The singer appeared voluntarily. He was followed by three former government officials under subpoena who one by one refused to answer questions about communism.

The three were John J. Abt, Nathan Witt and Charles Kramer, named this week by Lee Pressman as onetime fellow members in a communist cell in Washington.

White said that a statement of Negro Baritone Paul Robeson that "negroes would not fight for their country, against Soviet Russia or any other enemy, is both wrong and an insult."

White told the committee he is not and never has been a communist. He said he cut short a recent concert tour of Europe after learning he was "being attacked back home as 'fronting for the communists.'" He returned, he said, "to expose that lie."

Six East German Reds Are Purged

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (AP)—Six high officials of the East German communist regime, including the deputy to Propaganda Chief Gerhardt Eisler, were reported under arrest tonight after banishment from the red-ruled Socialist Unity Party for anti-Sovietism.

Berlin speculated that Eisler, himself, may be next on the purge list. Eisler lost his place on the Central Committee of the party in a recent shakeup. But the pudgy international revolutionary, a fugitive from American justice, was still reported at liberty.

The Russia zone Politburo warned that the purge would slash deeper "until foul liberalism is finished."

Walter Ulbricht, former Moscow expatriate who is now East German deputy chancellor and secretary-general of the party, led the attack against the veteran red comrades, who once were exiles in Western Europe.

He accused them of postwar connections with "American Spy Noel H. Field" and forming a "nest of class enemies" inside the party hierarchy.

All were charged with "lacking trust in the Soviet Union as the leading progressive force, in which no doubt is possible."

Reliable information indicated the six who were banished had been jailed by the Soviet zone Ministry of State Security in advance of the purge announcement today. The zonal press office said it could neither confirm nor deny the report.

North Korean Troops Use Midget Mortar

ON THE MASAN FRONT IN KOREA, Saturday, Sept. 2 (AP)—The North Korean army unveiled a new weapon in its southwest front offensive Friday.

U. S. infantrymen described it as a midget mortar which threw shells about the size of an American handgrenade.

Philly Hotels Will Find Room For Fans

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1. (INS)—Irate Philadelphia hotel keepers declared today there will be room for all at world series time, and that a scheduled brewers' convention will not cause a room shortage tight enough to force the Philadelphia portion of the series to be moved elsewhere.

All this was predicted, of course, on the likely notion that the Flying Phils are going to win their first National League pennant in 35 years.

The rhubarb broke open with a report in today's Boston American stating that Baseball Commissioner Chandler will be asked to shift the Philadelphia series dates to another city because of the hotel situation.

world, without exception," he said, "to join with us in this great work."

In stating his eight aims, the President again tried to steer Communist China away from involvement in the Korean conflict.

The points:

1. We believe in the United Nations.
2. We believe Koreans have a right to be free.
3. We don't want the Korean fighting to expand into general war.
4. We particularly hope the Chinese people won't be misled into fighting the United Nations and the American people who still are their friends. Only communist imperialism, which already has started dismembering China, could gain from China's involvement.
5. We want none of Asia, Formosa included, for ourselves.
6. We believe in freedom for all Far Eastern nations.
7. We do not believe in aggressive or preventive war.
8. We want peace and "we shall achieve it."

Navy Wife Has Triplets

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 1 (AP) — Mrs. Delmar R. Haynes, wife of a chief medical corpsman at the Naval Academy hospital, gave birth to triplet daughters yesterday.

"It's wonderful — I guess," said Haynes, who comes from Eastaboga, Ala. His wife is a former Baltimore girl.

The newcomers weighed 5 pounds 2 ounces, 4 pounds 14 ounces, and 5 pounds 4½ ounces. Navy doctors said today they are doing well.

Mahoney Lashes Out At Lane's "Policy"

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 1 (AP)—Gov. Lane's policy is "tell the people anything and when you get in, do as you please," George P. Mahoney told an audience of 500 tonight in the Masonic Temple.

The principal opponent of the Governor for the Democratic nomination declared that Lane promised before his election to reduce taxes and 30 days afterward increased them.

"In the history of the state never has any governor pulled a fast trick like that," Mahoney said.

Marylanders Paying 23% More Sales Tax

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Marylanders are paying 23 per cent more sales taxes than they were a year ago.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes reported today that collections on taxes for July amounted to $2,667,298. That was $501,077 more than collected for the same month a year ago.

So far this fiscal year which is two months old, sales tax collections amount to $5,325,213, an increase of $926,365 over the same 1949 period.

at 5 a. m. after the reds had shelled the sector for an hour.

Swinton reported other red forces hits 25th Division positions in its "central sector"—north of Masan—causing the defenders to withdraw.

An American artillery battery fought its way out of one embattled position by lowering its guns and employing point plank fire. Joining in the withdrawal were engineers fighting as infantrymen.

Swinton's report from the southern sector added up to a renewal of the offensive launched yesterday which for a time overran the town of Haman, eight and a half miles northwest of Masan which appeared to be the reds' immediate objective. Last night had been comparatively quiet after yesterday's operation—the biggest coordinated communist push of the Korean war.

Gov. Lane Says Mahoney Wages "Me Too" Campaign

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1 (AP)—Gov. Lane said today that George P. Mahoney, his opponent for the Democratic nomination, is conducting a "me too" campaign.

"Mr. Mahoney is for all the improvements this administration has made, and is making, but all he says is that he can, in some mysterious way, do it as well and at the same time stop spending the money these improvements are costing," a Lane statement read.

For instance, the Governor stated, Mahoney "has finally settled down for a watered-down promise that he hoped to do something eventually about the sales tax if elected.

"Nearly a month after I informed the people of Maryland that there was a very definite possibility that we could completely exempt low-cost meals and raise the tax bracket from 14 cents to 24 cents, and that if state finances would permit, that this exemption bracket for all purposes could be increased to as much as 50 cents, he comes forward with a promise to make it 34 cents."

Meanwhile, Kenneth R. Hammer, a past commander of the American Legion and active in Mahoney's campaign, went after the Governor on a veterans' bonus.

Hammer asked the Governor why he waited "until the very last day in the 1950 session of the Legislature to announce his opposition to the bonus bill that had been introduced approximately 30 days before?"

Governor Lane, on the day before adjournment, advised the legislature he would not consider a bonus bill unless a way to pay it was included.

"Pop" Spanks Son, Dislocates Shoulder

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 1 (AP) — G. E. Sullenberger, 35, Lancaster, dislocated his shoulder today while spanking his nine-year-old son.

But commented Sullenberger: "It hurt me more than the boy — so we just called it a draw and forgave each other."

Heiress Ordered To Pay Alimony

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1 (AP)—A wealthy wife today was ordered to pay $250 a month temporary alimony to her husband, a disabled Marine veteran.

Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle, ordered Mrs. Joyce Primrose Boozer, 44, heiress to a $3,000,000 fortune, to pay the amount pending trial of a separate maintenance action brought against her by Edward F. Boozer, 37, who was disabled at Guadalcanal. He asked $500 a month for support.

However, the judge limited the temporary alimony to a period of seven months.

At an earlier hearing Boozer testified that his wife "spoiled" him and accustomed him to a life of ease. Mrs. Boozer has sued to divorce Boozer, alleging adultery.

FCC Expresses

All of them would require new type receivers, or drastic changes in present receivers, to get color pictures. But the RCA and CTI methods were such that the 7,000,000 black and white receivers now in American homes would be capable of receiving the pictures in black and white. Because of this quality, the RCA and CTI methods were known as "compatible."

The CBS method was not compatible. Present sets could not pick up the broadcasts, even in black and white, without certain alterations in the receivers.

Nevertheless the FCC said today that the CBS method is by far the best of the three. It ruled out the RCA and CTI systems as falling short of the commission's criteria for color video.

"Midget Missionaries" To Win Friends For U. S.

If this country is to succeed in nailing Soviet lies and substituting the truth, if it is to win friends on both sides of the iron curtain, the Voice of America must not only be sent out in high-frequency impulses but picked up for the ears of men and women. That will require radio receiving sets.

Nearly $3,000,000 of the $62,000,000 now agreed upon for the Voice of America has been earmarked for "midget radios." They will be distributed abroad by whatever means are available. Some of them may be openly and proudly displayed in schools, public halls, and on living room tables, in countries like France, Italy, Greece, Indo-China and Japan.

Others probably will be scattered about India and baited with enough native music to draw audiences in many a public square or marketplace.

There will be still other little sets for use abroad. Attempts probably will be made to smuggle them into Russia as well as the Soviet satellites in Europe. Efforts will be made to send some into China. Not many of these sets can be put in plain view or operated on turned-up volume. Many will be found and confiscated, and their users punished or tortured.

But the hope is for sets in cellars, attics and woods; in desk drawers and thatched huts and stables. Anywhere people of courage can gather on the quiet, taking their chances of sudden arrest.

How can the midget missionaries be kept out of the black markets of France (let's say)—or be smuggled to rebel patriots in the Ukraine? Well, that's to be worked out. Washington can call upon the services of refugees in contact with colleagues of the underground back home. Somehow the little sets find their way to those dark and hidden places.

Television has cut conversation in the home 50 per cent, according to a survey, apparently wiping out father's 20 per cent and reducing the better half's by 30 points.

Flight To The Country

As the experts see it, there are two main reasons for the current flight to the country by hordes of erstwhile city dwellers.

Farm land has suddenly become popular again, and in several midwestern states farm land values have hit an all time high. This is a trend that was tentatively under way before the Korean war broke. Good crops and the price support program have made farming look attractive to thousands who ordinarily would have stuck to a city apartment or to a postage-stamp-sized suburban plot.

The other pressure seems to be one of decentralization, which has been accelerated in some areas by threat of bombing by an eventual aggressor. This trend has had most force, as might be expected, in the most highly industralized regions, although national surveys seem to point out exceptions.

New York City newspapers have ads urging consideration of country places and estates at distances farther than extreme commuter range. Some openly urge people to get away from bombs. Others are more delicate about it.

Whatever the reason, the fact remains there is a firm trend back to the land. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture small, part-time and residential farm units have increased sharply in numbers. Perhaps the best barometer lies in the fact that farm and values have recouped from their slump of late 1948, although they are still lower than they were immediately after the war.

There is more money in circulation than ever before. The citizen, seeing it coming and going, will regard "circulation" as an understatement.

Mao And Korea

Chinese Nationalist sources say three Chinese communist armies already are inside North Korea, and more are on the border. U. S. Army intelligence also reports a concentration of Chinese communist troops on the Korean border.

It is possible that Moscow has already taken the long view and written off the successful prosecution of the Korean war by North Koreans alone. Russia's aim now may be to get Chinese red forces in there and pitching as soon as possible. It would be desirable, from the communist viewpoint, to cloak this new invasion with a legality of sorts. This might explain the claim of "invasion" by U. S. and British planes put forth by the Mao regime.

There is another theory that is worth examining. It may be that Mao fully realizes the role of the Korean Peninsula in the future of communist China. If, for instance, the western frontier of freedom is to follow a line running southwest from Japan, through Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines, then Korea, strategically, should come into communist possession. To anyone schooled in Russian thought and action, the device of launching an invasion by cleaming attack by the intended victim would seem perfectly natural.

All the evidence isn't in yet. But where there's this much smoke there's suspicion of fire.

Dr. Seagrave, Burma surgeon, arrested on suspicion of aiding the reds, should have stuck to pink pills.

Challenge To Motorists

This may be harping on an old subject, but too much emphasis cannot be placed on safe driving. With the last long weekend of the season at hand a new challenge is presented motorists.

With 40,000,000 cars on the streets and highways for three days and nights, there is great danger the death list will equal or surpass the Fourth of July holocaust.

Speed is relative. There are times when it is less hazardous than at others. On an open and uncongested highway, especially in daylight, it is safe to drive faster than in city traffic. But even so prudent driving calls for common sense and good judgment at all times.

The car must be kept in safe operating condition. The person at the wheel must have normal faculties and, above all, be sober. So long as he is handling a motor car going at any speed he must have consideration for his own life and the lives of others.

Death lurks on every street and highway for those who do not exercise the greatest possible caution.

Allergens In Bronchial Asthma

SEVERAL years ago we took our neighbors to visit the Valley View Farm where there are many beautiful horses. The children were given a pony to ride and a half hour later we were horrified at the appearance of one of the youngsters. His face was covered with blotches and tears were streaming from his inflamed eyes. Then he began to sneeze and exhibited all the signs of marked nasal congestion. The boy was allergic to horse dander and we found out later that he encountered a similar reaction whenever he came into contact with these animals.

Dr. Harold M. Camp of Monmouth, Ill., tells a story about his father, who was bothered in a somewhat similar fashion except that the attack was followed by asthma. It was a tragedy so far as he was concerned because the senior Camp was a country physician and had to make all of his distant calls on horseback or by horse and buggy. By the time he reached his destination he often was sicker than his patient. There was no man in the world any happier than he on the day he bought his first model T.

Asthma is a broad term meaning any condition in which wheezing occurs. Bronchial asthma is more specific, however, in that wheezing is due to an allergic disturbance. Other symptoms include cough and shortness of breath. When a bout comes on, many sufferers are unable to lay down because of difficulty in breathing. Some sit up all right in a chair or lean forward, resting their arms and head on a pillow or card table. According to Dr. Leon Unger, the character of the wheezing varies; sometimes it is quiet and can be picked up only with a stethoscope. In others, it is so loud that the sound can be heard in the next room. Most of the noise occure in expiration because the individual has difficulty in forcing air out of the lungs because of partial obstruction of the bronchi.

If the cause is known, half the battle is won. This is better than all the remedies in the world, especially when the provoking agent can be avoided. Those who are sensitive to horses, for example, may have no more trouble so long as they never come into contact with the noxious dander. The irritant is determined by skin testing. In susceptible persons, a large hive-like lesion develops over the site where the sensitizing agents are placed on the skin.

There are hundreds of potential troublemakers, including dog and cat hair, cosmetics, and many foods. At this time of the year, ragweed is producing not only hay fever but, in some, asthma. Dust also is an offender and a miserable one at that because of its prevalence. Almost all cities have these particles floating about. A housewife suffering from dust allergy would have difficulty cleaning without the use of a good vacuum cleaner and its attachments. Sweeping and dusting bring on bouts of asthma and the whiskbroom is an item or torture because it merely shifts the particles from one place to another. The asthma victim appreciates a rubber mattress because it does not harbor dust; air conditioning has been a lifesaver.

If the cause cannot be avoided an attempt should be made to acquire artificial immunity through desensitization shots. When this is not successful, medicines such as adrenalin and iodides are resorted to. The antihistaminic drugs which are so helpful in other allergic conditions, have not worked well in asthma.

U. S. Military Get Cabinet Rebuff On Strategic Materials Failure; Ex-Speaker Joe Martin Finds That Bachelordom Pays

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—At every Cabinet meeting, President Truman makes the rounds of all present and asks if they have anything to report. At a recent meeting, Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, said:

"I think I should tell you, Mr. President, that the stockpiling program is a total failure, or almost so—due to the inability of the military and the munitions board to tell us what strategic materials they need.

"We have been after them for months to tell us," Symington continued, "but we can't get the answers. And it's impossible to stockpile intelligently unless we know what the military will need for war."

As Symington gave further details, Secretary of Defense Johnson's face turned a bright red. The Munitions Board is directly under him. It and the military are supposed to decide what strategic materials the nation needs in case of war; and following their decision the National Security Resources Board is supposed to acquire them.

Symington's report caused some Cabinet members to believe that the military's woeful mistake regarding inadequate bazookas sent to Korea and the complete failure to look ahead re U. S. tanks are not isolated cases. They fear the military has not looked ahead on other vital problems.

Frugal Joe Martin

Democratic Congressman Foster Furcolo and Thomas Lane of Massachusetts were joshing their fellow-stater, House Republican Leader Joe Martin, about his exemplary habits.

"I understand, Joe, that you don't smoke," said Lane.

"That's right," said the ex-Speaker.

"Don't drink, either, do you?" asked Furcolo.

"Nothing stronger than grape juice," replied Martin.

"Bachelor; too?"

Martin nodded.

"Then you must be mighty rich," observed Lane.

"The truth is that I'm only moderately fixed, but it's good to hear somebody called a rich Republican again," slyly retorted Martin. "You Democrats have all the money these days."

Money For Capehart

Some years ago the U. S. Senate refused to seat Senator Frank L. Smith of Illinois because he spent $100,000 in a hot primary campaign. But now, in the neighboring state of Indiana, GOP Senator Homer Capehart has spent the staggering sum of $91,961.84 in his primary campaign, even though he had no opponent. Capehart's senatorial salary for six years is $75,000, to obtain which he has already spent $91,961.84.

It will now be interesting to watch how must the "music box senator" will spend in his general election, in which he faces a terrific battle from dynamic Democrat Alex Campbell.

The chances are that the money will continue to roll in from his wealthy backers. For Capehart had such an easy time raising money that he collected $99,679.35, or $7,717.51 more than he spent. His chief bank-rollers were the Lilly Pharmaceutical people of Indianapolis, who fattened the kitty by about $20,000.

Some of Capehart's campaign expenditures are equally interesting. Though he had no primary opponent, he reported to the Indiana secretary of State that he spent almost $40,000 in salaries for campaign workers; also, $6,268.89 for radio and newspaper advertising, $2,000 for recordings and $74 for "flowers."

Other expenditures included $2,804.15 for "rent" (presumably office space and hotel lodgings); $1,431.87 for general "expenses" and $1,059.00 for "postage." Of course, some of this was undoubtedly an advance investment aimed at the final election and was justified by the fact that Capehart faces the political battle of his life.

Most modest entry in Homer's campaign report was $2.50 for "repairs." Indiana Democratic leaders are speculating that this was used to mend "one little political fence" somewhere in the state.

Two McCarthys

A clerk spotted a young, freshman congressman seated at a House Armed Services Committee recent hearing and requested his name for the record.

"McCarthy," was the reply.

"From Wisconsin?" asked the clerk.

"No—Minnesota. I'm the Democratic McCarthy in Congress."

"Just so there won't be any mistake about his identity," spoke up Representative Pat Sutton of Tennessee, "be sure to make his first name Gene instead of Joe."

Note—No relation to the irrepressible Senator Joe, Representative Eugene McCarthy has been doing a quiet, effective job in various constructive fields, including veterans' welfare legislation.

Gambler's Threat

Conscientious Senator Hunt of Wyoming, of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, has received a threatening letter, warning that if he sticks his nose too far into the gambling syndicate he might be "rubbed out." Postmarked "Boston" and written in careful, intelligent English, this was no crackpot letter.

Instead of being intimidated, Senator Hunt introduced an amendment to the tax bill to force gamblers to pay a 99 per cent income tax on all their winnings. This would put most of the gamblers out of business.

Merry-Go-Round

New Mexico's Senator Chavez was so attentive to movie actress Linda Darnell in showing her around the Capitol recently that he whisked her away from admiring page boys. . . . The Russians have started jamming the radios of the U. S. Seventh Fleet now stationed off Formosa. In addition, the Air Force has reported Russian jamming of its radio network in California and Alaska. This could be serious. It makes quick communication impossible . . . Congratulations to the Machinists Union and Lockheed Aircraft of Burbank, Calif., for their "buck of the month" club. Each worker contributes one buck a month to help sick children, needy families, and disabled war veterans—$2,000,000 raised so far . . . A naval officer in the Pentagon guided missiles section started a new crop of "flying saucer" rumors the other day by passing off "flying saucer" toys as authentic models. (He had bought them in the Pentagon drugstore) . . . Senator McCarran of Navada has made a political football of a bill that would grant American citizenship to 3,000 Korean immigrants—at a time when we are trying to win friends in Korea. McCarran has doctored up the bill with so many of his pet security measures that Senate Majority Leader Lucas has been forced to hold it up.

GOP Backs War "To Hilt" But Will Blast Policy

By MARK SULLIVAN

IT hardly needed to be made official. Yet making it so helps to clarify the situation to the public. Democratic National Chairman Boyle says that in the Congressional campaign the Democrats will "not discuss foreign policy." That was an easy promise for the Democratic chairman to make. Warningly he suggests that the Republicans had better practice the same silence. He says that "if the Republicans try to use the Korean war as a political situation, it will rebound against them."

Here the Democratic chairman mentions two things distinguishable from each other—the "Korean War" and "foreign policy." The distinction is valid. And it is preserved by Republican National Chairman Gabrielson in the reply he makes. Mr. Gabrielson says that the Republicans will back the Korean War "to the hilt." But as to the foreign policy which led up to the Korean war he says that "Republicans have no intention of joining in any . . . conspiracy of silence." That policy, Mr. Gabrielson says, will "be reviewed completely."

Impose Silence

This announcement is a departure by the Republicans. From the time we became involved in the Second World War, in December 1941, the Republicans in the Senate practiced bi-partisanship on foreign policy. The course the Administration took thus became, technically if not actually, a Republican policy as well as a Democratic one. Because of this, and on the theory that there should be national unity in time of war, the Republicans refrained from making foreign policy an issue in political campaigns. The self-imposed restraint was continued in the Presidential campaign of 1948.

The Republicans are now through with self-imposed restraint. While supporting the war in Korea "up to the hilt," they are going to "review completely" the past foreign policy of the Administration, the part that led up to Korea. In doing this the Republicans must dwell on the fall of China to Communism, and the degree to which the Truman administration was responsible for the fall, as well as the degree to which President Roosevelt was responsible.

That the fall of China would result in a Korea, a military advance of Communism in our direction at one point or another, the Truman administration had abundant warning. As early as 1947, public statements by military experts and others, including military leaders, explained in detail how the taking over of China by Communism would as a matter of distance put us at an extreme military disadvantage, would set back by hundreds of miles the line at which we could defend ourselves against any attack by Russia. The warnings were broader than military, and one of them came from a source extraordinarily convincing. In 1945 the then head of the Communist party in America, William Z. Foster, admonishing his followers to work against any intervention by us in China said: "The war in China is the key to all problems of the international front and it is here, above all else, where we have to deal the hardest blow . . on the international scale."

Republicans criticizing the Truman administration about China would do detriment to their argument, and historians would do detriment to fact, if they assumed that our share of responsibility for the fall of China was merely negative, merely a failure to extend financial help. For that the Truman administration has an answer. We did give some financial help and for not giving more had a reason. We were already extending so much help to threatened countries in Western Europe that we could not spare more for China.

What greatly harmed the Nationalist government of China under Chiang Kai-shek and greatly helped the Communists attempting to defeat him, were affirmative actions by our government. In 1946 we publicly urged Chiang Kai-shek to take the Communists into a coalition government. To the Chinese people, who attach great weight to prestige, to what they call "face," that was a sign that we did not support Chiang Kai-shek.

The most affirmative and deadly of the harms we did to the Nationalist government of China was an action by President Roosevelt at Yalta in February 1945. He, in a conference with Stalin about Russia taking part in a war against Japan, promised Stalin in a formal agreement that after the war Russia should have territory occupied by Japan, part of it formerly owned by China, part on the border of China. It was from these places, and with arms and other advantages acquired by Russia after the defeat of Japan, as a result of the Yalta agreement, that the Communist drive to overcome China got leverage and momentum. After the magnitude of the disaster to us, that the fall of China was, is realized and the magnitude of its place in the present world struggle has effect, Yalta will have a place in history equivalent to any of the decisive battles that have changed the course of the world.

Does U. S. Plan To Scuttle Policy Toward Formosa?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1—Is the United States Government trying to wiggle out of its entanglement in defending Formosa and thus make diplomatic concessions to certain European governments and pave the way for appeasement of communist China and its possible admission to the Security Council of the United Nations?

This question may well be asked now in view of the startling announcement by President Truman to his press conference that, as soon as the Korean episode is over, it would not be necessary to keep the U. S. Navy's Seventh Fleet in the Straits of Formosa. Mr. Truman added that the presence of this fleet in that position was just a flank protection for our forces in Korea.

This is not only an amazing contradiction of the strategy which the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff cannot but have developed for the protection of the Japan-Okinawa-Philippines perimeter of our defense, but it is a complete disavowal of the military views of General Douglas MacArthur, recently given, as to the importance of defending Formosa.

Causes Apprehension

It is something even more important—it could be construed by the Chinese communists as an open invitation to them to occupy Formosa, just as the American pronouncement of last January that our defense line didn't include Korea gave encouragement to the communists to march below the 38th Parallel.

Mr. Truman's comment has sent a shiver of apprehension through certain quarters in Congress, where it had been believed that the United States was standing firmly in the Far East and that appeasement of communist China was unthinkable.

What is also disturbing is that either the President has now projected himself as a military expert superior to his own Joint Chiefs of Staff and to General MacArthur, or else that he is weakening in favor of some State Department chicanery to ease the path of Great Britain and other countries with commercial interests in the Far East who want to continue to trade with an maintain diplomatic relations with communist China.

The argument all along in some quarters—especially in communist circles—has been that to defend Formosa would entangle us in a war with communist China. The opposite is true—failure to defend Formosa after America has publicly declared that it doesn't belong to communist China and must be neutralized until the treathy with Japan disposes of the question of trusteeship may indeed cause war with China. It could come if the communists, perceiving American weakness, started an aggression similar to that in Korea, only to be met by a sudden decision by the United States to throw in sea forces to protect Formosa.

Is this why General MacArthur risked a reprimand and spoke out so plainly on how important to the defense of Continental United States the retention of Formosa in friendly hands appears to be?

Did General MacArthur know of the campaign of appeasement going on in Washington, and did he suspect that Formosa was to be tossed over to the communists? Did he feel that, as a soldier and as the man selected to represent the United Nations in command of all the armed forces in the Far East, he should speak out so that the American people at least would know about the scuttling policy that might be under consideration this very week?

Fundamental Principle At Stake

It seems strange that General MacArthur would just send out an indiscreet statement. It is more logical to believe that he took the risk because he thought a fundamental principle affecting the nation's defenses was at stake. To say that the Department of State or the President alone can speak on "foreign policy" and that nobody else should be allowed to speak, even when a grave question of national defense is concerned, does not explain away the strange circumstances surrounding this episode.

Whom did General MacArthur have in mind when he wrote this paragraph:

"Nothing could be more fallacious than the threadbare argument by those who advocate appeasement and defeatism in the Pacific that if we defend Formosa we alienate Continental Asia."

Was MacArthur's statement a last desperate attempt to ward off another Munich in the Far East—a quick way to end the Korean war by conceding to the communists what they have wanted from the beginning—admission to the position of another veto in the Security Council? If so, then doesn't it seem that the appeasement should have begun on June 25 last? A lot of American boys would be alive today and lots more would not be suffering from the grievous wounds they received as a result of the sudden decision to defend Korea two months ago.

These Days By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Ghost Doth Ride

THESE two events are not unrelated:

1. The controversy between President Truman and General Douglas MacArthur over Formosa;

2. The admission of Lee Pressman that he, John Abt, Nathan Witt, Charles Kramer and others had been members of the Harold Ware cell of the Communist party, designed to infiltrate the highest positions in government.

The connection is that were it not for the machinations of these intellectual Communists in the State Department and the Treasury Department, it is unlikely that Nationalist China would have collapsed and Soviet Russia would not so readily have been able to add China to the federation of Soviet socialist republics. Had China not been conquered, General MacArthur would not today be leading an army in Korea, and he would not have become involved in a controversy with the President over Formosa.

Therefore, a full congressional investigation might be made, now that Lee Pressman has opened the door, into the destruction of China's currency by the Treasury Department of the United States. Such an investigation might go into the activities of Harry Dexter White, Harold Glasser, Charles Kramer and Frank Coe.

Chiang Kai-Shek was a popular leader among his people since 1924 until the currency of his country became so depreciated as to be worthless. The beginning of this was the Silver Purchase Act of 1934, passed by the Congress of the United States.

China's currency was based on a silver standard. When the United States raised the price of silver from 30 cents an ounce to $1.29, the silver of China flowed to the United States. One of the arguments in favor of the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 was that it would aid the economy of China. Anyone familiar with the economy of China knew that it could only do damage, particularly to China's exports.

China sent commissions and representatives to this country to plead against this madness, which did them so much harm and did us no good. As K. P. Chen, manager of the Shanghai Commercial Savings Bank, once said:

". . . The rise of the silver price brought in its wake, as far as China is concerned, falling prices, shrinkage of currency, destruction of industries and business, a greater deficit in the government's budget, and increasing chaos in society."

This is a mild description of what happened. Then President Roosevelt began to give China advisers. Some, like Laughlin Currie and Owen Lattimore, actually went to China; others drew ornate plans in the Treasury Department. Loans were made to China to help her off a bad spot, but these loans always involved an agreement to reform something in that country, and after the reform was introduced, the currency situation became worse.

It would be vitally important, if we are to get at the facts, to study not only the activities of the U. S. Treasury, but also of the RFC. In connection with these various loans and credits and stabilizations, it would be advantageous to note which Americans acted as counsel for the Chinese borrowers. It might also be of advantage to study the role of that amazing Pole, Ludvic Rajchman, who is no longer attached to the Chinese but is a representative of Communist Poland in the United Nations.

General Douglas MacArthur, who knows how vital Formosa is to the defense of the United States on the Japan - Okinawa - Philippines line, has really issued a warning to the American people. In 1947, before it was too late, General Wedemeyer reported:

"The situation in Manchuria

"Midget Missionaries" To Win Friends For U. S.

If this country is to succeed in nailing Soviet lies and substituting the truth, if it is to win friends on both sides of the iron curtain, the Voice of America must not only be sent out in high-frequency impulses but picked up for the ears of men and women. That will require radio receiving sets.

Nearly $3,000,000 of the $62,000,000 now agreed upon for the Voice of America has been earmarked for "midget radios." They will be distributed abroad by whatever means are available. Some of them may be openly and proudly displayed in schools, public halls, and on living room tables, in countries like France, Italy, Greece, Indo-China and Japan.

Others probably will be scattered about India and baited with enough native music to draw audiences in many a public square or marketplace.

There will be still other little sets for use abroad. Attempts probably will be made to smuggle them into Russia as well as the Soviet satellites in Europe. Efforts will be made to send some into China. Not many of these sets can be put in plain view or operated on turned-up volume. Many will be found and confiscated, and their users punished or tortured.

But the hope is for sets in cellars, attics and woods; in desk drawers and thatched huts and stables. Anywhere people of courage can gather on the quiet, taking their chances of sudden arrest.

How can the midget missionaries be kept out of the black markets of France (let's say)—or be smuggled to rebel patriots in the Ukraine? Well, that's to be worked out. Washington can call upon the services of refugees in contact with colleagues of the underground back home. Somehow the little sets find their way to those dark and hidden places.

Television has cut conversation in the home 50 per cent, according to a survey, apparently wiping out father's 20 per cent and reducing the better half's by 30 points.

Flight To The Country

As the experts see it, there are two main reasons for the current flight to the country by hordes of erstwhile city dwellers.

Farm land has suddenly become popular again, and in several midwestern states farm land values have hit an all time high. This is a trend that was tentatively under way before the Korean war broke. Good crops and the price support program have made farming look attractive to thousands who ordinarily would have stuck to a city apartment or to a postage-stamp-sized suburban plot.

The other pressure seems to be one of decentralization, which has been accelerated in some areas by threat of bombing by an eventual aggressor. This trend has had most force, as might be expected, in the most highly industralized regions, although national surveys seem to point out exceptions.

New York City newspapers have ads urging consideration of country places and estates at distances farther than extreme commuter range. Some openly urge people to get away from bombs. Others are more delicate about it.

Whatever the reason, the fact remains there is a firm trend back to the land. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture small, part-time and residential farm units have increased sharply in numbers. Perhaps the best barometer lies in the fact that farm and values have recouped from their slump of late 1948, although they are still lower than they were immediately after the war.

There is more money in circulation than ever before. The citizen, seeing it coming and going, will regard "circulation" as an understatement.

Mao And Korea

Chinese Nationalist sources say three Chinese communist armies already are inside North Korea, and more are on the border. U. S. Army intelligence also reports a concentration of Chinese communist troops on the Korean border.

It is possible that Moscow has already taken the long view and written off the successful prosecution of the Korean war by North Koreans alone. Russia's aim now may be to get Chinese red forces in there and pitching as soon as possible. It would be desirable, from the communist viewpoint, to cloak this new invasion with a legality of sorts. This might explain the claim of "invasion" by U. S. and British planes put forth by the Mao regime.

There is another theory that is worth examining. It may be that Mao fully realizes the role of the Korean Peninsula in the future of communist China. If, for instance, the western frontier of freedom is to follow a line running southwest from Japan, through Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines, then Korea, strategically, should come into communist possession. To anyone schooled in Russian thought and action, the device of launching an invasion by cleaming attack by the intended victim would seem perfectly natural.

All the evidence isn't in yet. But where there's this much smoke there's suspicion of fire.

Dr. Seagrave, Burma surgeon, arrested on suspicion of aiding the reds, should have stuck to pink pills.

Challenge To Motorists

This may be harping on an old subject, but too much emphasis cannot be placed on safe driving. With the last long weekend of the season at hand a new challenge is presented motorists.

With 40,000,000 cars on the streets and highways for three days and nights, there is great danger the death list will equal or surpass the Fourth of July holocaust.

Speed is relative. There are times when it is less hazardous than at others. On an open and uncongested highway, especially in daylight, it is safe to drive faster than in city traffic. But even so prudent driving calls for common sense and good judgment at all times.

The car must be kept in safe operating condition. The person at the wheel must have normal faculties and, above all, be sober. So long as he is handling a motor car going at any speed he must have consideration for his own life and the lives of others.

Death lurks on every street and highway for those who do not exercise the greatest possible caution.

Allergens In Bronchial Asthma

SEVERAL years ago we took our neighbors to visit the Valley View Farm where there are many beautiful horses. The children were given a pony to ride and a half hour later we were horrified at the appearance of one of the youngsters. His face was covered with blotches and tears were streaming from his inflamed eyes. Then he began to sneeze and exhibited all the signs of marked nasal congestion. The boy was allergic to horse dander and we found out later that he encountered a similar reaction whenever he came into contact with these animals.

Dr. Harold M. Camp of Monmouth, Ill., tells a story about his father, who was bothered in a somewhat similar fashion except that the attack was followed by asthma. It was a tragedy so far as he was concerned because the senior Camp was a country physician and had to make all of his distant calls on horseback or by horse and buggy. By the time he reached his destination he often was sicker than his patient. There was no man in the world any happier than he on the day he bought his first model T.

Asthma is a broad term meaning any condition in which wheezing occurs. Bronchial asthma is more specific, however, in that wheezing is due to an allergic disturbance. Other symptoms include cough and shortness of breath. When a bout comes on, many sufferers are unable to lay down because of difficulty in breathing. Some sit up all night in a chair or lean forward, resting their arms and head on a pillow or card table. According to Dr. Leon Unger, the character of the wheezing varies; sometimes it is quiet and can be picked up only with a stethoscope. In others, it is so loud that the sound can be heard in the next room. Most of the noise occure in expiration because the individual has difficulty in forcing air out of the lungs because of partial obstruction of the bronchi.

If the cause is known, half the battle is won. This is better than all the remedies in the world, especially when the provoking agent can be avoided. Those who are sensitive to horses, for example, may have no more trouble so long as they never come into contact with the noxious dander. The irritant is determined by skin testing. In susceptible persons, a large hive-like lesion develops over the site where the sensitizing agents are placed on the skin.

• — • — •

There are hundreds of potential troublemakers, including dog and cat hair, cosmetics, and many foods. At this time of the year, ragweed is producing not only hay fever but, in some, asthma. Dust also is an offender and a miserable one at that because of its prevalence. Almost all cities have these particles floating about. A housewife suffering from dust allergy would have difficulty cleaning without the use of a good vacuum cleaner and its attachments. Sweeping and dusting bring on bouts of asthma and the whisk-broom is an item or torture because it merely shifts the particles from one place to another. The asthma victim appreciates a rubber mattress because it does not harbor dust; air conditioning has been a lifesaver.

If the cause cannot be avoided an attempt should be made to acquire artificial immunity through desensitization shots. When this is not successful, medicines such as adrenalin and iodides are resorted to. The antihistaminic drugs which are so helpful in other allergic conditions, have not worked well in asthma.

U. S. Military Get Cabinet Rebuff On Strategic Materials Failure; Ex-Speaker Joe Martin Finds That Bachelordom Pays

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—At every Cabinet meeting, President Truman makes the rounds of all present and asks if they have anything to report. At a recent meeting, Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, said:

"I think I should tell you, Mr. President, that the stockpiling program is a total failure, or almost so—due to the inability of the military and the munitions board to tell us what strategic materials they need.

"We have been after them for months to tell us," Symington continued, "but we can't get the answers. And it's impossible to stockpile intelligently unless we know what the military will need for war."

As Symington gave further details, Secretary of Defense Johnson's face turned a bright red. The Munitions Board is directly under him. It and the military are supposed to decide what strategic materials the nation needs in case of war; and following their decision the National Security Resources Board is supposed to acquire them.

Symington's report caused some Cabinet members to believe that the military's woeful mistake regarding inadequate bazookas sent to Korea and the complete failure to look ahead re U. S. tanks are not isolated cases. They fear the military has not looked ahead on other vital problems.

Frugal Joe Martin

Democratic Congressman Foster Furcolo and Thomas Lane of Massachusetts were joshing their fellow-stater, House Republican Leader Joe Martin, about his exemplary habits.

"I understand, Joe, that you don't smoke," said Lane.

"That's right," said the ex-Speaker.

"Don't drink, either, do you?" asked Furcolo.

"Nothing stronger than grape juice," replied Martin.

"Bachelor; too?"

Martin nodded.

"Then you must be mighty rich," observed Lane.

"The truth is that I'm only moderately fixed, but it's good to hear somebody called a rich Republican again," slyly retorted Martin. "You Democrats have all the money these days."

Money For Capehart

Some years ago the U. S. Senate refused to seat Senator Frank L. Smith of Illinois because he spent $100,000 in a hot primary campaign. But now, in the neighboring state of Indiana, GOP Senator Homer Capehart has spent the staggering sum of $91,961.84 in his primary campaign, even though he had no opponent. Capehart's senatorial salary for six years is $75,000, to obtain which he has already spent $91,961.84.

It will now be interesting to watch how must the "music box senator" will spend in his general election, in which he faces a terrific battle from dynamic Democrat Alex Campbell.

The chances are that the money will continue to roll in from his wealthy backers. For Capehart had such an easy time raising money that he collected $99,679.35, or $7,717.51 more than he spent. His chief bank-rollers were the Lilly Pharmaceutical people of Indianapolis, who fattened the kitty by about $20,000.

Some of Capehart's campaign expenditures are equally interesting. Though he had no primary opponent, he reported to the Indiana secretary of State that he spent almost $40,000 in salaries for campaign workers; also, $6,268.89 for radio and newspaper advertising, $2,000 for recordings and $74 for "flowers."

Other expenditures included $2,804.15 for "rent" (presumably office space and hotel lodgings); $1,431.87 for general "expenses" and $1,059.00 for "postage." Of course, some of this was undoubtedly an advance investment aimed at the final election and was justified by the fact that Capehart faces the political battle of his life.

Most modest entry in Homer's campaign report was $2.50 for "repairs." Indiana Democratic leaders are speculating that this was used to mend "one little political fence" somewhere in the state.

Two McCarthys

A clerk spotted a young, freshman congressman seated at a House Armed Services Committee recent hearing and requested his name for the record.

"McCarthy," was the reply.

"From Wisconsin?" asked the clerk.

"No—Minnesota. I'm the Democratic McCarthy in Congress."

"Just so there won't be any mistake about his identity," spoke up Representative Pat Sutton of Tennessee, "be sure to make his first name Gene instead of Joe."

Note—No relation to the irrepressible Senator Joe, Representative Eugene McCarthy has been doing a quiet, effective job in various constructive fields, including veterans' welfare legislation.

Gambler's Threat

Conscientious Senator Hunt of Wyoming, of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, has received a threatening letter, warning that if he sticks his nose too far into the gambling syndicate he might be "rubbed out." Postmarked "Boston" and written in careful, intelligent English, this was no crackpot letter.

Instead of being intimidated, Senator Hunt introduced an amendment to the tax bill to force gamblers to pay a 99 per cent income tax on all their winnings. This would put most of the gamblers out of business.

Merry-Go-Round

New Mexico's Senator Chavez was so attentive to movie actress Linda Darnell in showing her around the Capitol recently that he whisked her away from admiring page boys. . . . The Russians have started jamming the radios of the U. S. Seventh Fleet now stationed off Formosa. In addition, the Air Force has reported Russian jamming of its radio network in California and Alaska. This could be serious. It makes quick communication impossible . . . Congratulations to the Machinists Union and Lockheed Aircraft of Burbank, Calif., for their "buck of the month" club. Each worker contributes one buck a month to help sick children, needy families, and disabled war veterans—$2,000,000 raised so far . . . A naval officer in the Pentagon guided missiles section started a new crop of "flying saucer" rumors the other day by passing off "flying saucer" toys as authentic models. (He had bought them in the Pentagon drug-store) . . . Senator McCarran of Navada has made a political football of a bill that would grant American citizenship to 3,000 Korean immigrants—at a time when we are trying to win friends in Korea. McCarran has doctored up the bill with so many of his pet security measures that Senate Majority Leader Lucas has been forced to hold it up.

GOP Backs War "To Hilt" But Will Blast Policy

By MARK SULLIVAN

IT hardly needed to be made official. Yet making it so helps to clarify the situation to the public. Democratic National Chairman Boyle says that in the Congressional campaign the Democrats will "not discuss foreign policy." That was an easy promise for the Democratic chairman to make. Warningly he suggests that the Republicans had better practice the same silence. He says that "if the Republicans try to use the Korean war as a political situation, it will rebound against them."

Here the Democratic chairman mentions two things distinguishable from each other—the "Korean War" and "foreign policy." The distinction is valid. And it is preserved by Republican National Chairman Gabrielson in the reply he makes. Mr. Gabrielson says that the Republicans will back the Korean War "to the hilt." But as to the foreign policy which led up to the Korean war he says that "Republicans have no intention of joining in any . . . conspiracy of silence." That policy, Mr. Gabrielson says, will "be reviewed completely."

Impose Silence

This announcement is a departure by the Republicans. From the time we became involved in the Second World War, in December 1941, the Republicans in the Senate practiced bi-partisanship on foreign policy. The course the Administration took thus became, technically if not actually, a Republican policy as well as a Democratic one. Because of this, and on the theory that there should be national unity in time of war, the Republicans refrained from making foreign policy an issue in political campaigns. The self-imposed restraint was continued in the Presidential campaign of 1948.

The Republicans are now through with self-imposed restraint. While supporting the war in Korea "up to the hilt," they are going to "review completely" the past foreign policy of the Administration, the part that led up to Korea. In doing this the Republicans must dwell on the fall of China to Communism, and the degree to which the Truman administration was responsible for the fall, as well as the degree to which President Roosevelt was responsible.

That the fall of China would result in a Korea, a military advance of Communism in our direction at one point or another, the Truman administration had abundant warning. As early as 1947, public statements by military experts and others, including military leaders, explained in detail how the taking over of China by Communism would as a matter of distance put us at an extreme military disadvantage, would set back by hundreds of miles the line at which we could defend ourselves against any attack by Russia. The warnings were broader than military, and one of them came from a source extraordinarily convincing. In 1945 the then head of the Communist party in America, William Z. Foster, admonishing his followers to work against any intervention by us in China said: "The war in China is the key to all problems of the international front and it is here, above all else, where we have to deal the hardest blow . . on the international scale."

Republicans criticizing the Truman administration about China would do detriment to their argument, and historians would do detriment to fact, if they assumed that our share of responsibility for the fall of China was merely negative, merely a failure to extend financial help. For that the Truman administration has an answer. We did give some financial help and for not giving more had a reason. We were already extending so much help to threatened countries in Western Europe that we could not spare more for China.

What greatly harmed the Nationalist government of China under Chiang Kai-shek and greatly helped the Communists attempting to defeat him, were affirmative actions by our government. In 1946 we publicly urged Chiang Kai-shek to take the Communists into a coalition government. To the Chinese people, who attach great weight to prestige, to what they call "face," that was a sign that we did not support Chiang Kai-shek.

The most affirmative and deadly of the harms we did to the Nationalist government of China was an action by President Roosevelt at Yalta in February 1945. He, in a conference with Stalin about Russia taking part in a war against Japan, promised Stalin in a formal agreement that after the war Russia should have territory occupied by Japan, part of it formerly owned by China, part on the border of China. It was from these places, and with arms and other advantages acquired by Russia after the defeat of Japan, as a result of the Yalta agreement, that the Communist drive to overcome China got leverage and momentum. After the magnitude of the disaster to us, that the fall of China was, is realized and the magnitude of its place in the present world struggle has effect, Yalta will have a place in history equivalent to any of the decisive battles that have changed the course of the world.

Does U. S. Plan To Scuttle Policy Toward Formosa?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1—Is the United States Government trying to wiggle out of its entanglement in defending Formosa and thus make diplomatic concessions to certain European governments and pave the way for appeasement of communist China and its possible admission to the Security Council of the United Nations?

This question may well be asked now in view of the startling announcement by President Truman to his press conference that, as soon as the Korean episode is over, it would not be necessary to keep the U. S. Navy's Seventh Fleet in the Straits of Formosa. Mr. Truman added that the presence of this fleet in that position was just a flank protection for our forces in Korea.

This is not only an amazing contradiction of the strategy which the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff cannot but have developed for the protection of the Japan-Okinawa-Philippines perimeter of our defense, but it is a complete disavowal of the military views of General Douglas MacArthur, recently given, as to the importance of defending Formosa.

Causes Apprehension

It is something even more important—it could be construed by the Chinese communists as an open invitation to them to occupy Formosa, just as the American pronouncement of last January that our defense line didn't include Korea gave encouragement to the communists to march below the 38th Parallel.

Mr. Truman's comment has sent a shiver of apprehension through certain quarters in Congress, where it had been believed that the United States was standing firmly in the Far East and that appeasement of communist China was unthinkable.

What is also disturbing is that either the President has now projected himself as a military expert superior to his own Joint Chiefs of Staff and to General MacArthur, or else that he is weakening in favor of some State Department chicanery to ease the path of Great Britain and other countries with commercial interests in the Far East who want to continue to trade with an maintain diplomatic relations with communist China.

The argument all along in some quarters—especially in communist circles—has been that to defend Formosa would entangle us in a war with communist China. The opposite is true—failure to defend Formosa after America has publicly declared that it doesn't belong to communist China and must be neutralized until the treathy with Japan disposes of the question of trusteeship may indeed cause war with China. It could come if the communists, perceiving American weakness, started an aggression similar to that in Korea, only to be met by a sudden decision by the United States to throw in sea forces to protect Formosa.

Is this why General MacArthur risked a reprimand and spoke out so plainly on how important to the defense of Continental United States the retention of Formosa in friendly hands appears to be?

Did General MacArthur know of the campaign of appeasement going on in Washington, and did he suspect that Formosa was to be tossed over to the communists? Did he feel that, as a soldier and as the man selected to represent the United Nations in command of all the armed forces in the Far East, he should speak out so that the American people at least would know about the scuttling policy that might be under consideration this very week?

Fundamental Principle At Stake

It seems strange that General MacArthur would just send out an indiscreet statement. It is more logical to believe that he took the risk because he thought a fundamental principle affecting the nation's defenses was at stake. To say that the Department of State or the President alone can speak on "foreign policy" and that nobody else should be allowed to speak, even when a grave question of national defense is concerned, does not explain away the strange circumstances surrounding this episode.

Whom did General MacArthur have in mind when he wrote this paragraph:

"Nothing could be more fallacious than the threadbare argument by those who advocate appeasement and defeatism in the Pacific that if we defend Formosa we alienate Continental Asia."

Was MacArthur's statement a last desperate attempt to ward off another Munich in the Far East—a quick way to end the Korean war by conceding to the communists what they have wanted from the beginning—admission to the position of another veto in the Security Council? If so, then doesn't it seem that the appeasement should have begun on June 25 last? A lot of American boys would be alive today and lots more would not be suffering from the grievous wounds they received as a result of the sudden decision to defend Korea two months ago.

These Days By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Ghost Doth Ride

THESE two events are not unrelated:

1. The controversy between President Truman and General Douglas MacArthur over Formosa;

2. The admission of Lee Pressman that he, John Abt, Nathan Witt, Charles Kramer and others had been members of the Harold Ware cell of the Communist party, designed to infiltrate the highest positions in government.

The connection is that were it not for the machinations of these intellectual Communists in the State Department and the Treasury Department, it is unlikely that Nationalist China would have collapsed and Soviet Russia would not so readily have been able to add China to the federation of Soviet socialist republics. Had China not been conquered, General MacArthur would not today be leading an army in Korea, and he would not have become involved in a controversy with the President over Formosa.

Therefore, a full congressional investigation might be made, now that Lee Pressman has opened the door, into the destruction of China's currency by the Treasury Department of the United States. Such an investigation might go into the activities of Harry Dexter White, Harold Glasser, Charles Kramer and Frank Coe.

Chiang Kai-Shek was a popular leader among his people since 1924 until the currency of his country became so depreciated as to be worthless. The beginning of this was the Silver Purchase Act of 1934, passed by the Congress of the United States.

China's currency was based on a silver standard. When the United States raised the price of silver from 30 cents an ounce to $1.29, the silver of China flowed to the United States. One of the arguments in favor of the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 was that it would aid the economy of China. Anyone familiar with the economy of China knew that it could only do damage, particularly to China's exports.

China sent commissions and representatives to this country to plead against this madness, which did them so much harm and did us no good. As K. P. Chen, manager of the Shanghai Commercial Savings Bank, once said:

". . . The rise of the silver price brought in its wake, as far as China is concerned, falling prices, shrinkage of currency, destruction of industries and business, a greater deficit in the government's budget, and increasing chaos in society."

This is a mild description of what happened. Then President Roosevelt began to give China advisers. Some, like Laughlin Currie and Owen Lattimore, actually went to China; others drew ornate plans in the Treasury Department. Loans were made to China to help her off a bad spot, but these loans always involved an agreement to reform something in that country, and after the reform was introduced, the currency situation became worse.

It would be vitally important, if we are to get at the facts, to study not only the activities of the U. S. Treasury, but also of the RFC. In connection with these various loans and credits and stabilizations, it would be advantageous to note which Americans acted as counsel for the Chinese borrowers. It might also be of advantage to study the role of that amazing Pole, Ludwig Rajchman, who is no longer attached to the Chinese but is a representative of Communist Poland in the United Nations.

General Douglas MacArthur, who knows how vital Formosa is to the defense of the United States on the Japan - Okinawa - Philippines line, has really issued a warning to the American people. In 1947, before it was too late, General Wedemeyer reported:

"The situation in Manchuria

Railroad Men Hurt In Crash

Wilbur R. (Webb) Gaither, 420 South Allegany Street, and Charles H. Thompson, 22 Elder Street, two railroad workers were injured about the face and chest in a headon automobile collision late Thursday night on the Old Furnace Road, five miles southeast of Ridgeley. They were admitted to Memorial Hospital.

Gaither, an employe of the Western Maryland Railway, sustained a laceration above the eye which had to be sutured. He complained of pains in the neck and chest, but X-rays were negative and his condition was reported good yesterday.

Thompson, who works at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shops, also sustained a lacerated eye and complained of pains in the chest.

Injured in another mishap near Wiley Ford was Mrs. Lucile Mencer, 1414 River Avenue. She told Memorial Hospital attendants where she was admitted shortly after 1 a. m. that the car in which she was riding went over an embankment.

Mrs. Mencer suffered a dislocated elbow and was reportedly in good condition yesterday.

12 Men To Take Draft Physicals

Draft Board Coordinator P. Emmett Fahey announced yesterday that twelve more men from Local Board No. 28 will be given armed forces pre-induction physical examinations this month.

This will be the seventh physical examination call from Board 28 since drafting resumed several months ago, and it is the fifth for the same board since the start of the Korean situation, Fahey said.

The twelve will leave for their physicals by way of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on Monday, September 11, for the main recruiting station at Martinsburg, W. Va.

Plans Move Ahead For Mummers Parade

The Halloween mummers parade in Cumberland, which was started here last year by the local Forty and Eight Society of the American Legion, is being planned for October 31, according to Thomas F. Conlon, chairman of the sponsoring group.

Floats, marching units, and 30 bands are expected to participate.

Prizes will be awarded to costumed marchers and groups that enter floats.

County Board Establishes Roads Policy

After a request for repairs to Valley View Drive in the Cresaptown section was received yesterday, the Allegany County Board of Commissioners announced that they will no longer do any road work unless proper rights-of-way are obtained first.

Commissioner James Holmes suggested the move.

He cited several recent cases, one of which involved a man who said the county had encroached on his property during grading of a road.

Commissioner William H. Lemmert supported Holmes' stand in the matter.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said that the board had gone ahead with work in the past and in the case of the Valley View Drive request he did not see why it was being held up.

Three other road repairs requests were received yesterday.

Chester Crabtree asked that a 1,000-foot stretch of road running from the Mt. Savage Road alongsaid the Corriganville Methodist Church be repaired.

He said that seven homes were located in the area behind the church and the section was often washed badly during rainy weather. This made easy access to their homes impossible, Crabtree said.

Alvey B. McElfish asked that repairs be made to the old Williams Road. He said it was cut and rutted.

Cletus and Robert Miller asked that repairs to the Black Oak Road be done.

Freckles may be your beauty spots, but you can banish them if you wish to, says John Robert Powers

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

IF A GLANCE in your mirror proves that you disregarded the old adage about an ounce of prevention, and are now in search of a cure for the dryness, leatheriness and freckles that inevitably come to a skin unguardedly exposed to summer's sun, today's column is especially for you.

Follow the beauty advice below if you wish to regain a petal-smooth skin texture before the season's big social events come along:

New Skin for Old

1. On arising, cleanse your face with a rich-lanolin-based cleanser. Remove all traces of it with a tissue. Then apply a lanolin-based foundation in a color that complements your skin. Use gentle, coaxing, upward and outward strokes for both of these applications. Apply the rest of your cosmetics as usual.

2. On retiring, remove cosmetics with your cleanser and wash your face with a good lather of lanolin soap. Rinse with at least three clear waters. Use your finger tips for lathering and your cupped hands for rinsing. Pat dry with an absorbent, soft towel. Then apply a sparing layer of rich lubricant and let it work while you sleep.

Extra-special instructions for your condition are: Wash your face with soap no more than once daily; remove cosmetics at all times with your cleanser; whenever you have a few hours of privacy, remove your cosmetics and apply your night lubricant; apply an invisable film of skin oil under your foundation if your skin is so dry that it is flaking.

Freckle Talk

Some of the most beautiful women of our time have a generous sprinkling of freckles, and personally, I like 'em! But if you feel you have more than your share, the quickest thing you can do is to use an opaque powder base. Be careful to apply it expertly, though! It must look neither heavy nor artificial. And use a little eyeshadow and a bright lipstick so that your eyes and mouth will take the spotlight off your skin.

Your druggist or doctor can advise you about a lotion that will gradually fade your freckles with good results. And if you really have an antipathy for your freckles, here's big news; a qualified dermatologist can actually remove them permanently. But if you have this banishing treatment, I hope you won't feel like one girl I know. After having her freckles removed at great expense, she now would give anything to have them back!

Ream Named To Somerset County Board

MEYERSDALE, Pa. — Samuel S. Ream, Lavansville salesman and farmer, was sworn into office Tuesday morning as the minority member of the Somerset County Board of Commissioners.

Ream, a Democrat, succeeds J. W. Brougher of Somerset, who died last month at the age of 92.

The new jury commissioner will fill out the unexpired part of M. Broughner's four-year term. The late Broughner was a veteran Democratic commissioner and was elected to his fourth term in 1949.

Judge Thomas F. Lansperry administered the oath to the new board member on Tuesday morning prior to the opening of the August term of Somerset County civil court.

Water Shortage Again Is Problem In LaVale Section

The LaVale water shortage came to local notice again yesterday when residents of the Allegany Grove section reported they have been without water since Wednesday.

Prior to that, according to Harry Winnerling, Allegany Grove, the supply was only two days a week.

D. Clifford Goodfellow, president of the LaVale Water Company, stated that as Allegany Grove is at the highest elevation in LaVale, it is the first to experience a shortage.

However, other homes supplied by the firm throughout the LaVale section have been without water previously this summer.

Goodfellow said that in addition to the below normal rainfall this summer two electric pumps at the Red Hill Reservoir were placed out of commission Wednesday by the electrical storm.

The shut down was not discovered until the following morning, Goodfellow stated, and eight hours of water was lost.

One of the residents suggested turning on city water as far as the pipe line of the LaVale Sanitary Commission is laid into the area. The line is past Klosterman's Addition.

A spokesman for the commission said it would be impossible for the sanitary group to start water through this line without owning the LaVale Water Company system.

Negotiations between the two parties for the purchase of the system have been going on since April, he said, finally leading into a condemnation suit in Circuit Court. The figure set by the jury, $98,000, was termed excessive by the commission and a new trial was asked.

In the meantime, the spokesman said, negotiations have been reopened, but no price agreeable to both parties has been reached. Sessions have been held up three weeks by the illness of Goodfellow, who is recuperating from pneumonia.

Goodfellow appealed to the residents to conserve what water there is. He said that it has been reported that several homeowners were sprinkling lawns and watering cars, in middle and lower LaVale, disregarding the shortage in upper LaVale.

He cited several recent cases, one of which involved a man who said the county had encroached on his property during grading of a road.

Commissioner William H. Lemmert supported Holmes' stand in the matter.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said that the board had gone ahead with work in the past and in the case of the Valley View Drive request he did not see why it was being held up.

Three other road repairs requests were received yesterday.

Chester Crabtree asked that a 1,000-foot stretch of road running from the Mt. Savage Road alongsaid the Corriganville Methodist Church be repaired.

He said that seven homes were located in the area behind the church and the section was often washed badly during rainy weather. This made easy access to their homes impossible, Crabtree said.

Alvey B. McElfish asked that repairs be made to the old Williams Road. He said it was cut and rutted.

Cletus and Robert Miller asked that repairs to the Black Oak Road be done.

Spoke to Gov. Warren of California and he was no more worried about James Roosevelt than you are about whether a whale is a fish of a mammal.

Jamesie wasn't sure whether he would campaign in Florida or California. He pisked the Golden State and got no further than a sneeze in a handkerchief.

It was a bit of political carpetbagging pure and simple. We believe James is both.

Bedford Road Firemen Open Fund Drive

In order to complete payments on a fire truck and to purchase other equipment, the Bedford Road Volunteer Fire Company yesterday opened a drive to raise $1,000.

The acting president of the company, Wayne Brady, said that from $300 to $400 is due on the truck, and he explained that the unit has completed payments on its property and is now debt-free.

Freckles may be your beauty spots, but you can banish them if you wish to, says John Robert Powers

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

IF A GLANCE in your mirror proves that you disregarded the old adage about an ounce of prevention, and are now in search of a cure for the dryness, leatheriness and freckles that inevitably come to a skin unguardedly exposed to summer's sun, today's column is especially for you.

Follow the beauty advice below if you wish to regain a petal-smooth skin texture before the season's big social events come along:

New Skin for Old

1. On arising, cleanse your face with a rich-lanolin-based cleanser. Remove all traces of it with a tissue. Then apply a lanolin-based foundation in a color that complements your skin. Use gentle, coaxing, upward and outward strokes for both of these applications. Apply the rest of your cosmetics as usual.

2. On retiring, remove cosmetics with your cleanser and wash your face with a good lather of lanolin soap. Rinse with at least three clear waters. Use your finger tips for lathering and your cupped hands for rinsing. Pat dry with an absorbent, soft towel. Then apply a sparing layer of rich lubricant and let it work while you sleep.

Extra-special instructions for your condition are: Wash your face with soap no more than once daily; remove cosmetics at all times with your cleanser; whenever you have a few hours of privacy, remove your cosmetics and apply your night lubricant; apply an invisable film of skin oil under your foundation if your skin is so dry that it is flaking.

Freckle Talk

Some of the most beautiful women of our time have a generous sprinkling of freckles, and personally, I like 'em! But if you feel you have more than your share, the quickest thing you can do is to use an opaque powder base. Be careful to apply it expertly, though! It must look neither heavy nor artificial. And use a little eyeshadow and a bright lipstick so that your eyes and mouth will take the spotlight off your skin.

Your druggist or doctor can advise you about a lotion that will gradually fade your freckles with good results. And if you really have an antipathy for your freckles, here's big news; a qualified dermatologist can actually remove them permanently. But if you have this banishing treatment, I hope you won't feel like one girl I know. After having her freckles removed at great expense, she now would give anything to have them back!

Ream Named To Somerset County Board

MEYERSDALE, Pa. — Samuel S. Ream, Lavansville salesman and farmer, was sworn into office Tuesday morning as the minority member of the Somerset County Board of Commissioners.

Ream, a Democrat, succeeds J. W. Brougher of Somerset, who died last month at the age of 92.

The new jury commissioner will fill out the unexpired part of M. Broughner's four-year term. The late Broughner was a veteran Democratic commissioner and was elected to his fourth term in 1949.

Judge Thomas F. Lansberry administered the oath to the new board member on Tuesday morning prior to the opening of the August term of Somerset County civil court.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The Park Avenue Prevaricators' annual tournament was won this year by the brazen member who insisted he had dropped a bottle of hair tonic by accident into Lake George. Soon all the fish began to grow long beards. Anglers simply sat in their shacks, planted red and white barber poles at the edge of the water, and hollered "next."

Water Shortage Again Is Problem In LaVale Section

The LaVale water shortage came to local notice again yesterday when residents of the Allegany Grove section reported they have been without water since Wednesday.

Prior to that, according to Harry Winnerling, Allegany Grove, the supply was only two days a week.

D. Clifford Goodfellow, president of the LaVale Water Company, stated that as Allegany Grove is at the highest elevation in LaVale, it is the first to experience a shortage.

However, other homes supplied by the firm throughout the LaVale section have been without water previously this summer.

Goodfellow said that in addition to the below normal rainfall this summer two electric pumps at the Red Hill Reservoir were placed out of commission Wednesday by the electrical storm.

The shut down was not discovered until the following morning, Goodfellow stated, and eight hours of water was lost.

One of the residents suggested turning on city water as far as the pipe line of the LaVale Sanitary Commission is laid into the area. The line is past Klosterman's Addition.

A spokesman for the commission said it would be impossible for the sanitary group to start water through this line without owning the LaVale Water Company system.

Negotiations between the two parties for the purchase of the system have been going on since April, he said, finally leading into a condemnation suit in Circuit Court. The figure set by the jury, $98,000, was termed excessive by the commission and a new trial was asked.

In the meantime, the spokesman said, negotiations have been reopened, but no price agreeable to both parties has been reached. Sessions have been held up three weeks by the illness of Goodfellow, who is recuperating from pneumonia.

Goodfellow appealed to the residents to conserve what water there is. He said that it has been reported that several homeowners were sprinkling lawns and watering cars, in middle and lower LaVale, disregarding the shortage in upper LaVale.

Take Advantage Of Your Heritage . . . . . Freedom Of Worship!

Industry spares no pains or expense when it comes to protecting the bodies of factory workers.

Spark-proof helmets, sturdy shoes, non-slip floors, easy exits—the list of precautionary devices is long. They call it "Safety Engineering."

Is it too much to say that the Church too is engaged in a type of safety engineering? Through the religious faith on which it is founded the Church knows that the souls of people need protection even more than do their eyes and limbs.

The Church believes that human hearts yearn for a comforting arm just as human frames require safe-guarding. It believes that physical safety is not enough; that to bring peace of mind is a more important mission than to insure absence of bodily risk.

As long as lives are saved from the blight of godlessness, the institution contributing to such saving is entitled to all the encouragement and support you can give it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Take Advantage Of Your Heritage . . . . . Freedom Of Worship!

Industry spares no pains or expense when it comes to protecting the bodies of factory workers.

Spark-proof helmets, sturdy shoes, non-slip floors, easy exits—the list of precautionary devices is long. They call it "Safety Engineering."

Is it too much to say that the Church too is engaged in a type of safety engineering? Through the religious faith on which it is founded the Church knows that the souls of people need protection even more than do their eyes and limbs.

The Church believes that human hearts yearn for a comforting arm just as human frames require safe-guarding. It believes that physical safety is not enough; that to bring peace of mind is a more important mission than to insure absence of bodily risk.

As long as lives are saved from the blight of godlessness, the institution contributing to such saving is entitled to all the encouragement and support you can give it.

New Yorkers Top Senators By Score 6-2

Lead Tigers By 2½ Games; Dodgers Lose, Trail By Seven Games

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (INS)—Home runs by Johnny Mize and Billy Johnson in the eighth inning tonight touched off a five-run rally that gave the New York Yankees a 6-to-2 victory over Washington.

A crowd of 33,134 at Yankee Stadium saw the Yanks increase their American League lead to 2½ games over the idle Detroit Tigers.

Mize's roundtripper—his fourth in three days and 17th of the season—came with two aboard and the Yanks trailing, 2 to 1. Johnson, who had socked an earlier home in the fourth, followed with his fifth of the season.

Until the fatal eighth, rookie Al Sima was keeping the Yankees well in check and protecting a lead given him in the first inning when Mickey Vernon homered with one on.

Allie Reynolds, who granted the Senators only four hits, recorded his 13th victory against 11 losses. Sima's defeat was his fourth in seven decisions. Score:

Reds Recall Three Hurlers From Minors

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds today recalled pitchers Kent Peterson from Syracuse and Everett Lively and Jim Avrea from Tulsa.

Peterson, a young lefthander, has been doing well in the International League, after a shaky start.

Lively was sent to Tulsa after being out much of the season with a sore arm.

Great things were expected of both hurlers when they were acquired by Cincinnati several years ago.

They have yet to show winning form in the big league, however.

Daly Edges Locks For First Prize

LEEDS, Eng., Sept. 1 (AP)—Ryder Cup player Fred Daly bested Bobby Locke by one stroke today to win the $980 first prize in the 72-hole Lotus Golf Tournament.

Daly, a dapper Irishman, shot a 69 on the final round for a 278 and then waited more than an hour for the methodical Locke who was the last man home.

Playing in his first British tournament since picking up a wad of dollars in Chicago, Locke needed an even 70 to tie Daly. He staggered at the start, using up 15 strokes on the first three holes. Then he settled down and made the turn in 35. But he faltered coming home and finished with a 71 for a 279.

Art Clark of Huntington, W. Va., finished sixth with a 73-72-67-71—284.

People with good eyesight can see eight stars in the Big Dipper; people with extra-good eyesight can see nine, but the normal person sees seven.

OUR BOBBY — The Collegiate football spotlight this fall will be on Notre Dame as usual and on Bobby Williams in particular. The slick Irish quarterback who was born in Cumberland and now lives in Baltimore will be the key man in the Frank Leahy attack and already is being boomed as an All-American performer. Williams is 20 years old, is 6 feet, 1 inch tall and jips the beam around the 180 mark.

St. Louis Cards Hand Suspension To Nippy Jones

Failed To Join Team For Pittsburgh Trip

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1. (AP)—Nippy Jones was suspended indefinitely by the St. Louis Cardinals today for failure to show for the team's trip to Pittsburgh, but he insisted "I didn't jump the team."

Nippy Jones Cardinals

The first baseman after returning to his home in Los Angeles, said he left the club with the knowledge and consent of owner Fred Saigh. Saigh denied this, saying he had asked Jones to stay with the club until an adequate replacement could be found.

Jones underwent a serious back operation last winter and was put back on the active list only last July 17. He has played in only a few games since then but has been used as a pinch batter.

"I called up Mr. Saigh and told him I'm not ready to play baseball," Jones said. "Besides my back injury, my legs have been giving me trouble."

The Cardinal owner said "doctors who examined him say he could play without injury to himself."

Jones said he received Saigh's permission to go on the voluntary retired list. The player added that Saigh advised him to write to Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler about it.

Saigh said this wasn't so—that he told Jones he didn't want him on the voluntary retired list because it would stop Jones' salary and prevent him from playing the first 30 days of the 1951 season.

The club owner said Jones still insisted he didn't want to make the trip to Pittsburgh and said he intended to write Chandler. "I told him to go ahead, that I couldn't stop him," Saigh said.

Jones, a .300 hitter last year and the Cardinals' regular first baseman until the back injury forced him out of action late in the season, said in Los Angeles his suspension "came as a shock."

"I want to play baseball again," he said. "I certainly never would jump a club like that."

Leading Pros Will Vie In Empire State Open

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—The $15,000 Empire State Open Golf Tournament gets off to a rain-delayed start tomorrow.

The 72-hole event was postponed today for one day after the tournament committee inspected the Shaker Ridge Country Club course, made virtually unplayable by three days of rain.

Most of the nation's top professionals will vie for the $2,600 first prize. Among the favorites are Lloyd Mangrum, Jim Ferrier, Henry Ransom, Cary Middlecoff and Skip Alexander.

However, the top money winner of the trouing pros, Sam Snead, will not compete. Snead, off his game, decided to go fishing instead.

Cochell Puts Sedgman Out Of Net Meet

By HOWARD SIGMAND

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 1 (INS)—Art Larsen and Dick Savitt, a couple of young men who couldn't make the U. S. Davis Cup team, blasted their way today into the All-American semi-finals of the national tennis championships.

Earl Cochell, a third man scorned by the selectors, ousted Australian ace Frank Sedgman last of the foreign entrants, in the completion of a third round match.

Larsen Whips Brown

Larsen, the sixth-ranked 25-year-old San Francisco redhead with the rhythmic southpaw swing, downed fourth-seeded Tom Brown, Jr., the fellow who scored the only American win in the challenge round, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1, 6-4.

The 23-year-old Savitt won his quarter final match, 8-6, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3, over Sid Schwartz of New York, in a battle of power.

Cochell, the 28-year-old Californian deemed a "bad boy" by the committee, was just that as he came from behind to belt Sedgman, 7-5, 5-7, 1-6, 6-2, 6-2.

This was a completion of yesterday's match called because of darkness. The 22-year-old Sedgman, top foreign seeded and the tourney's choice, had held a 2-1 lead in sets but Cochell was ahead 4 games to 2 in the fourth set.

Seventh-seeded Cochell won out by taking eight of the ten games played today, repeatedly passing the Aussie dynamo who was way off form and erratic.

Larsen's win over Brown can be attributed to the fledgling lawyer's inability to cope with the net. It was always in his way and he drove into it. Larsen, on the other hand, kept the ball on the court with his fine control playing.

The only time Brown looked good was in the second set when his passing shots hit with regularity. He scored 17 placements in this set to 3 for Larsen.

The Savitt-Schwartz match was one of youthful strength. Both youngsters exhibited devastating services and power with both forehand and backhand strokes. Savitt had better control of his drives than his 21-year-old opponent.

Mrs. duPont Scores

Defending champion Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont of Wilmington, Del., and second-seeded Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., moved into the semi-finals in the women's bracket.

Top-seeded Mrs. duPont eliminated Mrs. Pat Todd, La Jolla, Cal., 6-3, 6-4, and Miss Hart stopped Shirley Fry, Akron, O., 6-4, 6-4.

Slo-Mo-Shun Easy Winner

Annexes First Heat In Harmsworth Race

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (INS) — Slo-Mo-Shun, the sensational Seattle speed boat, ran away from the field to win the first 40-mile heat on the Harmsworth Trophy race on the Detroit River late today.

The Stanley Sayres entry, driven by Lou Fageol, took an early two-mile lead and was never challenged by the three other boats in the race.

The challenger, Miss Canada IV, trailed the two other members of the American team, My Sweetie and Such Crust as they finished in that order.

The time of the race was 30:18.08 minutes, with Slo-Mo-Shun's average speed being clocked at 91.127 miles per hour. The Gold Cup winner's fastest average was 94.04 mph on the first five-mile lap.

The race was witnessed by some 75,000 persons lining the river banks along Belle Isle.

Despite choppy waters the time bettered that set by Slo-Mo-Shun in the Gold Cup event early this summer when the Sayres entry averaged 78.217 miles per hour over the 90-mile grind.

The second heat will be run tomorrow at 5:05 p. m., with Slo-Mo-Shun now the certain favorite to win again and take over possession of the international Harmsworth Trophy from Skip-A-Long, last year's winner.

Rolfe Admits Tigers Down, Won't Concede They're Out

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers were a weary and somewhat downhearted bunch of ball players as they arrived home today after an eastern road trip which saw them lose eight of 12 games and their American League lead.

Red Rolfe

More than 500 loyal fans and two bands braved an early morning rainstorm to greet the Tigers on their arrival from Washington. But less than a dozen of the players braved the crowd of well-wishers and autograph seekers.

The rest slipped out a side entrance of the railroad station.

Tiger manager Red Rolfe flew home last night ahead of the team and he sounded a battle cry to his Tigers today.

"We may be down, but they haven't buried us yet and I know we'll bounce back into the league lead if we get a few breaks," he said.

His sentiments were echoed by veteran pitcher Paul Dizzy Trout who told the fans, "we hit the bottom on this trip, but from now on we'll get back to winning our share of games."

Rolfe didn't have too much to rejoice about as he thought back over the final eastern road trip.

The Tiger manager was especially upset over the way the Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators each took a series from the faltering Detroiters.

Foes Played Great Ball

"Both those teams played great ball against us, in fact they played about the best brand of baseball we have seen all year," he declared.

Rolfe had a simple explanation for the Tigers' slump on the road trip—"we weren't hitting and our lack of speed on the base paths caught up with us."

A long list of ailments on his squad also caused Rolfe considerable worry and he hastily summoned reenforcements from the Tigers' Toledo farm club today.

He recalled Catcher Joe Ginsberg and first baseman Dick Kryhoski, both of whom will report tomorrow.

"We've got to get a little extra power and these boys may be able to come through if I use them in the right spots," Rolfe explained.

Team Has "Invalids"

Here is how the Tiger "invalids" roster stood today:

Dizzy Trout—bothered with a sore pitching arm. Trout said he would take a lot of heat treatments and hopes to be ready for service Monday.

Hoot Evers—sidelined with a sore wrist since he ran against the fence in Washington this week. X-rays showed no fracture, but he still is unable to play and may be out another week.

Johnny Groth—the Tiger centerfielder reportedly has a sore back and is due to get some heat treatments.

Vic Wertz—the balding outfielder has a sore right foot, sustained when a foul tip bounced off it. Rolfe expressed belief this was partly responsible for Wertz's batting slump which saw him bag only one RBI on the road trip.

Hyndman gained a half game on the idle Potomac Valley Cubs in the battle for the 4th place playoff spot in the County Softball League by defeating Stringtown at the latter place yesterday by the score of 7-0.

Sam Bittner let Stringtown down with two hits, registered his third shutout win as well as his 15th league triumph of the campaign which will end next week with the playing off of several postponed tilts.

Adam Budnick, LaVale's 18-game winner, suffered his first setback since June 30 when the league leaders dropped a 4-3 decision to Corriganville at LaVale Field. Budnick had won seven consecutive games since his last loss at the hands of Narrows Park in June, 10-8. It was his fourth reverse of the campaign.

Glen Kauffman, Corriganville's ace, notched his 21st win of the season. Corriganville collected seven hits including Lindsay's triple and two singles by Kline. Lewis accounted for two of LaVale's eight blows. The loss reduced LaVale's lead over Wellersburg to 1½ games.

Scoring three runs in the 7th frame, Wellersburg took Ellerslie into camp, 3 to 1. The Pennsylvanians collected three of its five hits in the big seventh. J. Emerick collected two singles and Lease banged a triple for the winners. George Wolfe paced the losers with two hits in three trips.

Field Goals By Lou Groza Beat Bears

51,076 See Ohioans Cop Exhibition Tilt In Cleveland Park

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1 (AP) — Coach Paul Brown's dashing Cleveland Browns proved tonight what All-America pro football fans have been shouting for years: that they can beat the Chicago Bears. They did, 27 to 23.

But they had the 51,076 Browns' rooters praying for the final gun in the exhibition contest that marked the first time the teams had met.

The difference was the uncanny toe of big Lou Groza, a fixture as a kicker in the Cleveland lineup during the years they coasted along as champs of the old All-America Conference.

Groza booted two field goals, one in the second quarter and again in the fourth. Chicago matched the Browns, touchdown for touchdown, but muffed one extra point and had only one field goal.

As advertised, Cleveland quarterback Otto Graham and the Bears' pass stylist, Johnny Lujack, engineered the scoring plays.

Score by quarters:

That's the schedule Coach Jim Tatum has outlined up to opening game Sept. 23 against Georgia.

It calls for an early morning practice, breakfast, a blackboard drill, a nap, another workout on the field and then supper. Evening sessions with the blackboard probably will be held from time to time.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (INS)—Home runs by Johnny Mize and Billy Johnson in the eighth inning tonight touched off a five-run rally that gave the New York Yankees a 6-to-2 victory over Washington.

A crowd of 33,134 at Yankee Stadium saw the Yanks increase their American League lead to 2½ games over the idle Detroit Tigers.

Mize's roundtripper—his fourth in three days and 17th of the season—came with two aboard and the Yanks trailing, 2 to 1. Johnson, who had socked an earlier home in the fourth, followed with his fifth of the season.

Until the fatal eighth, rookie Al Sima was keeping the Yankees well in check and protecting a lead given him in the first inning when Mickey Vernon homered with one on.

Allie Reynolds, who granted the Senators only four hits, recorded his 13th victory against 11 losses. Sima's defeat was his fourth in seven decisions. Score:

Reds Recall Three Hurlers From Minors

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds today recalled pitchers Kent Peterson from Syracuse and Everett Lively and Jim Avrea from Tulsa.

Peterson, a young lefthander, has been doing well in the International League, after a shaky start.

Lively was sent to Tulsa after being out much of the season with a sore arm.

Great things were expected of both hurlers when they were acquired by Cincinnati several years ago.

They have yet to show winning form in the big league, however.

Daly Edges Locks For First Prize

LEEDS, Eng., Sept. 1 (AP)—Ryder Cup player Fred Daly bested Bobby Locke by one stroke today to win the $980 first prize in the 72-hole Lotus Golf Tournament.

Daly, a dapper Irishman, shot a 69 on the final round for a 278 and then waited more than an hour for the methodical Locke who was the last man home.

Playing in his first British tournament since picking up a wad of dollars in Chicago, Locke needed an even 70 to tie Daly. He staggered at the start, using up 15 strokes on the first three holes. Then he settled down and made the turn in 35. But he faltered coming home and finished with a 71 for a 279.

Art Clark of Huntington, W. Va., finished sixth with a 73-72-67-71—284.

People with good eyesight can see eight stars in the Big Dipper; people with extra-good eyesight can see nine, but the normal person sees seven.

OUR BOBBY — The Collegiate football spotlight this fall will be on Notre Dame as usual and on Bobby Williams in particular. The slick Irish quarterback who was born in Cumberland and now lives in Baltimore will be the key man in the Frank Leahy attack and already is being boomed as an All-American performer. Williams is 20 years old, is 6 feet, 1 inch tall and tips the beam around the 180 mark.

St. Louis Cards Hand Suspension To Nippy Jones

Failed To Join Team For Pittsburgh Trip

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1. (AP)—Nippy Jones was suspended indefinitely by the St. Louis Cardinals today for failure to show for the team's trip to Pittsburgh, but he insisted "I didn't jump the team."

Nippy Jones
Cardinals

The first baseman after returning to his home in Los Angeles, said he left the club with the knowledge and consent of owner Fred Saigh. Saigh denied this, saying he had asked Jones to stay with the club until an adequate replacement could be found.

Jones underwent a serious back operation last winter and was put back on the active list only last July 17. He has played in only a few games since then but has been used as a pinch batter.

"I called up Mr. Saigh and told him I'm not ready to play baseball," Jones said. "Besides my back injury, my legs have been giving me trouble."

The Cardinal owner said "doctors who examined him say he could play without injury to himself."

Jones said he received Saigh's permission to go on the voluntary retired list. The player added that Saigh advised him to write to Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler about it.

Saigh said this wasn't so—that he told Jones he didn't want him on the voluntary retired list because it would stop Jones' salary and prevent him from playing the first 30 days of the 1951 season.

The club owner said Jones still insisted he didn't want to make the trip to Pittsburgh and said he intended to write Chandler. "I told him to go ahead, that I couldn't stop him," Saigh said.

Jones, a .300 hitter last year and the Cardinals' regular first baseman until the back injury forced him out of action late in the season, said in Los Angeles his suspension "came as a shock."

"I want to play baseball again," he said. "I certainly never would jump a club like that."

Leading Pros Will Vie In Empire State Open

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—The $15,000 Empire State Open Golf Tournament gets off to a rain-delayed start tomorrow.

The 72-hole event was postponed today for one day after the tournament committee inspected the Shaker Ridge Country Club course, made virtually unplayable by three days of rain.

Most of the nation's top professionals will vie for the $2,600 first prize. Among the favorites are Lloyd Mangrum, Jim Ferrier, Henry Ransom, Cary Middlecoff and Skip Alexander.

However, the top money winner of the trouing pros, Sam Snead, will not compete. Snead, off his game, decided to go fishing instead.

Cochell Puts Sedgman Out Of Net Meet

By HOWARD SIGMAND

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 1 (INS)—Art Larsen and Dick Savitt, a couple of young men who couldn't make the U. S. Davis Cup team, blasted their way today into the All-American semi-finals of the national tennis championships.

Earl Cochell, a third man scorned by the selectors, ousted Australian ace Frank Sedgman last of the foreign entrants, in the completion of a third round match.

Larsen Whips Brown

Larsen, the sixth-ranked 25-year-old San Francisco redhead with the rhythmic southpaw swing, downed fourth-seeded Tom Brown, Jr., the fellow who scored the only American win in the challenge round, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1, 6-4.

The 23-year-old Savitt won his quarter final match, 8-6, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3, over Sid Schwartz of New York, in a battle of power.

Cochell, the 28-year-old Californian deemed a "bad boy" by the committee, was just that as he came from behind to belt Sedgman, 7-5, 5-7, 1-6, 6-2, 6-2.

This was a completion of yesterday's match called because of darkness. The 22-year-old Sedgman, top foreign seeded and the tourney's choice, had held a 2-1 lead in sets but Cochell was ahead 4 games to 2 in the fourth set.

Seventh-seeded Cochell won out by taking eight of the ten games played today, repeatedly passing the Aussie dynamo who was way off form and erratic.

Larsen's win over Brown can be attributed to the fledgling lawyer's inability to cope with the net. It was always in his way and he drove into it. Larsen, on the other hand, kept the ball on the court with his fine control playing.

The only time Brown looked good was in the second set when his passing shots hit with regularity. He scored 17 placements in this set to 3 for Larsen.

The Savitt-Schwartz match was one of youthful strength. Both youngsters exhibited devastating services and power with both forehand and backhand strokes. Savitt had better control of his drives than his 21-year-old opponent.

Mrs. duPont Scores

Defending champion Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont of Wilmington, Del., and second-seeded Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., moved into the semi-finals in the women's bracket.

Top-seeded Mrs. duPont eliminated Mrs. Pat Todd, La Jolla, Cal., 6-3, 6-4, and Miss Hart stopped Shirley Fry, Akron, O., 6-4, 6-4.

Slo-Mo-Shun Easy Winner

Annexes First Heat In Harmsworth Race

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (INS) — Slo-Mo-Shun, the sensational Seattle speed boat, ran away from the field to win the first 40-mile heat on the Harmsworth Trophy race on the Detroit River late today.

The Stanley Sayres entry, driven by Lou Fageol, took an early two-mile lead and was never challenged by the three other boats in the race.

The challenger, Miss Canada IV, trailed the two other members of the American team, My Sweetie and Such Crust as they finished in that order.

The time of the race was 30:18.08 minutes, with Slo-Mo-Shun's average speed being clocked at 91.127 miles per hour. The Gold Cup winner's fastest average was 94.04 mph on the first five-mile lap.

The race was witnessed by some 75,000 persons lining the river banks along Belle Isle.

Despite choppy waters the time bettered that set by Slo-Mo-Shun in the Gold Cup event early this summer when the Sayres entry averaged 78.217 miles per hour over the 90-mile grind.

The second heat will be run tomorrow at 5:05 p. m., with Slo-Mo-Shun now the certain favorite to win again and take over possession of the international Harmsworth Trophy from Skip-A-Long, last year's winer.

Rolfe Admits Tigers Down, Won't Concede They're Out

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers were a weary and somewhat downhearted bunch of ball players as they arrived home today after an eastern road trip which saw them lose eight of 12 games and their American League lead.

Red Rolfe

More than 500 loyal fans and two bands braved an early morning rainstorm to greet the Tigers on their arrival from Washington. But less than a dozen of the players braved the crowd of well-wishers and autograph seekers.

The rest slipped out a side entrance of the railroad station.

Tiger manager Red Rolfe flew home last night ahead of the team and he sounded a battle cry to his Tigers today.

"We may be down, but they haven't buried us yet and I know we'll bounce back into the league lead if we get a few breaks," he said.

His sentiments were echoed by veteran pitcher Paul Dizzy Trout who told the fans, "we hit the bottom on this trip, but from now on we'll get back to winning our share of games."

Rolfe didn't have too much to rejoice about as he thought back over the final eastern road trip.

The Tiger manager was especially upset over the way the Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators each took a series from the faltering Detroiters.

Foes Played Great Ball

"Both those teams played great ball against us, in fact they played about the best brand of baseball we have seen all year," he declared.

Rolfe had a simple explanation for the Tigers' slump on the road trip—"we weren't hitting and our lack of speed on the base paths caught up with us."

A long list of ailments on his squad also caused Rolfe considerable worry and he hastily summoned reenforcements from the Tigers' Toledo farm club today.

He recalled Catcher Joe Ginsberg and first baseman Dick Kryhoski, both of whom will report tomorrow.

"We've got to get a little extra power and these boys may be able to come through if I use them in the right spots," Rolfe explained.

Team Has "Invalids"

Here is how the Tiger "invalids" roster stood today:

Dizzy Trout—bothered with a sore pitching arm. Trout said he would take a lot of heat treatments and hopes to be ready for service Monday.

Hoot Evers—sidelined with a sore wrist since he ran against the fence in Washington this week. X-rays showed no fracture, but he still is unable to play and may be out another week.

Johnny Groth—the Tiger centerfielder reportedly has a sore back and is due to get some heat treatments.

Vic Wertz—the balding outfielder has a sore right foot, sustained when a foul tip bounced off it. Rolfe expressed belief this was partly responsible for Wertz's batting slump which saw him bag only one RBI on the road trip.

Hyndman gained a half game on the idle Potomac Valley Cubs in the battle for the 4th place playoff spot in the County Softball League by defeating Stringtown at the latter place yesterday by the score of 7-0.

Sam Bittner let Stringtown down with two hits, registered his third shutout win as well as his 15th league triumph of the campaign which will end next week with the playing off of several postponed tilts.

Adam Budnick, LaVale's 18-game winner, suffered his first setback since June 30 when the league leaders dropped a 4-3 decision to Corriganville at LaVale Field. Budnick had won seven consecutive games since his last loss at the hands of Narrows Park in June, 10-8. It was his fourth reverse of the campaign.

Glen Kauffman, Corriganville's ace, notched his 21st win of the season. Corriganville collected seven hits including Lindsay's triple and two singles by Kline. Lewis accounted for two of LaVale's eight blows. The loss reduced LaVale's lead over Wellersburg to 1½ games.

Scoring three runs in the 7th frame, Wellersburg took Ellerslie into camp, 3 to 1. The Pennsylvanians collected three of its five hits in the big seventh. J. Emerick collected two singles and Lease banged a triple for the winners. George Wolfe paced the losers with two hits in three trips.

Field Goals By Lou Groza Beat Bears

51,076 See Ohioans Cop Exhibition Tilt In Cleveland Park

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1 (AP) — Coach Paul Brown's dashing Cleveland Browns proved tonight what All-America pro football fans have been shouting for years: that they can beat the Chicago Bears. They did, 27 to 23.

But they had the 51,076 Browns' rooters praying for the final gun in the exhibition contest that marked the first time the teams had met.

The difference was the uncanny toe of big Lou Groza, a fixture as a kicker in the Cleveland lineup during the years they coasted along as champs of the old All-America Conference.

Groza booted two field goals, one in the second quarter and again in the fourth. Chicago matched the Browns, touchdown for touchdown, but muffed one extra point and had only one field goal.

As advertised, Cleveland quarterback Otto Graham and the Bears' pass stylist, Johnny Lujack, engineered the scoring plays.

Score by quarters:

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 1 (AP) — Brookmeade Stable's Rocky Heights and Jockey Joe Culmone teamed up to win the top event on today's program at the Atlantic City Race Track.

The 4-year-old son of Piping Rock bounced home a length winner over Charles A. Munn's Cutting Edge while Jerry McCarthy Stables' Polly Delay drove between horses to be third in the field of seven sprinters.

It was only the second triumph in three years of campaigning for Rocky Heights and he paid $16.40, $7.00 and $4.40. Cutting Edge returned $6.40, $4.80 and Polly's Delay, $3.60.

The attendance was 11,304.

Rocky Heights provided Culmone with his second riding victory of the afternoon to boost his total at the meeting to 29, tops for the session. The curly-haired rider who is setting a sizzling pace for his fellow journeymen, was aboard El Pacho, $9.60 winner of the second race.

Whitney Entry Wins

AQUEDUCT, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—The C .V. Whitney entry of Nasophar and Mackle ran one, three in the Corvette Classified Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth before 15,707 fans here today.

Nasophar, ridden by Bobby Permane, broke on top and never was menaced, winning by three lengths in 146 2-5. Brookmeade Stable's Sunny Vale nosed Mackle for the place.

The entry was third choice in the wagering, returning mutuels of $7.60, $3.40 and $3.50. Sunny Vale paid $3.60 and $2.80.

Greentree Stable's Three and Two, the favorite, was never in contention finishing a bad sixth in a seven horse field.

Chagin Captures Rockingham Race

SALEM, N. H., Sept. 1 (AP)—Hugo E. Suhr's seven-year-old Chagin put on a blistering drive through the homestretch before beating Paul Stallone's Dainty Maid by a length and a half in the mile and 30 yards feature race today before a 6,742 crowd at Rockingham Park.

Last turning for home, Chagin came under the wire in 1:43 3-5 as the Melpet Stable's War Toro showed, six lengths back of Dainty Maid and a nose in front of Marvin Level's Dime.

Chagin paid $11.00, $5.80 and $3.60, Dainty Maid returned $6.60 and $4.00 and War Toro $3.20. The Honeywell Stable's Abbe and the Potato Chip Farm's Irish Mist won the first two events for a $337.80 daily double payoff.

William L. Sherman and Camille J. Sherman, his wife, vs. Joseph H. Trimble, unmarried, Victor K. Trimble and Virginia Trimble, his wife, Ernest C. Trimble and Mary Trimble, his wife, Jesse Trimble and Suzanna Trimble, his wife, Maryland Trimble, unmarried, Mary E. Trimble, widow, Franklin B. Gillespie and Marion Gillespie, his wife, Sara B. Gillespie, unmarried, Lucille T. Lammert and Victor Lammert, her husband, Harry C. Gillespie, unmarried, Maud Ryan and Charles Ryan, her husband, Nellie M. Daly and Norman Daly, her husband, Edith Henry and Fred Henry, her husband, Josephine Harden, unmarried, Thomas Harden and Mabel Harden, his wife, Charles Harden and Gladys Harden, his wife, William Harden, unmarried, John Harden and Alice Harden, his wife, Elwood Harden and Mikie Harden, his wife, Bertha Spataro and Frank Spataro, her husband, Robert C. Harden and Anna Harden, his wife, Roman Harden, unmarried, Earl Harden and Beatrice Harden, his wife, and Henry Martin and ——— Martin, his wife.

The object and purpose of this suit is to obtain a decree in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, appointing a Trustee to sell certain mineral rights underlying certain lands lying near Mount Savage, Allegany County, Maryland.

The Bill recites that the above named complainants and respondents are adults and the owners as tenants in common of certain valuable coal and mineral rights underlying certain lands originally owned by Joseph A. Trimble, deceased, containing in the aggregate approximately 686 acres situate and lying near Mount Savage in Allegany County, Maryland, and being the same mineral rights which were conveyed to Maude M. Trimble by DeWarren H. Reynolds, et al., Trustees, by deed dated October 28, 1902, and recorded in Liber 91, folio 416, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

The Bill recites that the parties hereto are the owners as tenants in common according to their respective interests in the mineral rights hereinbefore described; that the said mineral rights are not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein as above stated; and that in order to make division of said interests it will be necessary that said mineral rights be sold and the proceeds thereof divided amongst the parties according to their several interests.

The Bill then prays for a decree for a sale of the said coal and mineral rights and a distribution of the proceeds amongst the parties according to their respective rights and interests. There is also a prayer for general relief. The Bill further states that all of the following respondents are non-residents of the State of Maryland: Ernest C. Trimble is intermarried with Mary Trimble, and both are residents of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania; Maryland Trimble, unmarried, is a resident of Washington, D. C.; Franklin B. Gillespie, unmarried, is a resident of Canonsburg, Washington County, Pennsylvania; Nellie M. Daly is intermarried with Norman Daly and both are residents of Washington, D. C.; Bertha Spataro is intermarried with Frank Spataro and both are residents of Kempton, Preston County, West Virginia; and Henry Martin and ——— Martin, his wife, are both residents of Washington, D. C.

It is thereupon this 18th day of August 1950, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that notice be given the aforegoing non-resident respondents of the object and substance of this suit by causing a copy of this order to be published once a week for at least four successive weeks on or before the 20th day of September, 1950, in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 7th day of October, 1950, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as may be passed therein.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

TRUMP LEADS MARKED

BIDDING can be such that the opening leader should know his only sound lead is a trump. That is most emphatically the case when the declarer had bid one major suit, his partner another and they wound up settling into a minor suit contract. It must be clear that the declarer would like to ruff his own major suit losers with whatever trumps the dummy possesses, also that he may even want to ruff the dummy's major with some of his own trumps. Nothing but a trump lead can limit that process.

	♠ A 9 7 2 ♥ K Q 8 6 ♦ 8 ♣ Q 8 5 4
♠ None ♥ J 10 9 5 ♦ A K J 10 7 5 ♣ A 9 2	N W E S	♠ J 10 8 6 5 ♥ 4 2 ♦ Q 6 ♣ 10 7 6 3
	♠ K Q 4 3 ♥ A 7 3 ♦ 9 4 3 2 ♣ K J

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

Dbl	Pass	Pass	2 ♦
Pass	2 ♠	Dbl	3 ♦
Pass	Pass	Dbl

Funny, but surely highly competitive bidding. When West didn't take himself out of the 3-Diamonds double, East decided his partner must have much better diamonds than hearts and knew what he was doing, since South's opener was made to sound like a psychic.

That was a perfect set-up for North to lead his singleton trump. But he spilled the beans by opening the spade A, which West ruffed. Preparing for a heart ruff, West led the 5. North made an unwise play by using his 8 instead of the 6, and the A had to be used for South to win. He took the trick because he felt that North had no diamonds to lead, but he himself did. He returned one of them, the 2, which the Q won. The heart 2 was led to the J and Q.

North, with no trumps to lead now, offered the club 4, which the A won. Now West ruffed the heart 10, covered by the K, with the dummy's last diamond, the 6. The spade 6 was ruffed, and West now ran the diamond A, K and J plus the now-set-up heart 9. He now had nine tricks and his contract, having lost only two heart tricks, and gleefully gave up two clubs to the opponents, who won them with the club J and spade K.

If North had opened his diamond and South, when in with the heart A, had led another trump, the dummy could not have ruffed at all. West therefore would have lost three tricks in hearts and two in clubs to be down one.

Rocky Heights Cops Atlantic City Feature

Jockey Joe Culmone Pilots 29th Winner

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 1 (AP) — Brookmeade Stable's Rocky Heights and Jockey Joe Culmone teamed up to win the top event on today's program at the Atlantic City Race Track.

The 4-year-old son of Piping Rock bounced home a length winner over Charles A. Munn's Cutting Edge while Jerry McCarthy Stables' Polly Delay drove between horses to be third in the field of seven sprinters.

It was only the second triumph in three years of campaigning for Rocky Heights and he paid $16.40, $7.00 and $4.40. Cutting Edge returned $6.40, $4.80 and Polly's Delay, $3.60.

The attendance was 11,304.

Rocky Heights provided Culmone with his second riding victory of the afternoon to boost his total at the meeting to 29, tops for the session. The curly-haired rider who is setting a sizzling pace for his fellow journeymen, was aboard El Pacho, $9.60 winner of the second race.

Whitney Entry Wins

AQUEDUCT, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—The C .V. Whitney entry of Nasophar and Mackle ran one, three in the Corvette Classified Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth before 15,707 fans here today.

Nasophar, ridden by Bobby Permane, broke on top and never was menaced, winning by three lengths in 146 2-5. Brookmeade Stable's Sunny Vale nosed Mackle for the place.

The entry was third choice in the wagering, returning mutuels of $7.60, $3.40 and $3.50. Sunny Vale paid $3.60 and $2.80.

Greentree Stable's Three and Two, the favorite, was never in contention finishing a bad sixth in a seven horse field.

Chagin Captures Rockingham Race

SALEM, N. H., Sept. 1 (AP)—Hugo E. Suhr's seven-year-old Chagin put on a blistering drive through the homestretch before beating Paul Stallone's Dainty Maid by a length and a half in the mile and 30 yards feature race today before a 6,742 crowd at Rockingham Park.

Last turning for home, Chagin came under the wire in 1:43 3-5 as the Melpet Stable's War Toro showed, six lengths back of Dainty Maid and a nose in front of Marvin Level's Dime.

Chagin paid $11.00, $5.80 and $3.60, Dainty Maid returned $6.60 and $4.00 and War Toro $3.20. The Honeywell Stable's Abbe and the Potato Chip Farm's Irish Mist won the first two events for a $337.80 daily double payoff.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

LAW OFFICES OF WILLIAM A. GUNTER AND WILLIAM J. GUNTER 7 WASHINGTON STREET, CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND, NO. 21880 EQUITY.

William L. Sherman and Camille J. Sherman, his wife, vs. Joseph H. Trimble, unmarried, Victor K. Trimble and Virginia Trimble, his wife, Ernest C. Trimble and Mary Trimble, his wife, Jesse Trimble and Suzanna Trimble, his wife, Maryland Trimble, unmarried, Mary E. Trimble, widow, Franklin B. Gillespie and Marion Gillespie, his wife, Sara B. Gillespie, unmarried, Lucille T. Lammert and Victor Lammert, her husband, Harry C. Gillespie, unmarried, Maud Ryan and Charles Ryan, her husband, Nellie M. Daly and Norman Daly, her husband, Edith Henry and Fred Henry, her husband, Josephine Harden, unmarried, Thomas Harden and Mabel Barden, his wife, Charles Harden and Gladys Harden, his wife, William Harden, unmarried, John Harden and Alice Harden, his wife, Elwood Harden and Mikie Harden, his wife, Bertha Spataro and Frank Spataro, her husband, Robert C. Harden and Anna Harden, his wife, Roman Harden, unmarried, Earl Harden and Beatrice Harden, his wife, and Henry Martin and ——— Martin, his wife.

The object and purpose of this suit is to obtain a decree in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, appointing a Trustee to sell certain mineral rights underlying certain lands lying near Mount Savage, Allegany County, Maryland.

The Bill recites that the above named complainants and respondents are adults and the owners as tenants in common of certain valuable coal and mineral rights underlying certain lands originally owned by Joseph A. Trimble, deceased, containing in the aggregate approximately 686 acres situate and lying near Mount Savage in Allegany County, Maryland, and being the same mineral rights which were conveyed to Maude M. Trimble by De-Warren H. Reynolds, et al., Trustees, by deed dated October 28, 1902, and recorded in Liber 91, folio 416, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

The Bill recites that the parties hereto are the owners as tenants in common according to their respective interests in the mineral rights hereinbefore described; that the said mineral rights are not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein as above stated; and that in order to make division of said interests it will be necessary that said mineral rights be sold and the proceeds thereof divided amongst the parties according to their several interests.

The Bill then prays for a decree for a sale of the said coal and mineral rights and a distribution of the proceeds amongst the parties according to their respective rights and interests. There is also a prayer for general relief. The Bill further states that all of the following respondents are non-residents of the State of Maryland: Ernest C. Trimble is intermarried with Mary Trimble, and both are residents of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania; Maryland Trimble, unmarried, is a resident of Washington, D. C.; Franklin B. Gillespie is intermarried with Marion Gillespie and both are residents of Washington, D. C.; Sara B. Gillespie, unmarried, is a resident of Canonsburg, Washington County, Pennsylvania; Harry C. Gillespie, unmarried, is a resident of Canonsburg, Washington County, Pennsylvania; Nellie M. Daly is intermarried with Norman Daly and both are residents of Washington, D. C.; Bertha Spataro is intermarried with Frank Spataro and both are residents of Kempton, Preston County, West Virginia; and Henry Martin and ——— Martin, his wife, are both residents of Washington, D. C.

It is thereupon this 18th day of August 1950, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that notice be given the aforegoing non-resident respondents of the object and substance of this suit by causing a copy of this order to be published once a week for at least four successive weeks on or before the 20th day of September, 1950, in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 7th day of October, 1950, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as may be passed therein.

JOSEPH E. BODEN, Clerk.

Pat Lesser Wins

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—Patricia Ann Lesser, a trim tanned youngster from Seattle, Wash., won the second annual USGA Junior Girls Golf Championship today by trimming Mary Kathryn (Mickey) Wright of La Jolla, Calif., 4 and 2.

The trophy, won last year by Marlene Bauer, was presented by Mrs. Charles Dennehy of Chicago, chairman of the event.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

TRUMP LEADS MARKED

BIDDING can be such that the opening leader should know his only sound lead is a trump. That is most emphatically the case when the declarer had bid one major suit, his partner another and they wound up settling into a minor suit contract. It must be clear that the declarer would like to ruff his own major suit losers with whatever trumps the dummy possesses, also that he may even want to ruff the dummy's major with some of his own trumps. Nothing but a trump lead can limit that process.

	♠ A 9 7 2 ♥ K Q 8 6 ♦ 8 ♣ Q 8 5 4
♠ None ♥ J 10 9 5 ♦ A K J 10 7 5 ♣ A 9 2	N W E S	♠ J 10 8 6 5 ♥ 4 2 ♦ Q 6 ♣ 10 7 6 3
	♠ K Q 4 3 ♥ A 7 3 ♦ 9 4 3 2 ♣ K J

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♦	1 ♥
Dbl	Pass	Pass	2 ♦
Pass	2 ♠	Dbl	3 ♦
Pass	Pass	Dbl

Funny, but surely highly competitive bidding. When West didn't take himself out of the 3-Diamonds double, East decided his partner must have much better diamonds than hearts and knew what he was doing, since South's opener was made to sound like a psychic.

That was a perfect set-up for North to lead his singleton trump. But he spilled the beans by opening the spade A, which West ruffed. Preparing for a heart ruff, West led the 5. North made an unwise play by using his 8 instead of the 6, and the A had to be used for South to win. He took the trick because he felt that North had no diamonds to lead, but he himself did. He returned one of them, the 2, which the Q won. The heart 2 was led to the J and Q.

North, with no trumps to lead now, offered the club 4, which the A won. Now West ruffed the heart 10, covered by the K, with the dummy's last diamond, the 6. The spade 6 was ruffed, and West now ran the diamond A, K and J plus the now-set-up heart 9. He now had nine tricks and his contract, having lost only two heart tricks, and gleefully gave up two clubs to the opponents, who won them with the club J and spade K.

If North had opened his diamond and South, when in with the heart A, had led another trump, the dummy could not have ruffed at all. West therefore would have lost three tricks in hearts and two in clubs to be down one.

Your Weekend Question

What is the most urgent situation, calling for immediate leads of trumps, that a declarer can possibly face?

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 1 (INS)—Gail Russell comes home from Catalina where she and Guy Madison have been shooting wild boar to make "Air Cadet" at Universal-International. It's a loan from her home base, Paramount.

Steve McNally is the hero after the whisper had been around that Scott Brady was to be the male star. "Air Cadet" gets the cooperation of the Air Force.

If "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" goes to 20th, how about Marilyn Monroe for the diamond-crazy flapper? Betty Grable, doll of the box office, is supposed to be elected for the movie.

But beautiful Betty is very hep, with such a vibrant personality it would be hard to hide her behind Lorelei's dumb facade.

No reflection on Marilyn's I.Q.—but she gave a nifty account of herself playing a none-too-bright blonde in "Asphalt Jungle"—very similar to Anita Loos' lady-like gold-digger.

The more I think back on the charming second anniversary party Rory Calhoun and his Lita gave, the more I like these kids.

When they wheeled in the cake in the Beverly Hills Palm Room, Rory left his end of the table, went down to Lita's side and kissed his pretty wife in front of everybody. Then they danced "The Anniversary Waltz"—the tall and the short of it—with the feather in Lita's cute hat not even high enough to tickle Rory's chin.

Linda Darnell and Pev Marley haven't done any outside dating since their rift. Kind of nice in these days when battling husbands and wives usually walk out of matrimony straight to Ciro's or the Mocambo with a new love.

Linda was in the Mocambo the other night with a married couple. When a roving stag she knows asked her to dance, Linda smiled, "What! and get our pictures taken as the newest twosome?"

With both Linda and Pev being this careful, no one would be surprised if they eventually get together.

After the flareup between Warns and Hal Wallis over getting Charlton Heston, Warners have decided to shelve "Ethan Frome."

This news should also quiet Jane Wyman and others who have been plugging for this classic ever since Bette Davis left the lot.

With Heston relieved of this assignment, it is likely he will make "Quantrell's Raiders" for Wallis this fall while Warners go scouting something new for him.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dixie Crosby won't be back from New York for two weeks—just in time to meet the boys before they take off for school.

Brian Donlevy, very much in love with a lady recently divorced in Europe, has flown to New York to meet her. He's popping the question this trip.

Pretty nice of Annabella,' Ty Power's ex, to send me a personal note from London that "Mister Roberts" is now the big hit in London playing to standees every show.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By DOROTHY MANNERS
(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 1 (INS)—Gail Russell comes home from Catalina where she and Guy Madison have been shooting wild boar to make "Air Cadet" at Universal-International. It's a loan from her home base, Paramount.

Steve McNally is the hero after the whisper had been around that Scott Brady was to be the male star. "Air Cadet" gets the cooperation of the Air Force.

If "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" goes to 20th, how about Marilyn Monroe for the diamond-crazy flapper? Betty Grable, doll of the box office, is supposed to be elected for the movie.

But beautiful Betty is very hep, with such a vibrant personality it would be hard to hide her behind Lorelei's dumb facade.

No reflection on Marilyn's I.Q. —but she gave a nifty account of herself playing a none-too-bright blonde in "Asphalt Jungle"—very similar to Anita Loos' lady-like gold-digger.

The more I think back on the charming second anniversary party Rory Calhoun and his Lita gave, the more I like these kids.

When they wheeled in the cake in the Beverly Hills Palm Room, Rory left his end of the table, went down to Lita's side and kissed his pretty wife in front of everybody. Then they danced "The Anniversary Waltz"—the tall and the short of it—with the feather in Lita's cute hat not even high enough to tickle Rory's chin.

Linda Darnell and Pev Marley haven't done any outside dating since their rift. Kind of nice in these days when battling husbands and wives usually walk out of matrimony straight to Ciro's or the Mocambo with a new love.

Linda was in the Mocambo the other night with a married couple. When a roving stag she knows asked her to dance, Linda smiled, "What! and get our pictures taken as the newest twosome?"

With both Linda and Pev being this careful, no one would be surprised if they eventually get together.

After the flareup between Warns and Hal Wallis over getting Charlton Heston, Warners have decided to shelve "Ethan Frome."

This news should also quiet Jane Wyman and others who have been plugging for this classic ever since Bette Davis left the lot.

With Heston relieved of this assignment, it is likely he will make "Quantrell's Raiders" for Wallis this fall while Warners go scouting something new for him.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dixie Crosby won't be back from New York for two weeks—just in time to meet the boys before they take off for school.

Brian Donlevy, very much in love with a lady recently divorced in Europe, has flown to New York to meet her. He's popping the question this trip.

Pretty nice of Annabella,' Ty Power's ex, to send me a personal note from London that "Mister Roberts" is now the big hit in London playing to standees every show.

Garrett School Bids Asked

Offers To Be Submitted By September 20

Oakland Building Model Displayed

OAKLAND—Bids will be opened September 20 for the new Oakland High School building and a similar new school, slightly smaller, to be located in the northern part of the county.

This was announced yesterday by R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools. Hardesty said at least three construction firms are planning to submit bids.

An architect's scale model of the new Oakland building is on display in the window of the West Maryland Power Company in Oakland.

The model gives a clear idea of how the new schools will appear. From the front, the main class room section may be seen, with the auditorium on the left, the gymnasium on the right, cafeteria to rear of the gymnasium and the shop in the rear of the main building.

In the other school building, the gymnasium and cafeteria will be on the left, the auditorium on the right.

According to plans the home economics department will be next to the cafeteria. It was explained that the cafeteria was placed next to the gymnasium so that food could be prepared conveniently to serve banquets for conventions, farm bureau meetings and gatherings of other large groups.

The main section of the Oakland building is 391 feet long, with the auditorium 69 feet wide and the gymnasium 125 feet wide, with overall dimensions of 585 feet. The gymnasium is 132 feet long, the auditorium 158 feet long. Plans call for the Cove building to have a main section of 351 feet, a gymnasium of 125 and an auditorium of 68 feet.

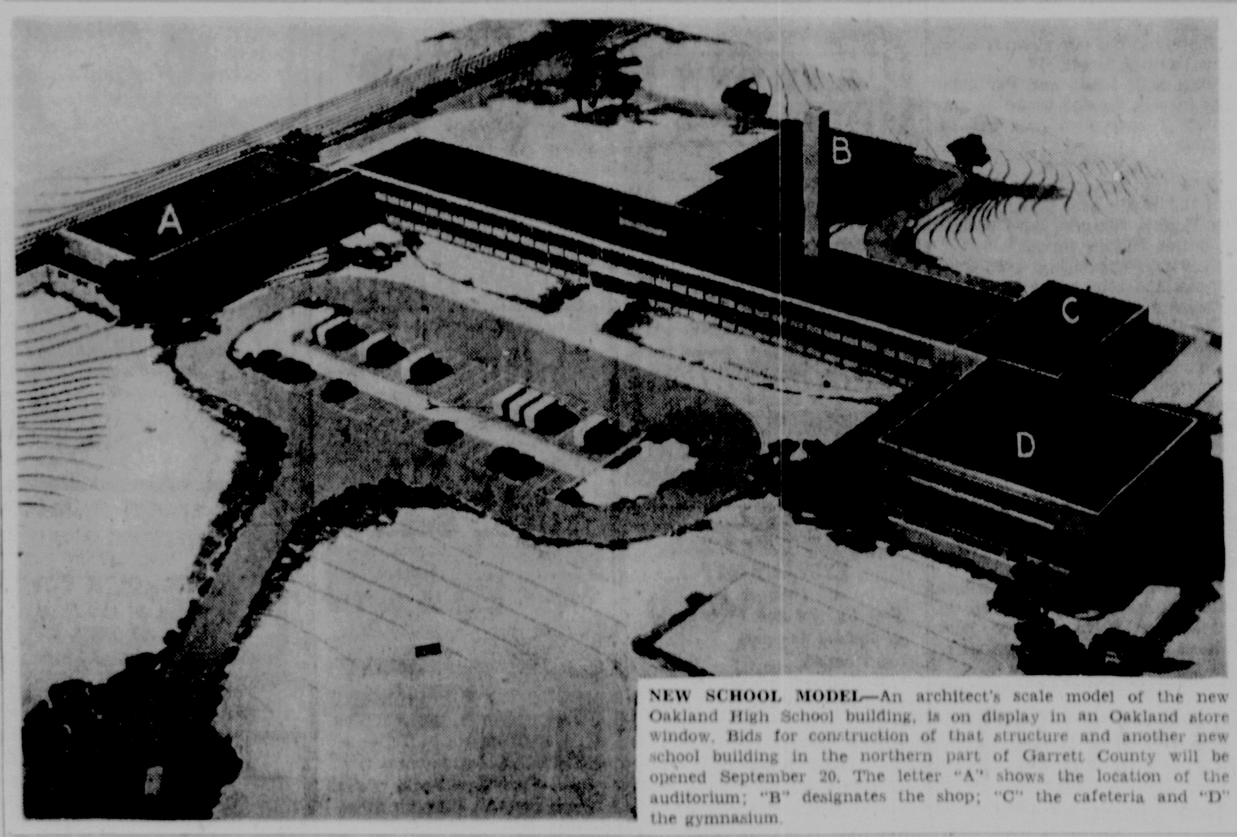
A hard surface court is planned off the gymnasium of each school for playground activities.

The plans of Oakland's first floor section show the music and band room sections on the left, with the arts and crafts section next, then the business machines, business and commercial rooms next. Guidance and conference rooms, the principal's office and general offices are about center. To right of center are the sewing, cooking, home economics rooms, with the kitchen next to the gymnasium and cafeteira.

On the second floor at the left are science rooms with four-student science desks placed, all with running water, gas and electricity. Then there are class rooms and a library with work room. To right of center are more classrooms with a health suite over the gymnasium.

Walls of the building are of fine cinder block, painted, with brick on the outside. Classroom floors are of asphalt tile, with hallway floors of fine texture cement. It was pointed out that cinder blocks and brick are used in a number of newer buildings in Baltimore and other wealthier counties.

Bidders are given four alternates on each school. In addition to the main building the bids are separate on cafeteria, gymnasium, auditorium and shop. The contract will call for completion of buildings in 375 calendar days after the contract is let.



NEW SCHOOL MODEL—An architect's scale model of the new Oakland High School building, is on display in an Oakland store window. Bids for construction of that structure and another new school building in the northern part of Garrett County will be opened September 20. The letter "A" shows the location of the auditorium; "B" designates the shop; "C" the cafeteria and "D" the gymnasium.

Garrett Land Week Group Is Organized

Second Meeting Is Set September 5

OAKLAND—A Garrett County group to cooperate in the observance of Maryland Land Week, October 8 to 14, was organized at a meeting in the office of John H. Carter, county agent, Tuesday evening.

Purpose of the observance is to encourage the use of soil and water conservation practices by those who till the land; and to impress all citizens of the state with their dependence upon the soil and to acquaint them with the effects of erosion, improper drainage and soil deficiencies upon their health and welfare.

Another meeting has been called for next Tuesday night, September 5, at 7:30 o'clock, when suggestions for Garrett County's part in the project will be made.

Denzil Bowyer was named chairman of the group; Joseph P. Sollars, vice-chairman; and Beeson Snyder, secretary.

Others attending were William H. Johnson, district forester; Elmer Upole, forest supervisor; Marvin Callis, John Reckner and Virgil Lough, Vo-Ag teachers; Jesse Walker, Kitzmiller Lions club; Nelson Langan, Oakland Rotary; Miss Eleanor Dearborn, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. W. W. DeWitt, president of Homemakers; Emerson Bishoff and Otis Riley, soil conservation district committeemen; Page Hickman, Imperial Ice Cream company; Paul Hutton, boys 4-H club leader; Dorsey Guard, county P.M.A. chairman; W. W. Nace, district soil conservationist; Fred L. Bull, extension soil conservationist, College Park; and Carter.

Bull, who is secretary-treasurer of the Maryland Land Week program, explained what other counties were doing. The particular local aim is to bring the importance of the use of land to every person in the county, he said.

Long Explains Traffic Work

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — "Traffic Problems and How to Confront Them," were discussed by John J. Long, head of the safety department of the Luke Plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and police commissioner of Cumberland, at the weekly luncheon meeting of Tri-Towns Rotary Club at Potomac Hotel.

Long said Cumberland has followed the recommendations of a professional traffic survey and that congestion has been relieved so that motorists can go through Cumberland at the 5 p. m. rush hour at a normal pace instead of contending with the former 45-minute delay. He also pointed out that reduction of speed in certain areas has lowered the former fatality list of seven persons per year.

James H. Swadley, Keyser, W. Va., attorney will speak to the club next week on "Service Is My Business."

Garrett School Bids Asked

Offers To Be Submitted By September 20

Oakland Building Model Displayed

OAKLAND—Bids will be opened September 20 for the new Oakland High School building and a similar new school, slightly smaller, to be located in the northern part of the county.

This was announced yesterday by R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools. Hardesty said at least three construction firms are planning to submit bids.

An architect's scale model of the new Oakland building is on display in the window of the West Maryland Power Company in Oakland.

The model gives a clear idea of how the new schools will appear. From the front, the main class room section may be seen, with the auditorium on the left, the gymnasium on the right, cafeteria to rear of the gymnasium and the shop in the rear of the main building.

In the other school building, the gymnasium and cafeteria will be on the left, the auditorium on the right.

According to plans the home economics department will be next to the cafeteria. It was explained that the cafeteria was placed next to the gymnasium so that food could be prepared conveniently to serve banquets for conventions, farm bureau meetings and gatherings of other large groups.

The main section of the Oakland building is 391 feet long, with the auditorium 69 feet wide and the gymnasium 125 feet wide, with overall dimensions of 585 feet. The gymnasium is 132 feet long, the auditorium 158 feet long. Plans call for the Cove building to have a main section of 351 feet, a gymnasium of 125 and an auditorium of 68 feet.

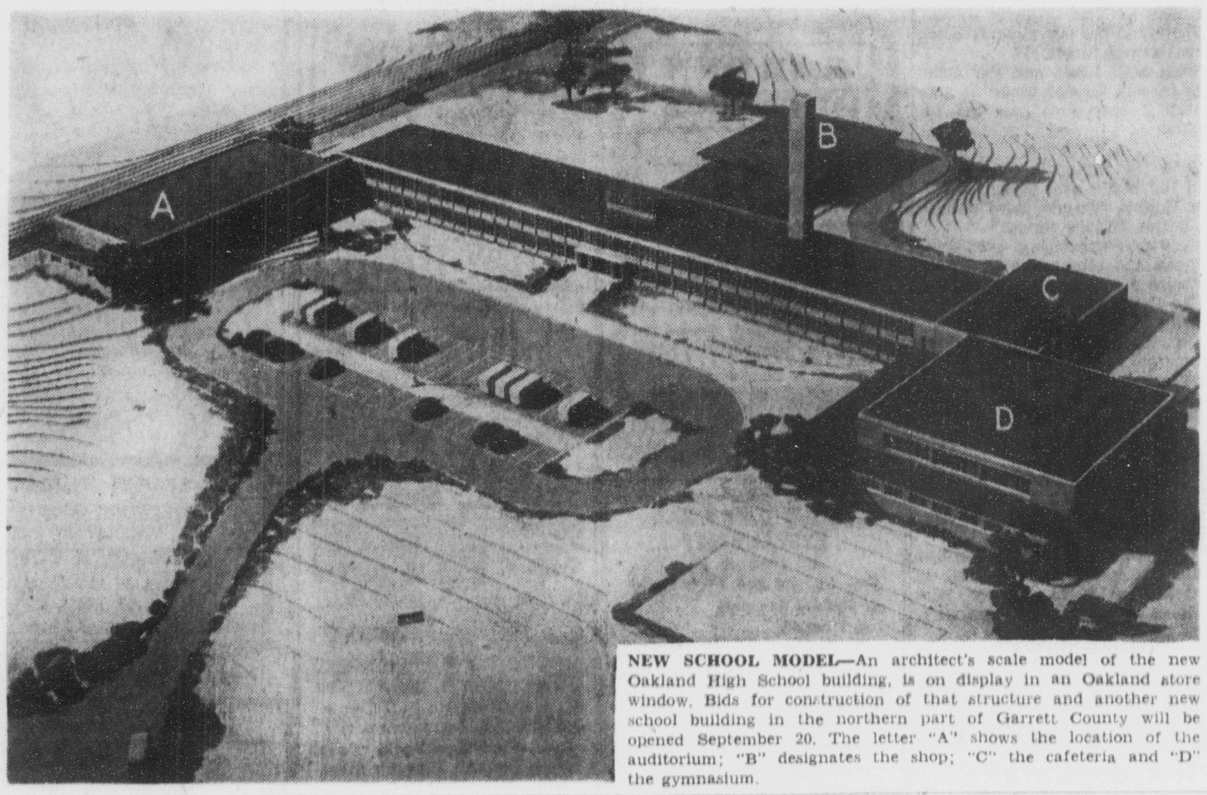
A hard surface court is planned off the gymnasium of each school for playground activities.

The plans of Oakland's first floor section show the music and band room sections on the left, with the arts and crafts section next, then the business machines, business and commercial rooms next. Guidance and conference rooms, the principal's office and general offices are about center. To right of center are the sewing, cooking, home economics rooms, with the kitchen next to the gymnasium and cafeteira.

On the second floor at the left are science rooms with four-student science desks placed, all with running water, gas and electricity. Then there are class rooms and a library with work room. To right of center are more classrooms with a health suite over the gymnasium.

Walls of the building are of fine cinder block, painted, with brick on the outside. Classroom floors are of asphalt tile, with hallway floors of fine texture cement. It was pointed out that cinder blocks and brick are used in a number of newer buildings in Baltimore and other wealthier counties.

Bidders are given four alternates on each school. In addition to the main building the bids are separate on cafeteria, gymnasium, auditorium and shop. The contract will call for completion of buildings in 375 calendar days after the contract is let.



NEW SCHOOL MODEL—An architect's scale model of the new Oakland High School building, is on display in an Oakland store window. Bids for construction of that structure and another new school building in the northern part of Garrett County will be opened September 20. The letter "A" shows the location of the auditorium; "B" designates the shop; "C" the cafeteria and "D" the gymnasium.

Denzil Bowyer was named chairman of the group; Joseph P. Sollars, vice-chairman; and Beeson Snyder, secretary.

W. Nace, district soil conservationist; Fred L. Bull, extension soil conservationist, College Park; and Carter.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

LOS ANGELES (INS)—

IN THE midst of a vicious war that has stripped Japan of its U. S. occupation forces, one unsung unit of Gen. MacArthur's headquarters patiently goes about the enormous task of lifting Japan off the American tax-payers' necks.

To comprehend the size of that job, which is progressing remarkably, the reader must know a little about the economic condition of Japan the day five years ago MacArthur arrived at Atsugi airport.

Jap production had fallen off to nine per cent of the wartime peak. Our aerial bombs and naval barrages had totally destroyed 25 per cent of the country's industrial and utilities capacity and materially damaged another third. Millions of workers had fled their wartime places of employment. Korean and Manchurian slave laborers had abandoned the coal mines, and not enough of it was being mined to run what was left of Japan's railroads. Eighty per cent of the textile business had been converted to war work.

The Navy had sent to the bottom one of Japan's main source of revenue, its merchant fleet. Nylon had destroyed all hope that the country's once fabulous silk export trade could be resumed. There was a wild inflation. And the traditional method of tax-collecting remained:

A farcical rite in which a man with money made a private deal with his tax-collector and coughed up only a token payment. Disease and starvation covered the land.

Today the Japanese government, operating under democratic constitution written by Japanese, has been led back a point where it is within $250 million a year of solvency—and this despite the fact that there are now 84 million Japanese where there were only 72 million five years ago. Japan's empire and its resources are gone, and its teeming millions must live in a country smaller than California—and with only one sixth of it fit for cultivation.

If peace is quickly restored in the Pacific, and the long range plans of MacArthur and his economists bear fruit, Japan no longer will be a financial drain on us after the fiscal year 1953.

The nation's heavy industry is back to 60 per cent of its wartime peak. With the destruction of the Zaibatsu—the closely held supercorporation which monopolized and ruled most facets of Japan's economy—free enterprise is flourishing. The Americans have stopped the old Jap trade practice of dumping cheap products on world markets. Jap manufacturers must turn out better products and compete more ethically in world trade.

Unemployed silk workers have turned to the rising cotton textile trade of Japan. India, Pakistan and other sterling area countries that have begun trading with Japan are taking such Jap products as steel, railroad equipment, ships, hydro-electric power equipment, industrial machinery, electrical supplies and the likes. A visit by the Emperor to Japanese coal areas (a move prompted by MacArthur) and extra food rations resulted in widespread replacement by Japanese of departed Manchurian and Korean miners. Theretofore the Japanese considered himself too good to work below the surface of the earth.

The recent dispatching of the first postwar Japanese freighter to Seattle opened another phase of the country's recovery. It is the first Japanese ship to touch a U. S. port since early December, 1941. Right now it costs Japan $250 million a year to hire foreign shipping for its exports.

We have more or less weaned Japan's economic future away from dollar markets and directed its future to the sterling countries. But if the communists complete their seizure of the "rice bowl" of Asia, the hope of such a switch will have to be deferred. And protests will continue to come from U. S. glove manufacturers, fish canners, textile firms and others who don't want to compete against goods produced by Japan's comparatively cheap labor.

The yen, by the way, is backed by neither silver or gold. It is supported by the prestige of MacArthur's occupation, and is about as sound as any currency in the world today. Until the Korean war began, occupation forces were spending $72 million for yen each year, a tremendous help to the Japanese, as is, of course, the fact that Japan does not have to maintain a defense force.

Japanese taxes roughly reflect the U. S. tax system, both in magnitude and collecting codes. Unemployment has seldom reached 500,000 in a working field of 39,000,000 evenly divided between the land and factory. Until the Korean trouble, labor unions, emboldened by the presence of the Americans, were kicking out Communist infiltrators by the tons. All Japan needs is peace in Asia. Under MacArthur, it is headed toward the first balanced budget of its history. If it had not been for the Korean war, Japan's always valuable tourist trade would have begun to reblossom this summer hastening the day when we can present to the world the picture of a conquered country lifted back not only to friendship and trustworthy independence, but solvency.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

LOS ANGELES (INS)—

IN THE midst of a vicious war that has stripped Japan of its U. S. occupation forces, one unsung unit of Gen. MacArthur's headquarters patiently goes about the enormous task of lifting Japan off the American tax-payers' necks.

To comprehend the size of that job, which is progressing remarkably, the reader must know a little about the economic condition of Japan the day five years ago MacArthur arrived at Atsugi airport.

Jap production had fallen off to nine per cent of the wartime peak. Our aerial bombs and naval barrages had totally destroyed 25 per cent of the country's industrial and utilities capacity and materially damaged another third. Millions of workers had fled their wartime places of employment. Korean and Manchurian slave laborers had abandoned the coal mines, and not enough of it was being mined to run what was left of Japan's railroads. Eighty per cent of the textile business had been converted to war work.

The Navy had sent to the bottom one of Japan's main source of revenue, its merchant fleet. Nylon had destroyed all hope that the country's once fabulous silk export trade could be resumed. There was a wild inflation. And the traditional method of tax-collecting remained:

A farcical rite in which a man with money made a private deal with his tax-collector and coughed up only a token payment. Disease and starvation covered the land.

Today the Japanese government, operating under democratic constitution written by Japanese, has been led back a point where it is within $250 million a year of solvency—and this despite the fact that there are now 84 million Japanese where there were only 72 million five years ago. The nation's heavy industry is back to 60 per cent of its wartime peak. Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Q J O C U C K Z O C B G P Z P Q J U P B Z F W:
Q J O C U C P M B C F P Z P Q J O J C S—
U Q J V V J M.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: SO SWEET, SO SOFT, SO FAINT, IT SEEMED AN ANGEL'S WHISPERED CALL—SCOTT.

Two Traversers Are Paroled

Two traversers were arraigned in Circuit Court yesterday on petitions for trial after waving their rights before a grand jury.

James S. Spiker, Lonaconing, was sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction after pleading guilty to a charge of breaking and entering. He was found, authorities said, in a Lonaconing tavern several nights ago.

Saul Burns, a transient, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction on a charge of false pretenses. Officials said the charge involved bad checks.

The court suspended both sentences and paroled the two men for three years each. Spiker was told to refrain from use of intoxicants and Burns was told to make restitution in 10 days.

Demand For Auto, TV Issues Puts Life Into Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—A sudden wave of demand for automobile and television shares today brought some life into the stock market.

Gains of a few cents to a more than two dollars a share were the general rule throughout most of the market.

The cause of it was a surprise dividend by Chrysler and an announcement on color television by the Federal Communications Commission.

Other motor issues also were in demand and the buying fever spread gradually to the rest of the market.

The radio-television division came into buying favor after the FCC announced it would make a decision on color television later in the day. One line of reasoning went that the FCC would turn its attention to new television and radio stations through new frequency allocations after the color question was settled. That, of course, would mean a shot in the arm to television producers.

The color decision, made after the market closed, wasn't final but gave a tentative nod of approval to the Columbia Broadcasting System's method.

CBS stocks, which were in demand earlier in the week, declined. Columbia "A" was off ⅞ at 33⅝ and the "B" closed off 2 at 32½.

Zenith was up 2⅛ at 51⅝, Radio Corp. gained ⅞ at 18⅛ and was the day's most active issue, Admiral was up 1⅜ at 28⅜, and Avco closed up ⅛ at 7⅜ as the sixth most active issue. All of the others in the group advanced including Emerson, Philco, Westinghouse Electric, and International Telephone.

Out of the 15 most active issues, five were in the radio-television section and four in the motor group.

Metals had a brief spot in the buying sun at a time when announcements were made of increases in the price of lead and copper by a custom smelter and a producer. Kennecott was up 1½ at 65, American Smelting up ⅜ at 59, and Anaconda up ⅝ at 33¾.

There was strength in the rubber section again today with three leaders all gaining a point or more —Goodyear up 1⅜ at 60, Goodrich up 1 at 109¾, and U. S. Rubber up 1⅜ at 46⅜.

Parade, Picnic

Kenny Company, and Boch Company.

Marching Units — Canton Auxiliary No. 4, I.O.O.F., Cumberland Police and Fire Departments, Boy Scouts of America and Cubs, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting (staff car), Military Order of Purple Heart color guard, United Brewery Workers Local No. 265, and Rubber Workers Local No. 26.

Treats For Children

After the parade, for which units will vie for $700 in cash prizes, the celebration will be continued at Crystal Park with a public.

Treats of candy, ice cream and milk will be given to children and they will also be given free tickets to rides at the park.

A speaking program will be held at 2 p. m. with State Senator Robert B. Kimble, George Baldanzi, vice president of the Textile Workers Union of American, CIO, and E. R. White, vice president of the International Association of Machinists being the principal speakers.

A recreation program with Edmund F. Hoey, city recreation director in charge, will be held at 4 p. m. Prizes for various games and contests will be awarded.

The parade will start at Laing Avenue and traverse Virginia Avenue, Maryland Avenue, Williams Street, Park Street, Baltimore Street and disband on South Mechanic Street. A reviewing stand will be located on Park Street near Harrison Street.

has deteriorated to such a degree that prompt action is necessary to prevent that area from becoming a Soviet satellite. The Chinese Communists may soon gain military control of Manchuria and announce the establishment of a government. Outer Mongolia, already a Soviet satellite, may then recognize Manchuria and conclude a 'mutual support agreement' with a de facto Manchurian government of the Chinese Communists. In that event, the Soviet Union might accomplish a mutual support agreement with Communist-dominated Manchuria, because of her current similar agreement with Outer Mongolia. This would create a difficult situation for China, the United States and the United Nations. Ultimately it could lead to a Communist-dominated China."

The warning was not heeded and we are now at war in Korea. If General MacArthur's warning that Formosa is vital to our national defense is not heeded, we may soon be fighting again in the Philippines.

portant from a local viewpoint as either the Savage river dam or the Cumberland flood control, and under these circumstances it seems clear to me that the appropriation for both projects should be approved.

"I am writing a similar letter to Senator O'Conor, and will deeply appreciate your joint co-operation in securing approval."

Two Traversers Are Paroled

Two traversers were arraigned in Circuit Court yesterday on petitions for trial after waving their rights before a grand jury.

James S. Spiker, Lonaconing, was sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction after pleading guilty to a charge of breaking and entering. He was found, authorities said, in a Lonaconing tavern several nights ago.

Saul Burns, a transient, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction on a charge of false pretenses. Officials said the charge involved bad checks.

The court suspended both sentences and paroled the two men for three years each. Spiker was told to refrain from use of intoxicants and Burns was told to make restitution in 10 days.

Demand For Auto, TV Issues Puts Life Into Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—A sudden wave of demand for automobile and television shares today brought some life into the stock market.

Gains of a few cents to a more than two dollars a share were the general rule throughout most of the market.

The cause of it was a surprise dividend by Chrysler and an announcement on color television by the Federal Communications Commission.

Other motor issues also were in demand and the buying fever spread gradually to the rest of the market.

The radio-television division came into buying favor after the FCC announced it would make a decision on color television later in the day. One line of reasoning went that the FCC would turn its attention to new television and radio stations through new frequency allocations after the color question was settled. That, of course, would mean a shot in the arm to television producers.

The color decision, made after the market closed, wasn't final but gave a tentative nod of approval to the Columbia Broadcasting System's method.

CBS stocks, which were in demand earlier in the week, declined. Columbia "A" was off ⅞ at 33⅝ and the "B" closed off 2 at 32½.

Zenith was up 2⅛ at 51⅝, Radio Corp. gained ⅞ at 18⅛ and was the day's most active issue, Admiral was up 1⅜ at 28⅜, and Avco closed up ⅛ at 7⅜ as the sixth most active issue. All of the others in the group advanced including Emerson, Philco, Westinghouse Electric, and International Telephone.

Out of the 15 most active issues, five were in the radio-television section and four in the motor group.

Metals had a brief spot in the buying sun at a time when announcements were made of increases in the price of lead and copper by a custom smelter and a producer. Kennecott was up 1½ at 65, American Smelting up ¾ at 59, and Anaconda up ⅝ at 33¾.

There was strength in the rubber section again today with three leaders all gaining a point or more —Goodyear up 1⅜ at 60, Goodrich up 1 at 109¾, and U. S. Rubber up 1⅜ at 46⅜.

has deteriorated to such a degree that prompt action is necessary to prevent that area from becoming a Soviet satellite. The Chinese Communists may soon gain military control of Manchuria and announce the establishment of a government. Outer Mongolia, already a Soviet satellite, may then recognize Manchuria and conclude a 'mutual support agreement' with a de facto Manchurian government of the Chinese Communists. In that event, the Soviet Union might accomplish a mutual support agreement with Communist-dominated Manchuria, because of her current similar agreement with Outer Mongolia. This would create a difficult situation for China, the United States and the United Nations. Ultimately it could lead to a Communist-dominated China."

Man Killed As Truck Goes Out Of Control

Guy Johnson, 51, Crushed By Wheels

One man was fatally injured and two others slightly hurt yesterday afternon when they jumped from a two-ton truck that went out of control on Frostburg's West Main Street, stopping only when it had torn a large maple tree up by roots.

Trooper First Class Harry S. Bosley identified the dead man as Guy Hubert Johnson, 51, former miner of Grantsville. He was admitted to Miners Hospital, Frostburg, at 2:40 p. m. and pronounced dead at 2:50. The accident accured at about 2:10 p. m.

The driver and owner of the truck, Harper Kelly, Grantsville, and an employe, Albert Broadwater, 41, Grantsville, suffered abrasions of the face, arms and body, Trooper Bosley said. They were treated at Miners Hospital and discharged.

According to the trooper, Kelly discovered his truck brakes had failed when he reached a section of West Main Street across from the Frostburg Auto Company garage and told his companions they would have to jump from the vehicle.

Failed To Clear Truck

Broadwater, the first to jump, landed safely on the right side of the street and rolled under a parked car, the trooper said.

When the truck had rolled about 15 feet farther, Johnson jumped and failed to clear the truck, Trooper Bosley said it is not known whether Johnson's clothing caught or his foot slipped, but he fell under the vehicle and was crushed by the rear wheels.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said Johnson died of loss of blood caused by the rupture of the femoral artery in his right thigh. He also suffered lacerations, compound fracture of the right leg, fractured left thigh and large laceration from the back of his left knee to his heel.

Kelly told Trooper Bosley that realizing he would not be able to stop the truck, he headed it toward a large maple tree in front of the residence of Mrs. Mary Leatherman, 69 West Main Street, on his left side of the street.

The driver remained in the truck until it came within about 25 feet of the tree, Trooper Bosley said, and jumped safely from the cab. The tree, about 12 or 14 inches in diameter, was torn up by the roots.

Two children, Mary Virginia Leatherman, daughter of Mrs. Leatherman, and Ronnie Lee Tewell, a neighbor, were playing on the Leatherman porch, but neither was injured. There was no damage to the porch.

Traffic Hindered

The trooper said Kelly headed the machine toward the tree in order to avoid the more populated downtown Frostburg section.

The truck, which was hauling logs from Grantsville to the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, was demolished, according to Trooper Bosley.

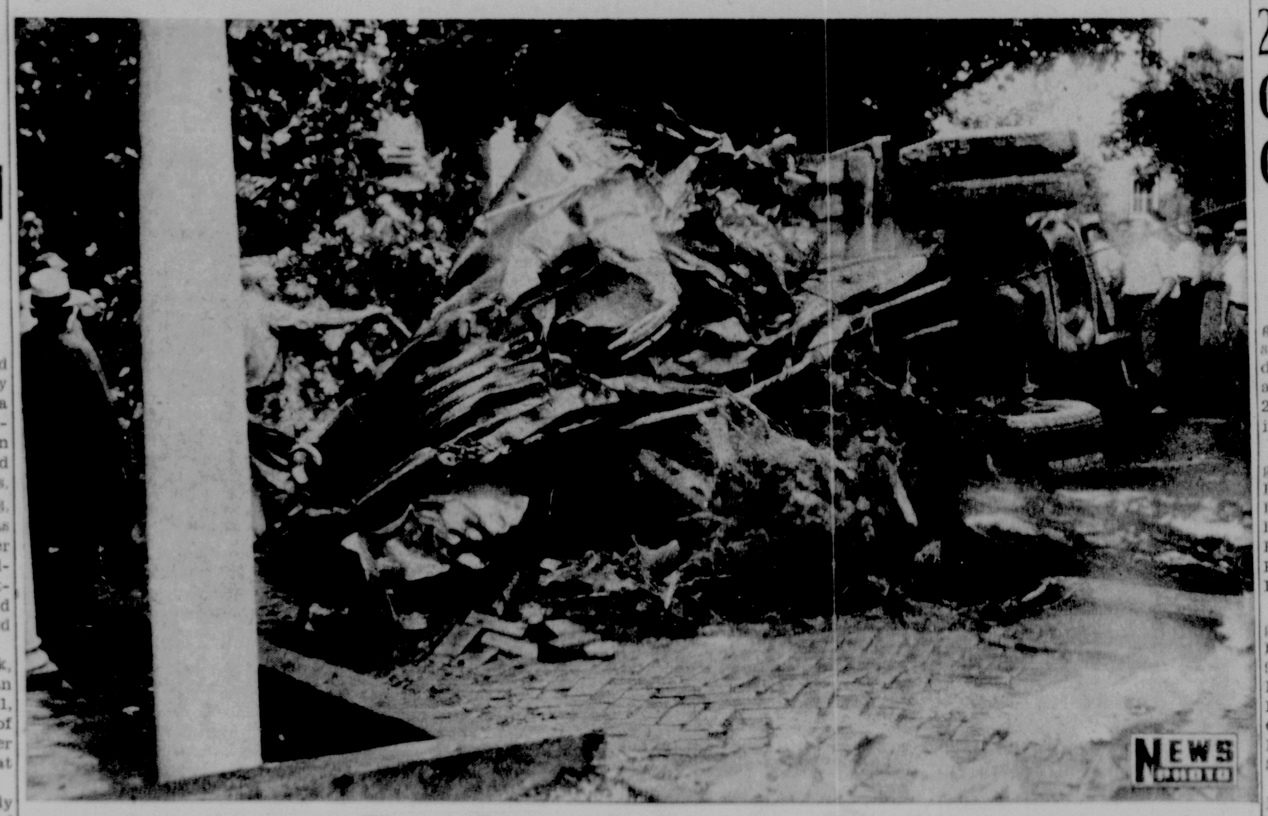
He added that logs rolled all over the immediate vicinity and one-way traffic was set up for an hour. All traffic was detoured for about an hour or hour and a half afterward, he said, to allow time for clearing the wreckage.

Kelly will be questioned in the State's Attorney's office today.

Johnson, a native of Grantsville, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Baker Johnson. He was living with Mr. and Mrs. Kelly. Trooper Bosley said he believed he was helping Kelly with his trucking work.

Surviving are four brothers, John Johnson, Frostburg; Arthur Johnson, Grantsville; James Johnson, Salisbury, Pa. and Jonas Johnson, Grantsville, and two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Miller, Grantsville, and Mrs. James Schombert, Springfield, W. Va. Johnson was unmarried.

The body is at the Winterberg Funeral Home, Grantsville.



Tree Stops Runaway Truck

A two-ton truck that went out of control yesterday afternoon on West Main Street in Frostburg ended its 300-foot brakeless journey by uprooting a maple tree in front of the residence of Mrs. Mary Leatherman, 69 West Main Stret. One passenger, Guy Hubert Johnson, 51, Grantsville, was fatally injured while trying to jump from the vehicle. Two other Grantsville men, Harper Kelly, driver and owner of the machine, and Albert Broadwater, 41, landed safely, suffering only minor injuries. Two children, Mary Virginia Leatherman, daughter of Mrs. Leatherman, and Ronnie Lee Tewell, a neighbor, were playing on the Leatherman porch (left) when the accident occurred. Neither was hurt. The tree, between 12 and 14 inches in diameter, was uprooted and dragged by the truck before it stopped.

Court Upholds Board's Stand On Car Buying

Rules County Has Discretionary Power

The Board of County Commissioners under existing law has discretionary power in the acceptance of bids on purchases for the county and its various departments, according to an opinion handed down by Associate Judge George Henderson in Circuit Court yesterday.

The opinion resulted from an equity action instituted by Clarence P. Fletcher, trading as Fletcher Motor Sales and Service, against county officials, in an effort to have bids on a new auto set aside.

Fletcher submitted a low bid on a 1951 Kaiser auto for the sheriff's office, while the only other bidder was the Frantz Oldsmobile Company whose bid was $150 more. The board accepted the higher bid, and Fletcher, through his attorneys, argued that the county board is required by law to either accept the low bid or reject all bids and readvertise.

Judge Henderson cited a number of cases at law and wrote in his opinion:

"In purchasing for ourselves we frequently select an article which is not the lowest in price. We do so because we believe we are getting better value through paying a higher price. It is competition in quality or service.

"And it seems more than likely that the wording of the law pertaining to the County Commissioners in making purchases was to entrust them with broader powers of discretion and a wider choice . . . because there were added after 'shall accept the lowest responsible bid' these significant words, 'which shall be considered reasonable by said County Commissioners, or they may, in their discretion, reject all bids'."

Judge Henderson said there was no evidence of irregularity and that the petitioner's bill of complaint did not allege bad faith, favoritism, collusion or any other improper motive on the part of the County Commissioners.

The court dismissed the bill of complaint and sustained the demurrer of the defendant officials.

This means the purchase of the Oldsmobile is a legal purchase.

Parade, Picnic, Fireworks To Feature Labor Day Observance

A parade, picnic and fireworks display will feature Cumberland's observance of Labor Day on Monday.

City policemen will take part in the union-sponsored parade, which will start at 10:30 a. m.

This was announced yesterday by Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long. In a notice to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn, Long said all officers not on duty at the time will participate in the parade.

Three police cruiser cars and the patrol wagon also will be used, Long said.

Local railroad and bus officials reported that extra sections are being provided to handle holiday crowds.

All American Airways reported that 60 flights over its system are booked solid. However, Oscar Lewis, Cumberland Station manager, said reservations are still being made here.

Intermittent rains and warm weather are predicted for the holiday weekend.

The afternoon picnic and the fireworks display at 8 p. m., in charge of Bert Caldara, Mt. Savage, will be held at Crystal Park.

Leo McGann, parade chairman, said that Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon will be parade marshal.

So far, no active Naval Reserve personnel in the first two pay grades (seaman recruit, firemen apprentice and seaman apprentice) have been called, according to Cmdr. Lewis.

Cmdr. Lewis added that he understands non-trained Naval Reserve personnel who are not members of good standing of an organized division are eligible for the draft.

Non-trained personnel of the first two pay grades who are members of an organized division and are in good standing are deferred from the draft at present, he added.

The local Naval Reserve may still enlist personnel, Cmr. Lewis said, as long as they have not been classified 1A or received a call for pre-induction physicals by their draft board. CB personnel may be enlisted with a rating dependent upon their civilian construction experience.

Persons now members of other components of the Armed Forces must be cleared by their respective services before enlistment in the Naval Reserve.

Cmdr. Lewis said he has no record of inactive Naval Reserve personnel called to active duty.

Area Projects Are Expected To "Go Ahead"

Senators Reply To Walsh Appeal

Virtual assurance that the Cumberland flood control project and the Savage River Dam will go ahead "just about as planned" has been obtained by U. S. Senator Millard E. Tydings (D-Maryland).

Tydings sent a telegram to that effect yesterday to William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland, who urged approval of the two projects in letters to U. S. Senators Tydings and Herbert R. O'Conor earlier this week.

Tydings' telegram said:

"Confirming telephone conversation with you today have expressed to President belief that Savage River Dam and Cumberland flood control projects meet criteria requirements set up in consideration of civil works program and urging that these two projects be so considered.

"Am advised now that if national defense situation does not worsen it would appear as if this work would go ahead just about as planned. Please be assured will continue to keep in close touch with matter."

Walsh contacted Maryland's two senators at the request of the Upper Potomac River Commission and W. Earle Cobey, the latter acting in his capacity as city solicitor.

Senator Tydings' office advised Walsh yesterday that he is keeping in close touch with the White House in support to the projects, and Senator O'Conor sent the following telegram yesterday:

"Have contacted White House and received assurance that projects in advanced stages nearing completion, such as Savage River dam, will be given preferred consideration by President Truman, and that financial provisions for this project remain unchanged."

The copy of Walsh's letter to Senator Tydings follows:

August 29, 1950

Hon. Millard E. Tydings
Senate Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator:

"I note from the local press that the appropriations for the completion of the Savage River dam, which was started in 1930, and is practically completed now, and for the carrying on of the Cumberland flood control program, which was started in 1948, will be approved if these projects qualify under certain requirements which have been set up, and that the final word will come from the President.

"The people of this community are vitally interested in both programs, and I trust you will join with Senator O'Conor in using your combined best efforts to have the appropriations for both of these matters finally approved.

"As you know, the Savage river dam is practically finished, its completion will increase the available flow of water here for industrial purposes, and will aid this community, which has a bad employment situation, in securing new industries, and it would be a shame if anything were allowed to interfere with the completion of the dam.

"Cumberland has had several disastrous floods during the past twenty or twenty-five years, the city has been endeavoring to have an adequate flood control program started here for many years, and since such a program has now been under way for approximately two years, and the work is furnishing some employment in this area, which is a distressed area, it would seem to me that the flood control program would also qualify. Certainly, there are many items in the Omnibus Bill which have not even been started, and there are also many matters which are not as im-

County Firemen To Picnic Sept. 10

The annual stag picnic of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held Sunday, September 10, at Smouse's, Christie Road.

Barbecued beef, corn on the cob, beverages, etc. will be included in the menu. A program of games, music, and softball contests has been arranged.

Officers of the state association have been invited and several have indicated they will attend.

Plans are being made for entertainment of 400 members and guests.

The Weather

Even the most cheery of souls would have been forced to remark that yesterday's weather was rather ghastly. The afternoon vacillated between .71 inches of rain and high temperatures of 83 degrees in Constitution Park and 82 downtown. The humidity was really making itself felt. The whole disagreeable day came after a night when the lowest readings were 67 degrees in the park and 73 downtown. The late night reading was 75. And, guessst what! The weatherman says the same thing is in store again today.

High Water At City Hall

A heavy downpour yesterday afternoon caused water to back up in City Hall sewers and flooded the basement with ankle deep water. Miss Ella Darling (fourth from left) resident pschiatric social worker in the Mental Hygiene Clinic at City Hall, sent out a call for help when water swirled into her office. William "Barney" Brubaker, City Hall janitor, supplied mops and brooms and the volunteer crew went to work helping him to sweep the water back down the drain in the boiler room. Shown in the picture are (left to right) Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Associated Charities; Misses Dorothy Blake and Virginia Lou Haus, Health Department clerical employes; Miss Darling; Pearl Stewart, Mt. Savage, who gives the clinic rooms their daily cleaning; and Brubaker. Not shown in the picture is Jim Crumbaugh, this city, who was in the Associated Charities office at the time and who volunteered to help.

Dr. Frantz Issues Warning To Builders Outside City

A warning was issued yesterday by Dr. Winter R. Frantz, deputy state health officer, to all purchasers of building lots outside the city limits of Cumberland.

Where there is no public sewage system, all new homes, apartments, hotels, boarding houses, schools, stores, factories, cannerie and other buildings occupied full or part-time and supplied with water under pressure must have an approved type of sewage disposal system, he stated.

Dr. Frantz said there are no public approved sewage systems in any of the following additions:

Narrows Park, Cresaptown, LaVale, Cash Valley, Corriganville, Bedford Road, Bowling Green and Weirs Addition.

Dr. Frantz said the approved type of sewage disposal system must consist of a septic tank, with the effluent to be disposed of by approved underground means.

State law prohibits the discharge of raw or partially treated sewage into any lake, pond, river, bay or other water course.

Before any such sewage disposal system is installed, plans must be submitted to the Allegany County Health Department for approval.

Where a private sewage system is already installed, Dr. Frantz said, sewage from the house must be treated in a septic tank before being discharged into the privat. sewer.

Rain Causes Minor Flood In City Hall Basement

Shortly after lunch yesterday, Miss Ella Darling was conducting an interview in her office at the Mental Hygiene Clinic in City Hall.

Less than half an hour later, Miss Darling had interrupted her regular duties as psychiatric social worker to splash around her office in knee boots, sweeping out water.

Overloaded sewers in the vicinity of City Hall caused water from a heavy downpour to back up into drains in the basement.

Two inches of water flooded the Mental Hygiene Clinic offices and Health Department clinic rooms.

Miss Darling's first warning of the flood came when she found water swirling around her feet at her desk.

The interview was hastily adjourned to the Health Department office in the nearby Public Safety Building, where Miss Darling summoned help.

Meanwhile, William "Barney" Brubaker, City Hall janitor, was cleaning the Council Chamber on the second floor.

By the time he got word of the high water and hurried to the basement to turn a shut-off valve blocking the sewer, the water had reached all parts of the basement.

Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Associated Charities, and Jim Crumbaugh, this city, who was in her office at the time, hurried downstairs to offer assistance in protecting clinic supplies.

They were joined by Miss Dorothy Blake and Miss Virginia Lou Haus, of the Health Department clerical staff.

Miss Darling and Miss Bonig put on rubber boots, while Pearl Stewart, Mt. Savage, who cleans out the clinic rooms daily, took off her shoes to wade through the rooms and sweep out the water.

Some cardboard cartons and boxes of cotton and clean linen in the clinic rooms were damaged.

The Mental Hygiene Clinic was the only office in operation at the time, and Miss Darling piled chairs and other equipment on tables to keep them out of the water.

Her only comment was, "I'm glad I passed my Junior Lifesaving!"

Man Killed As Truck Goes Out Of Control

Guy Johnson, 51, Crushed By Wheels

One man was fatally injured and two others slightly hurt yesterday afternon when they jumped from a two-ton truck that went out of control on Frostburg's West Main Street, stopping only when it had torn a large maple tree up by roots.

Trooper First Class Harry S. Bosley identified the dead man as Guy Hubert Johnson, 51, former miner of Grantsville. He was admitted to Miners Hospital, Frostburg, at 2:40 p. m. and pronounced dead at 2:50. The accident accured at about 2:10 p. m.

The driver and owner of the truck, Harper Kelly, Grantsville, and an employe, Albert Broadwater, 41, Grantsville, suffered abrasions of the face, arms and body, Trooper Bosley said. They were treated at Miners Hospital and discharged.

According to the trooper, Kelly discovered his truck brakes had failed when he reached a section of West Main Street across from the Frostburg Auto Company garage and told his companions they would have to jump from the vehicle.

Failed To Clear Truck

Broadwater, the first to jump, landed safely on the right side of the street and rolled under a parked car, the trooper said.

When the truck had rolled about 15 feet farther, Johnson jumped and failed to clear the truck, Trooper Bosley said it is not known whether Johnson's clothing caught or his foot slipped, but he fell under the vehicle and was crushed by the rear wheels.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said Johnson died of loss of blood caused by the rupture of the femoral artery in his right thigh. He also suffered lacerations, compound fracture of the right leg, fractured left thigh and large laceration from the back of his left knee to his heel.

Kelly told Trooper Bosley that realizing he would not be able to stop the truck, he headed it toward a large maple tree in front of the residence of Mrs. Mary Leatherman, 69 West Main Street, on his left side of the street.

The driver remained in the truck until it came within about 25 feet of the tree, Trooper Bosley said, and jumped safely from the cab. The tree, about 12 or 14 inches in diameter, was torn up by the roots.

Two children, Mary Virginia Leatherman, daughter of Mrs. Leatherman, and Ronnie Lee Tewell, a neighbor, were playing on the Leatherman porch, but neither was injured. There was no damage to the porch.

Traffic Hindered

The trooper said Kelly headed the machine toward the tree in order to avoid the more populated downtown Frostburg section.

The truck, which was hauling logs from Grantsville to the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, was demolished, according to Trooper Bosley.

He added that logs rolled all over the immediate vicinity and one-way traffic was set up for an hour. All traffic was detoured for about an hour or hour and a half afterward, he said, to allow time for clearing the wreckage.

Kelly will be questioned in the State's Attorney's office today.

Johnson, a native of Grantsville, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Baker Johnson. He was living with Mr. and Mrs. Kelly. Trooper Bosley said he believed he was helping Kelly with his trucking work.

Surviving are four brothers, John Johnson, Frostburg; Arthur Johnson, Grantsville; James Johnson, Salisbury, Pa. and Jonas Johnson, Grantsville, and two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Miller, Grantsville, and Mrs. James Schombert, Springfield, W. Va. Johnson was unmarried.

The body is at the Winterberg Funeral Home, Grantsville.

Tree Stops Runaway Truck

A two-ton truck that went out of control yesterday afternoon on West Main Street in Frostburg ended its 300-foot brakeless journey by uprooting a maple tree in front of the residence of Mrs. Mary Leatherman, 69 West Main Stret. One passenger, Guy Hubert Johnson, 51, Grantsville, was fatally injured while trying to jump from the vehicle. Two other Grantsville men, Harper Kelly, driver and owner of the machine, and Albert Broadwater, 41, landed safely, suffering only minor injuries. Two children, Mary Virginia Leatherman, daughter of Mrs. Leatherman, and Ronnie Lee Tewell, a neighbor, were playing on the Leatherman porch (left) when the accident occurred. Neither was hurt. The tree, between 12 and 14 inches in diameter, was uprooted and dragged by the truck before it stopped.

Court Upholds Board's Stand On Car Buying

Rules County Has Discretionary Power

The Board of County Commissioners under existing law has discretionary power in the acceptance of bids on purchases for the county and its various departments, according to an opinion handed down by Associate Judge George Henderson in Circuit Court yesterday.

The opinion resulted from an equity action instituted by Clarence P. Fletcher, trading as Fletcher Motor Sales and Service, against county officials, in an effort to have bids on a new auto set aside.

Fletcher submitted a low bid on a 1951 Kaiser auto for the sheriff's office, while the only other bidder was the Frantz Oldsmobile Company whose bid was $150 more. The board accepted the higher bid, and Fletcher, through his attorneys, argued that the county board is required by law to either accept the low bid or reject all bids and readvertise.

Judge Henderson cited a number of cases at law and wrote in his opinion:

"In purchasing for ourselves we frequently select an article which is not the lowest in price. We do so because we believe we are getting better value through paying a higher price. It is competition in quality or service.

"And it seems more than likely that the wording of the law pertaining to the County Commissioners in making purchases was to entrust them with broader powers of discretion and a wider choice . . . because there were added after 'shall accept the lowest responsible bid' these significant words, 'which shall be considered reasonable by said County Commissioners, or they may, in their discretion, reject all bids'."

Judge Henderson said there was no evidence of irregularity and that the petitioner's bill of complaint did not allege bad faith, favoritism, collusion or any other improper motive on the part of the County Commissioners.

The court dismissed the bill of complaint and sustained the demurrer of the defendant officials.

This means the purchase of the Oldsmobile is a legal purchase.

Non-trained personnel of the first two pay grades who are members of an organized division and are in good standing are deferred from the draft at present, he added.

The local Naval Reserve may still enlist personnel, Cmr. Lewis said, as long as they have not been classified 1A or received a call for pre-induction physicals by their draft board. CB personnel may be enlisted with a rating dependent upon their civilian construction experience.

Area Projects Are Expected To "Go Ahead"

Senators Reply To Walsh Appeal

Virtual assurance that the Cumberland flood control project and the Savage River Dam will go ahead "just about as planned" has been obtained by U. S. Senator Millard E. Tydings (D-Maryland).

Tydings sent a telegram to that effect yesterday to William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland, who urged approval of the two projects in letters to U. S. Senators Tydings and Herbert R. O'Conor earlier this week.

Tydings' telegram said:

"Confirming telephone conversation with you today have expressed to President belief that Savage River Dam and Cumberland flood control projects meet criteria requirements set up in consideration of civil works program and urging that these two projects be so considered.

"Am advised now that if national defense situation does not worsen it would appear as if this work would go ahead just about as planned. Please be assured will continue to keep in close touch with matter."

Walsh contacted Maryland's two senators at the request of the Upper Potomac River Commission and W. Earle Cobey, the latter acting in his capacity as city solicitor.

Senator Tydings' office advised Walsh yesterday that he is keeping in close touch with the White House in support to the projects, and Senator O'Conor sent the following telegram yesterday:

"Have contacted White House and received assurance that projects in advanced stages nearing completion, such as Savage River dam, will be given preferred consideration by President Truman, and that financial provisions for this project remain unchanged."

The copy of Walsh's letter to Senator Tydings follows:

August 29, 1950

Hon. Millard E. Tydings
Senate Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator:

"I note from the local press that the appropriations for the completion of the Savage River dam, which was started in 1930, and is practically completed now, and for the carrying on of the Cumberland flood control program, which was started in 1948, will be approved if these projects qualify under certain requirements which have been set up, and that the final word will come from the President.

"The people of this community are vitally interested in both programs, and I trust you will join with Senator O'Conor in using your combined best efforts to have the appropriations for both of these matters finally approved.

"As you know, the Savage river dam is practically finished, its completion will increase the available flow of water here for industrial purposes, and will aid this community, which has a bad employment situation, in securing new industries, and it would be a shame if anything were allowed to interfere with the completion of the dam.

"Cumberland has had several disastrous floods during the past twenty or twenty-five years, the city has been endeavoring to have an adequate flood control program started here for many years, and since such a program has now been under way for approximately two years, and the work is furnishing some employment in this area, which is a distressed area, it would seem to me that the flood control program would also qualify. Certainly, there are many items in the Omnibus Bill which have not even been started, and there are also many matters which are not as im-

High Water At City Hall

A heavy downpour yesterday afternoon caused water to back up in City Hall sewers and flooded the basement with ankle deep water. Miss Ella Darling (fourth from left) resident pschiatric social worker in the Mental Hygiene Clinic at City Hall, sent out a call for help when water swirled into her office. William "Barney" Brubaker, City Hall janitor, supplied mops and brooms and the volunteer crew went to work helping him to sweep the water back down the drain in the boiler room. Shown in the picture are (left to right) Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Associated Charities; Misses Dorothy Blake and Virginia Lou Haus, Health Department clerical employes; Miss Darling; Pearl Stewart, Mt. Savage, who gives the clinic rooms their daily cleaning; and Brubaker. Not shown in the picture is Jim Crumbaugh, this city, who was in the Associated Charities office at the time and who volunteered to help.

Dr. Frantz Issues Warning To Builders Outside City

A warning was issued yesterday by Dr. Winter R. Frantz, deputy state health officer, to all purchasers of building lots outside the city limits of Cumberland.

Where there is no public sewage system, all new homes, apartments, hotels, boarding houses, schools, stores, factories, cannerie and other buildings occupied full or part-time and supplied with water under pressure must have an approved type of sewage disposal system, he stated.

Dr. Frantz said there are no public approved sewage systems in any of the following additions:

Narrows Park, Cresaptown, LaVale, Cash Valley, Corriganville, Bedford Road, Bowling Green and Weirs Addition.

Dr. Frantz said the approved type of sewage disposal system must consist of a septic tank, with the effluent to be disposed of by approved underground means.

State law prohibits the discharge of raw or partially treated sewage into any lake, pond, river, bay or other water course.

Before any such sewage disposal system is installed, plans must be submitted to the Allegany County Health Department for approval.

Where a private sewage system is already installed, Dr. Frantz said, sewage from the house must be treated in a septic tank before being discharged into the privat. sewer.

Rain Causes Minor Flood In City Hall Basement

Shortly after lunch yesterday, Miss Ella Darling was conducting an interview in her office at the Mental Hygiene Clinic in City Hall.

Less than half an hour later, Miss Darling had interrupted her regular duties as psychiatric social worker to splash around her office in knee boots, sweeping out water.

Overloaded sewers in the vicinity of City Hall caused water from a heavy downpour to back up into drains in the basement.

Two inches of water flooded the Mental Hygiene Clinic offices and Health Department clinic rooms.

Miss Darling's first warning of the flood came when she found water swirling around her feet at her desk.

The interview was hastily adjourned to the Health Department office in the nearby Public Safety Building, where Miss Darling summoned help.

Meanwhile, William "Barney" Brubaker, City Hall janitor, was cleaning the Council Chamber on the second floor.

By the time he got word of the high water and hurried to the basement to turn a shut-off valve blocking the sewer, the water had reached all parts of the basement.

Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the Associated Charities, and Jim Crumbaugh, this city, who was in her office at the time, hurried downstairs to offer assistance in protecting clinic supplies.

They were joined by Miss Dorothy Blake and Miss Virginia Lou Haus, of the Health Department clerical staff.

Miss Darling and Miss Bonig put on rubber boots, while Pearl Stewart, Mt. Savage, who cleans out the clinic rooms daily, took off her shoes to wade through the rooms and sweep out the water.

Some cardboard cartons and boxes of cotton and clean linen in the clinic rooms were damaged.

The Mental Hygiene Clinic was the only office in operation at the time, and Miss Darling piled chairs and other equipment on tables to keep them out of the water.

Her only comment was, "I'm glad I passed my Junior Lifesaving!"
